LIFE OF CHILD PUTS TOLL OF AUTOS AT 601

Ninety-eight Slain in Last 44 Days.

Auto victim No. 601—a child—was entered last night on Cook county's roll of death. He was Samuel [illegible], 10 years old, of 215 West [illegible] place, and he died after being struck by a taxicab driven by Thomas Houla[illegible], of 246 West [illegible] place, who was held. Just a few hours before victim No. 600 had been recorded when an automobile struck and fatally injured a 43 year old laborer.

EDWARD GLIFFE.
Auto victim No. 600.

Six hundred and one men, women, and children have been killed by autos in Cook county in 310 days. And the death rate is mounting.

On Sept. 23 a total of 503 deaths was recorded, or an average each day of 1.89 persons. Since then ninety-eight persons have been killed in forty-four days—an average of 2.2 victims a day.

Forty-one of the ninety-eight were [illegible] years old or younger. Twenty-five of the forty-one were children 10 years old or younger. Fifty-four were under 30.

Young Folk Greatest Toll.

Below is a tabulation of the last ninety-eight deaths, by ages, based on the figures of the death clock, on the records in the coroner's office. It shows where the automobile accident reaps its greatest harvest—among children of school age and young men and women under 30.

Ages.	No. of Victims.	Ages.	No. of Victims.
Under 3	2	40-45	5
[illegible]	5	45-50	3
[illegible]	18	50-55	8
[illegible]	7	55-60	2
[illegible]	9	60-65	5
[illegible]	2	65-70	5
[illegible]	11	70-75	2
[illegible]	3	75-80	2
[illegible]	7

"It is the slaughter of children under [illegible] that is most terrible," declared Coroner Oscar Wolff, into whose office the death reports pour endlessly.

"Something must be done — but what? The coroner's office has made recommendations; the police department is doing all it can; safety committees have made reports; but still the death list mounts.

"And our records do not show a [illegible] of the toll taken by the combination of the automobile and carelessness. They do not show the number of persons who have been injured, perhaps for life."

600th Victim Is Felled.

Edward Gliffe, 43 years old, of 1956 [illegible] street, was the 600th victim. He was crossing Clybourn avenue in front of No. 1873 when struck by an automobile driven by Joseph Bohn of 1947 Clybourn avenue. The impact hurled him twenty feet, fractured his skull, and caused internal injuries.

The Hudson avenue police took him to the Alexian Brothers hospital, where he died twenty minutes after the accident. Bohn was held by the police pending the inquest this afternoon.

Five Hurt in Two Crashes.

Typical of cases in which injuries were not fatal and indicative of the ratio between deaths and injuries were two cases reported yesterday in which [illegible] persons were hurt.

Mrs. Elizabeth Keenan of 6342 South [illegible] avenue, her 18 year old daughter, Margaret, and 10 year old Margaret [illegible] of 6408 South Seeley avenue, were crossing the intersection of [illegible] and 63d streets when they were knocked down by a taxicab driven by John [illegible] of 6811 South Aberdeen street. The woman and the two girls were badly bruised and cut.

Two Evanston boys, Abraham Bar[illegible], 6 years old, of 1311 Chicago avenue, and Francis Lawson, 7 years old, of 1301 Forest avenue, were injured by a car driven by E. F. Keppler of 2308 [illegible] avenue, Evanston, as they were crossing the street. Keppler was held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Woman Felled in Loop.

Miss Anna Guthrie of 850 Leland avenue, sustained a possible fracture of the skull when struck by an automobile truck owned and driven by Paul Feigenhuer of 10915 Hermosa

Montpelier, Vt. Nov. 6.—Porter H. Dale, Republican, former congressman, was elected United States senator today over Park H. Pollard, Democrat, winning almost two votes for every one cast for his opponent. Complete returns from the 248 cities and towns in the state gave Dale 30,627, Pollard 15,632.

The contest was featured by the activity of the "dry" forces of the state in the interest of Mr. Dale, who had announced that he was opposed to any change in existing prohibition legislation.

Democrat Was "Liberal."

The Democratic candidate, Park H. Pollard, a merchant of Cavendish, and a cousin of President Coolidge, had expressed a desire for modification of the Volstead act to permit the use of light wines and beer.

G. O. P. Rules Senate.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—With the election of Porter H. Dale as a Republican senator from Vermont, the Republicans will have a majority of six in the senate. In the next congress the senate lineup will be 51 Republicans, 43 Democrats, and 2 Farmer-Laborites. During the last session the Republican majority in the senate was 22.

Seven of the nine vacancies in the house of representatives were filled today. Apparently there was only one turnover in the contests today. This was a gain of one seat for the Republicans. This was in the Twenty-fourth New York district, where B. L. Fairchild [Rep.] has a good lead.

225 Republicans in House.

On the face of these results the line-up in the next house will be: Republicans, 225; Democrats, 205; Socialist, 1; Independent, 1; and Farmer-Laborite, 1—a Republican majority of 17, with two vacancies still to be filled.

Five of the seven seats which were in contest today—the Eleventh, Sixteenth, and Twenty-fourth New York, the Fourth Illinois, and the Second North Carolina—were captured by the Democrats last November. The Republicans won the other two, the Thirty-second New York and the Second Vermont.

In one of the districts, the Second North Carolina, the Democratic candidate, Judge John H. Kerr, had no opposition. He succeeds the late Claude Kitchin, former minority leader in the house.

TAMMANY IS VICTOR

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Tammany Hall won a smashing victory with its ten judiciary candidates in New York City, but Democratic joy was dimmed by the upstate electorate, which granted the Republicans an increased majority in the state legislature.

Gov. Al Smith had pleaded for a Democratic legislature to support his traction policies and to assure New York City "home rule" with free opportunity to extend its municipal bus system, but the answer was an avalanche of Republican votes. The Republican majority in the present legislature is only six. The new assembly, it is expected, will give the Republicans a majority of twenty or twenty-two. The Republicans are claiming eighty-six seats while conceding sixty-four to the Democrats.

While national issues were not directly involved, Republicans see a hopeful augury for next year and they assert that Al Smith's presidential aspirations have received a setback.

Tammany Sweeps City.

Despite their failure to capture the state legislature, joy reigned in Tammany because of its sweeping victory

School Seats Gain Victory; Defeat Zoo

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Seats for Chicago's school children won, almost two and a half to one, with 135,000 votes to the good.

The proposed La Salle street bridge to relieve traffic congestion went through by over 57,000 majority.

The forest preserve "zoo" was beaten by some 92,500.

The $2,000,000 west park bonds won by 8,677.

Such were the ups and downs on the little ballot at yesterday's election, as shown by nearly complete police returns.

Schools; Bridge; Zoo.

The schools, the bridge and the "zoo" were the three absorbing proposals. In many sections they even outran the judicial election in popular interest, as evidenced by the vote.

The proposal to increase the school building tax levy to the extent of 25 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation, which won by about 135,000 votes, will add one-third to the maximum school building levy, or approximately $4,000,000 a year on the basis of the old assessment rolls.

If the assessment boosts put in by the board of assessors stick the net result of both building tax increase and assessment roll increase may be to yield $6,500,000 a year more for new schools.

May Reach $8,000,000.

Some school board experts figure the increase may even run up to $8,000,000, depending upon what happens to the assessment books. The shortage of seats is estimated at about 45,000, which would mean 1,000 classrooms, which now cost about $22,000 each, or, all told, approximately $22,000,000 to take up the present shortage on the basis of giving each child a seat in a regular classroom for a regular school day.

To complete a double building program of such proportions would require three to six years, perhaps longer, so that the need for school relief by a reorganization of the school system itself still remains a vital phase of the problem.

Teachers and school children and parents of boys and girls cut down to half day sessions or packed into portable buildings campaigned hard for the building tax increase. As returns came in last night it appeared that the electors in practically all wards voted for the additional school building tax. Its ratio of affirmative votes naturally was largest in congested regions of population where the overload on the school plant is greatest, but all sections went in favor of the proposal.

Bridge Wins by 57,000.

The La Salle street bridge, for which a bond issue of $2,650,000 was asked, is a necessary part of the plan for providing another main outlet from the loop to the north side. This important traffic proposal, dealing directly with the problem of congestion on the downtown streets, won by about 57,570 votes.

Zoo Draws Most Votes.

Of all the proposals that of the "zoo" drew most attention from the voters, the figures showing 16,000 more votes were cast on this than on the school tax issue. The city and the towns went in opposite directions. Chicago spilled the gore of the gorilla and flattened the beak of the flat billed platypus by an adverse majority of 93,000, with sixteen precincts missing. In the county outside Chicago, with nine precincts missing, the country towns gave a majority of 559 in favor of the "zoo." Net result, a majority of some 92,500 against rhino for the rhinoceros.

Annexation Goes Over.

Annexation of a tract near Norwood Park was accomplished. Chicago voted to extend the glad hand of fellowship as customary. It required a majority of all votes cast at the election, and the proposal sailed through with a comfortable margin. The merry villagers themselves did not have to vote.

KANSAS WOMAN FIGHTS FOR LIFE WITH WOLF; WINS

Cottonwood Falls, Kas., Nov. 6.—Attacked by a wolf which had entered her chicken yard, Mrs. J. E. Adams, her back against a wagon and a pitchfork in her hands, fought for her life today.

Mrs. Adams first had a stick, believing the animal was a large coyote and that she would frighten it away.

The animal turned and rushed toward her. Mrs. Adams fled toward the wagon, hoping to reach the hay rack, but failed. She barely had time to snatch the pitchfork and turn before the wolf was upon her.

The woman, by a lucky thrust, pierced the wolf's neck and pinioned it to the ground. Then two small dogs sprang upon it. The wolf struggled free, but was so distracted by the dogs that Mrs. Adams was able to deal it a death blow on the head.

MARY BARTELME FIRST JUDGE IN ILLINOIS COURTS

Victory for Women in Election.

Another victory for the feminist movement in government. Miss Mary M. Bartelme was elected yesterday as judge of the Circuit court of Cook county. The police returns show that she lost the city to D. J. Normoyle, her Democratic opponent, by about 6,000 votes, but rolled up a margin in the country towns that gave her a net plurality of 14,048 votes. The total vote was 206,140 for Miss Bartelme and 192,092 for Normoyle.

It is the first time Illinois has elected a woman to a court of such high jurisdiction. Last night as the returns came in they revived recollections of the historic night years ago when Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch first cracked the ice by winning election as justice of the peace in Evanston.

Women Score Triumph.

Miss Bartelme's triumph, in essence and substance, was won by a woman's movement in the judicial campaign.

With Miss Bartelme's record as associate judge of the Juvenile court as a foundation, women's clubs throughout the city and county rallied to the support of the "woman judge" who had gained widespread fame in the handling of delinquent girl cases. With them, too, were jurists such as Judge Victor P. Arnold, who has served in the Juvenile court for the last eight years, and Charles S. Cutting, former Probate judge. The women made one of the most effective campaigns in local politics, and yesterday saw thousands of them—clubwomen and housewives—working to get out the vote and to roll it up for Mary Bartelme.

In the primaries of the Chicago Bar association Miss Bartelme was not among the winners, apparently due to a disinclination on the part of men lawyers, perhaps, to have to try cases before a woman judge regardless of her character and legal attainments.

Won Fame by Girls' Work

But this handicap was overcome by the campaign of the women, and yesterday thousands of male voters backed up the argument for a woman judge to handle the cases of wayward girls, a woman's job.

For ten years Miss Bartelme has been in the Juvenile court in a semi-judicial capacity, as associate judge, after seventeen years spent as public guardian, and what the voters did yesterday after the women had stirred them up was to make her a real judge. Judge Arnold has declared he will ask that she be assigned to the Juvenile court, where she will continue her work.

For three hours last night Miss Bartelme sat in her headquarters in the Hotel Sherman and heard bad news. Report after report asserted that she had been beaten in the election. Her friends offered words of consolation. But never once did she lose heart.

"It's early yet," she said. "Wait and see."

Voting Tide Shows Turn.

Then the tide turned and the score sheets showed a gain in Bartelme votes. Interest picked up. Smiles and laughter spread about the rooms.

"I knew it," said Miss Bartelme. "I knew a woman could win."

Then came the announcement of victory, that Miss Bartelme was to be honored as the only woman ever elected to the Circuit court bench in Cook county. There were cheers.

The sparkle in Miss Bartelme's eyes grew. She accepted the many congratulations happily, thanking her friends.

"I've never been so happy in my life," she said. "I want first to thank my many friends, the men and women of the county who helped me. O, it's wonderful! Everybody has been so kind.

Girls Her First Thought.

"I feel that I will be a greater service to Cook county than I have been in the past. The Juvenile court, probably the most important judicial branch in the city, will be strengthened. I will do more effective work with the wayward girls, the girls who have made slight detours off the straight and narrow path. Armed with the authority of a judge, I am sure I can do better work.

"Judge Arnold has always been anxious to have me given that authority I'm sure he is as happy tonight as I am—and I am mighty happy. Together we will give the youth of this city genuine assistance."

WARRANTS FOR 4 KLAN LEADERS

Action Follows Coburn Slaying at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6.—On complaint of Dr. Fred B. Johnson, chief of staff, for William Joseph Simmons, emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, peace warrants were issued tonight for the arrest of Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the klan, and three other high officials of the order.

The others were H. K. Ramsey, imperial kligrapp; Brown Harwood, imperial klazip, and F. J. McKinnon, head of the klan investigation department, according to a story being carried by the Atlanta Constitution. The warrants were issued by Judge T. O. Hathcock of the Municipal court.

Three "Started to Go."

Dr. Johnson told Judge Hathcock that the shooting yesterday of W. S. Coburn by P. E. Fox, editor of the Night Hawk and publicity agent for the klan, said to be aligned with the Evans faction, led him to place credence in the statement he said was made to him by Fox last Sunday night that Emperor Simmons, E. Y. Clark and himself were "slated to go," according to the newspaper.

Didn't at First Believe Him.

The newspaper stated that Dr. Johnson told Judge Hathcock that Fox told him Sunday night at the residence of Emperor Simmons:

"I have been sent to kill you."

Dr. Johnson also was quoted as saying:

"Although I did not believe Fox at the time, the subsequent slaying of Coburn has caused me to fear bodily harm at the hands of the Evans faction."

The Constitution states that the peace warrants for Evans and the three others were placed in the hands of deputies late tonight.

Ohio Beats Amendments; Klan Wins in Some Cities

Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—Two constitutional amendments, providing for revision of the workmen's compensation laws and eliminating the words "white male" from the qualifications of voters, were the only ones of six state-wide proposals holding majorities for adoption at today's election.

Among proposals which it was generally conceded would be defeated was an initiated measure which would have established a system of state old age pensions.

The Ku Klux Klan, entering municipal politics in Ohio for the first time, apparently had met with a fair share of success. Mayors having the indorsement of the organization were elected at Youngstown and Akron.

MEN ON BENCH RE-ELECTED; BAR CHOICE VICTORS

Wolff and Daniel Ryan Winners.

BY PARKE BROWN.

All of the twelve sitting judges and most of the remainder of the "bar ticket"—indorsed by the Chicago Bar association—carried off the victory in yesterday's judicial election.

The present judges of the Superior court who sought reëlection won easily. All twelve were in the first fifteen among the winners of the full term places.

Six of the other eight indorsed by the lawyers' organization for the six year terms also were elected. For the three vacancies one candidate indorsed by the bar was elected. Miss Mary Bartelme, Republican, did not have the bar indorsement, but won by 11,000 majority in round figures. And the third place, in connection with which there was a close race in the bar primary, was won by the man who ran second among the lawyers.

Wins 19 Out of 23 Places.

Thus the bar ticket is credited with nineteen wins out of a possible twenty-three, with one decision against it that was not a clear defeat. The officers of the organization referred to it as a "90 per cent victory."

Politically the Republicans get the glory in the judicial contest. They won eleven of the twenty full term places and one, or possibly two, of the three vacancies. And they also won one of the two special elections for county offices, electing Oscar Wolff coroner.

The Democrats found their consolation—and extremely practical consolation—in winning in the other county office battle. Daniel Ryan Jr. defeated Robert M. Adams for the vacancy on the county board, and thereby the Democrats gathered in undisputed control of the county board.

Brennan Gets Coveted Place.

The organization under the leadership of George E. Brennan exerted itself particularly for this victory and indicated in advance that it would rather have this one place than any three or four other places on the ticket.

On the straight showdowns of party strength the Democrats showed themselves superior to the Republicans within Chicago. The suburbs within the county, commonly known as the country towns, were strongly Republican, as usual, but in the city the Democrats put over Ryan and polled more votes than their opponents in the "two man" races for the court vacancies. They voted more "straight tickets" according to the figures.

40 Per Cent of Vote Out.

After all the wide range of predictions concerning the total vote—that it would run as low as 300,000 or that it might range up to 500,000—it was found that the conservative estimates of 400,000 had been approximately correct. This was about 40 per cent of the vote in the county, which would be large if this had been solely a judicial election.

The increase above the normal is ascribed to the contest for the two county offices and the interest taken in the little ballot propositions, five of which of varying degrees of appeal were submitted to the voters.

With only this slight addition to the normal vote, the result was what the politicians were saying it would be when they were negotiating toward a coalition. The wisest of them said that if there was a battle the outcome would be the reëlection of the sitting judges and approximately a halving of the remaining places between the two parties. They now consider themselves real prophets. They also point to the fact that the winning candidates were at the top of the ballot for the most part and that the remainder were at the bottom.

The country towns swelled the totals of the Republicans. With its help they carried off the first places among the winners, Judge Oscar Hebel landing in first place with 249,512, with still twelve precincts to hear from. Judge Marcus Kavanagh, the ninth man in the bar primary, ran second with 237,484. Judge Jacob H. Hopkins was the high Democrat with 233,731.

The twentieth man on the list, Emanuel Eller, Municipal court judge, received 200,525. This showed a difference of about 49,000 between the high

Two Break Bar Slate.

The two men who broke the bar primary slate were William J. Lindsay, a Democrat, who ran No. 23 on the bar primary list, and was considered one of its "alternates," and Judge Eller, whose father, Sanitary Trustee Emanuel Eller, is considered one of the most astute politicians in the Republican camp. The two indorsees who "lost out" were Municipal Judge Howard Hayes, who was No. 21 yesterday, and Marvin E. Barnhart, the only man on the bar ticket who could not point to experience on the bench.

The individual races which attracted special attention, in addition to that of Miss Bartelme, were those of Judge Denis E. Sullivan and Jesse Holdom, a former judge, who were attacked bitterly by labor union leaders. In both instances the assault proved fruitless. Judge Sullivan was high up among the twenty winners, and ex-Judge Holdom won by a safe margin for the Dever vacancy.

"Minute Men" Back Them.

In both these fights, but particularly the latter, Gen. Charles G. Dawes and his "Minute Men of the Constitution" played an important part. The suburbs, particularly Evanston, where this organization has much of its strength, went for Holdom with a 20,000 majority. This was a much bigger advantage from those sections than was given any other candidate.

One other sitting judge, Michael L. McKinley, had been bitterly assailed during the last hours of the campaign, and there were influences predicting his "slaughter" as late as yesterday afternoon. That he ran neck and neck with Judge Joseph B. David for the highest place on the Democratic list was considered a rebuke to his assailants.

Much "Swapping" of Votes.

Late evening comment around political headquarters centered around the amount of "trading" that was obvious on the face of the detailed returns. It was said that there had been more swapping of votes in this campaign than in any previous election in years. Precinct figures showed there was an entirely unnatural strength recorded by Republicans and Democrats who ran neck and neck in certain districts and far ahead of the rest of the candidates.

This swapping frequently covered entire wards. There were many instances in which a Republican leader having a candidate of his own would arrange with a Democratic leader who also had a "pet" whereby each leader would instruct his organization to vote for the other fellow's man. In a few instances this was said to have been done to such an extent as to play an important part in the final standing of the candidates.

DEMOCRATS WIN GOVERNORSHIP KENTUCKY RACE

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—On the face of incomplete, unofficial returns William J. Fields, Democratic nominee for governor, has swept the state and defeated his Republican opponent, Charles I. Dawson, by a substantial majority.

Unofficial returns from 101 counties out of 120, with 725 precincts unreported, as compiled by the Courier Journal, show a majority of 45,738 for Fields. The missing nineteen counties in the 1920 presidential election gave a Republican majority of 9,226.

In the Fifth congressional district, composed of Louisville and Jefferson county, unofficial returns from 500 of the 759 precincts showed a lead for Fields of 2,566 votes. The incomplete unofficial vote was: Fields, 42,409; Dawson, 39,843. The district complete in 1920 gave President Harding a majority of 12,156 votes.

Sen. McCormick to Talk at Press Club Tomorrow

United States Senator Medill McCormick will speak before the Press club of Chicago tomorrow on "Conflicts and Problems of Foreign Affairs." Charles Lee Bryson will be installed as the new president of the club, Daniel F. Sullivan as first vice president, and Robert E. Belcher as treasurer.

Detroit Mayor Leads by 8 to 1 Majority

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—Mayor Frank E. Doremus was reëlected today at the municipal election on the face of unofficial returns. The mayor was leading about eight to one, 196 precincts out of 609 giving Doremus 19,338, and Thomas C. O'Brien, his opponent, 2,451.

WOLFF RETAINS CORONER'S JOB; RYAN TO BOARD

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Republicans won the office of coroner and the Democrats filled the hole on the county board. These are the two jobs offered at yesterday's election to which patronage is attached.

The vote for coroner in the city, with three precincts missing, and in the country minus nine precincts, was as follows:

	City.	Country.	Total.
O. Wolff, Rep.	175,197	28,498	203,697
W. G. Legner, Dem.	180,326	12,076	192,892

This lead of 9,190 on the returns available indicates that Wolff will have a majority of about 11,000 for the office, which has about forty appointments.

The vacancy on the county board caused by the death of Daniel Ryan was given to his son, Daniel Jr., by a majority of more than 29,900. With 16 precincts missing he receiver 193,534 votes, as compared with 164,614 for his Republican opponent, Robert M. Adams. Of the two offices politicians attach much more significance to the place on the county board. Until last December the Democrats have had control of the board since 1910.

Ryan Death Leaves Vacancy.

Last November the Republicans elected eight and the Democrats seven to the board. The death of the elder Ryan left the Democrats with only six, but with them occasionally has voted Tom Murray, one of the Republicans, so that several times recently the vote has been a tie. Consequently with the addition of Daniel Jr. the Democrats think they will be in control of county affairs so far as the board has jurisdiction.

On the basis of these calculations the Democrats will have a fighting but not a safe working majority. The law requires ten of the fifteen votes of the board to make appropriations, and neither side has that majority.

The returns indicate that several Democratic candidates for judge were trimmed to get votes for Ryan, and that the backers of one or two Republican candidates for judge gained support in exchange for votes for Ryan. In addition the returns show several spots where the old Thompson-Lundin organization did their bit for Commissioner-elect Ryan.

Cermak Gets New Strength.

The Ryan success adds a new significance to the influence of Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board. Of all of the Democratic leaders he was unusually active and energetic, and the returns from the west side indicate that he was generous in his support of Ryan. Cermak is the leader of the wets, some of whom have been credited with a keen desire to get even with Mayor Dever for enforcing the liquor laws. Cermak is said to have worked diligently to convince the dripping wets that it was in their interest to support the Democratic ticket this time, and especially the candidacy of Daniel Ryan.

There has been another group of Democrats displeased with the distribution of patronage by his honor, Mayor Dever. To those Cermak is said to have preached that their hope of more jobs lie in electing Ryan. What Ryan himself thinks remains to be disclosed; he has not broadcasted the course he intends to sail on the county board.

Board Fights May Continue.

The result of the election is not expected to stop the fighting on the county board. Among its members there is a really important issue—the economy program by which it is estimated that $760,000 a year can be saved on extra jobs in the offices of the board of assessors, board of review, county clerk, and county treasurer.

It is highly impracticable to create more jobs next year than have been on the payroll this year when the quadrennial assessment for taxing purposes has been made. Theoretically, the extra jobs of this year should be abolished next year, and in addition the economy program contemplates a much further cut by the use of photographic and addressograph machines.

VERMONT ELECTS REPUBLICAN AS U. S. SENATOR

in greater New York. Along with their ten Supreme court judges they elected five Municipal court justices, retained control of the board of aldermen, and elected two congressmen.

Particular glory was seen in the judiciary victory, because William R. Hearst, who is most frequently a Democrat, had joined the Republicans in an attempt to defeat Tammany. The result was interpreted as a stinging rebuke for the editor-politician.

With returns from 650 of 1,396 precincts the leading Democratic judicial candidate had 134,954 against 79,097. On this basis it is figured the Democratic majority will reach about 140,000.

Over in Brooklyn the Democrats elected their entire county ticket with ample majorities, and it was the same in Queens and the Bronx.

One Congressional Upset.

The three congressional races in New York City brought on shift in complexion—a Republican won a seat formerly held by a Democrat. This was in the Twenty-fourth district, comprising parts of the Bronx and Westchester county. Benjamin L. Fairchild, Republican, carried Westchester by 6,000 and overcame the Bronx lead of Edward W. Kock, Democrat, for the seat of the late Vincent Ganly.

In the other two districts in Greater New York the Democrats eased in. Anning S. Prall was elected to succeed the late Daniel J. Riordan in the Eleventh, and John J. O'Connor won the seat of the late W. Bourke Cochran in the Sixteenth.

Sweet Is Reëlected.

In the one upstate contest, Thaddeus C. Sweet, who was speaker of the New York house, and leader in the effort to oust Socialists from the legislature in 1920, was elected. He is a Republican.

Of several constitutional amendments voted on, chief interest centered in a soldier bonus proposal and a scheme for the use of part of the forest preserve for water power purposes. The soldier bonus went over big, upstate as well as New York returning handsome majorities for it. The water power scheme was voted down.

DOYLE PROTEGE OF CONGRESSMAN HE WILL SUCCEED

Thomas A. Doyle, Democrat, was elected to congress in the Fourth district of Illinois by a practically unanimous vote, there having been no Republican nominee. He succeeds the late John W. Rainey, who, with County Treasurer Patrick J. Carr, stood sponsor for Doyle since his advent into politics ten years ago.

THOMAS A. DOYLE.

Congressman Elect Doyle was elected alderman of the old Fifth ward in 1914, defeating Ald. Charles Martin, who had been in the city council twenty years. He made a good council record, obtaining the indorsement of the Municipal Voters' league, and was reëlected, having in the meantime won organization support and recognition.

At the end of his second term he exchanged places with Robert J. Mulcahy, Doyle becoming a member of the state legislature and Mulcahy being elected alderman. He has been twice reëlected to the general assembly and has won general approval by his consistent voting record.

At the primary he swamped his numerous opponents by a vote seven times as large as theirs combined. He is 37 years of age, married, and resides at 3549 Lowe avenue.

GIRL CONFESSES BANDIT RAID THAT ENDED IN SLAYING

Points to Bockelman as Lehman's Murderer.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Ethel Beck, 19 year old waitress with six aliases, an unknown Greek husband and three service stripes in the Night court, the brazen and undernourished girl who never learned the ten commandments but has broken most of them, confessed yesterday to Capt. James Mooney and Acting Lieut. Hugh McCarthy that she accompanied Walter Bockelman early Sunday morning when he ended his attempt to "pull a job" at the Delson Manufacturing company, 3051 Lincoln avenue, by sending a fatal bullet through young Ed Lehman.

Ethel, bound over to the grand jury as accessory to the youth's murder wasn't especially sorry last night, as she sat in the Sheffield avenue station But she was distinctly worried.

Afraid of Bockelman.

The girl, whose life of promiscuous and impoverished carelessness began she declares, back in the fifth grade when a public school playground director abused her, is afraid of Bockelman, her most recent "man" in the sequence of the last five years.

After confessing to Capt. Mooney and Lieut. McCarthy that Bockelman was the man they wanted, the rust colored blonde, who "ain't eatin' regular," repeated her statement to Assistant State's Attorneys John Sbarbaro and Louis O'Connell in the office of First Assistant State's Attorney Edgar A. Jonas in the Criminal court building.

Faces Youth at Jail.

Then she was taken over to the county jail and made to sit down at a long table facing Bockelman. The girl with the stringy blonde hair, the sleazy silk dress of faded red, the imitation fur coat, the poor teeth, and the run down slippers summoned with indifferent success all the smart poise of the traditional "bandit queen."

She looked across the table at the man who in the early dawn of last Sunday had urged her into his car, saying, "Come on, kid, I'll make a lady of you."

Prosecutor Sbarbaro had the girl's statement read. Then he asked her, "Is that the statement you made a few minutes ago?"

"Yes, sir." Her voice was low but firm.

Tries to Shield Her "Man."

"And," pointing a finger at the man who crouched nervously, slouched down in his chair, "is that the Bockelman you have referred to?"

"I never met him before in my life." Ethel's reply was immediate and sounded convincing. But then she began to cry.

Bockelman jumped forward, alert, and shouted in a rush of words: "I never met that party in my life; I never met her. I have an alibi, and when I get my lawyer I'll give a statement of where I was. But that girl, I never met her in my life," and the prisoner buttoned up his coat as if about to leave.

Guards directed Bockelman back to his seat. The girl, sobbing, was led back to the state's attorney's office, where Prosecutor Sbarbaro asked her: "Was that man, Bockelman, whom you just met, the man who did the shooting?"

With her face, dirty and smeary with tears, burrowing an ineffectual hole into the calcimined wall of the Criminal court, the ex-waitress gulped twice and said: "Sure, it's him. But I was afraid of him."

Finally Identifies Youth.

Led again into Bockelman's presence, Ethel admitted the identification, and while the man was still gloating over her first refusal to recognize him the girl repeated her confession.

Bockelman, whom she met several months ago at a wedding on the west side, posed as an unmarried man, according to Ethel. Sunday morning, about 3 o'clock, he drove by on Sheffield avenue as she was returning alone from a dance. She accepted his invitation to "go down the line for half an hour," but insisted, she said, that "you ain't gonna make no fool out of me any more, 'cause I'm gonna go straight."

When questioned by Attorney Sbarbaro as to what she meant, Ethel said that about a month ago, when she was sent to Lawndale hospital, her erstwhile friends vanished and forgot to see her.

As the car drew up on Barry avenue, near the Delson factory, Bockelman, the girl recalled, repeated his desire to "make a doll of her."

"'But,' I said," Ethel declared, "'I'm satisfied with what I got. I got them honest and I can get other things honest, too.'"

After parking the car her escort disappeared for half an hour, returned, and took her back with him to the hallway of the manufacturing company.

"Just as we got there Ed Lehman came to the gate and asked us what we were doin'. Aand then I seen Al Stemwedel, the watchman, come in, and I hollered, 'Don't shoot,' and Walter shot right at Al, and I seen the gun then. Then I run down the alley. I heard three more shots and I seen Walter run down the alley. Then he grabbed me by the hand."

Pausing only to ask her if she were hurt and to make a circuit around the body of Lehman on the sidewalk, Bockelman, according to the girl's story, shoved her into the back seat of his Ford, jumped to the steering wheel, and drove away.

After a ride through Lincoln park the slayer drove his girl companion, who was lying "all tired out on the back seat," to the corner of Sheffield and Fullerton avenues, where she was walked home to her boarding house, 901 Fullerton avenue.

In every essential detail, according to Capt. Mooney of Sheffield avenue station, Miss Beck's story corroborated that of Mrs. Magdalene Leonbecher, 1431 Barry avenue, who saw the pair run through the alley where the shooting occurred.

Reënacts Part in Crime.

Late last night Capt. Mooney took Ethel and Stemwedel, the watchman companion of the dead Lehman, out to the scene of the shooting. She took the police down the alley to the rear door of the building where, she says, she noticed the hinges of the door had been knocked off. Bockelman, she said, opened the door and she went in as the automobile with Lehman and Stemwedel drove by.

Bockelman, the girl said, was in front of her, with his back to the men. She told him he was being watched and he drew his gun and waited until the two men accosted him. Lehman shouted: "What are you doing here?" Bockelman, according to Ethel, brought his right hand from behind his back, and without replying, fired at Lehman. "Then he pointed at Stemwedel, fired two shots, and we beat it."

Back at the station Stemwedel, denying any love affair with Ethel Beck, admitted he had known her since she was a little girl and insisted, along with policemen in the neighborhood, that her real name was Alvina Timme.

"That's not true," Ethel contradicted again and again. "My father was a German named Beck; my mother was Irish. I was born 19 years ago, right near Rosehill cemetery and lived there until I was 10 years old."

When she was in the fifth grade of the Burley school, the girl declared, one of the playground directors abused her. "I had him arrested, and I think they got it on him," she recollected. After that, she changed schools, and was within two months of graduation when she had to leave school to go to work.

Hopes to Own Restaurant.

"My parents had died. My two brothers were put into a boarding house; they're still there. My sister, Helen—she's married now—was sent into a family, and the Juvenile people had given me to the Blyes—they live on 1941 South Sawyer avenue.

After a short factory experience, Ethel went to work in a restaurant. "That's what I really like and if I get out of this mess, yes, man, I'd like to have a restaurant of my own. I made $18 a week and tips, as a waitress. But a girl's always getting into trouble, workin' around. Once I worked in a chop suey joint; not so good."

If she can't own a restaurant, Ethel would like to go into the movies, where they wear lovely clothes. But she despises the "sweet" heroines.

Wife Tells of Neglect.

Mrs. Frieda Bockelman told the police last night that Walter had been a model husband until a year ago, when he started abusing her, keeping money from her and the children, and refusing to have anything to do with them in the few hours he spent at home each day.

HINT OF STEVENS PARDON ROUSES ANGRY PROTESTS

Small Prepares to Free Gunman, Report.

Reports that Gov. Len Small is about ready to pardon Walter Stevens notorious gunman captured and put in the Joliet penitentiary a week ago after years of successful political pull defense against some 300 arrests and criminal charges, brought indignant protest yesterday from officials and civic leaders. Some of them urged concerted public action against the governor's repeated instances of executive clemency to convicts.

The latest effort on behalf of Stevens was attributed to Maj. M. L. Messlein business associate of Stevens and formerly head of Hope House, an institution for former convicts. Messlein is president of the Major Engineering company. Others recently listed as officers of the company are:

WILL COLVIN, treasurer, head of the state board of pardons and paroles.

Claims Alibi for Stevens.

Stevens has stated he was a stockholder in the firm.

Colvin is reported to have resigned since the statement listing him was made.

Messlein went to Springfield yesterday to see Small, supposedly about Stevens. The governor's office denied he was there. Messlein said he was there, but "did not talk about Stevens." He then told reporters he could furnish a "perfect alibi" for Stevens, who is in the penitentiary for shooting an Aurora policeman in 1920, after nearly four years of liberty obtained through jumping bond when the United States Supreme court upheld his conviction.

"I saw Stevens the night of the shooting," said Messlein. "I was in charge of Hope House and he came to see me. His legs were in plaster casts and he couldn't walk. He sat in his car all the time. I know he couldn't have been in Aurora. I didn't present this alibi at either of Stevens' trials because I didn't think he would need it."

Prosecutor Assails Story.

On this point C. A. Abbott, state's attorney of Kane county, said:

"Alibis for Stevens sound to me like a pack of lies. He was positively identified as the policeman's assailant. Five more witnesses who could have identified him were kept off the stand through being intimidated by Stevens. Why didn't Messlein appear at one of the two trials? Every one else who knew Stevens did, and they told every story imaginable. The higher courts upheld the conviction. Stevens jumped bond. I don't believe Small will dare pardon him."

Stevens, mentioned in police records of numerous robberies, shootings, sluggings, and beer running episodes, is under sentence of from one to fourteen years for manslaughter following his extradition from Cedar Lake, Ind., a week ago. Some Chicago civic leaders termed Gov. Small's pardons "a menace to public safety," but few expressed surprise that Stevens might be the next recipient of executive clemency.

Calls Pardons Menace.

Miss Grace Temple, member of the board of education and formerly president of the Chicago Woman's club, said:

"The repeated pardoning of notorious criminals by Gov. Small is a real menace to the city and state. These pardons are a disgrace, and I don't see how the governor can have any respect for himself. They are particularly a menace to the children, for they see only the surface—that a governor is handing out pardons to murderers and thugs. Gradually their undeveloped minds begin to think that murder is all right. They think that if a governor virtually approves such things by pardoning them they must be all right."

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, president of the Woman's City club, also attacked promiscuous pardoning.

Mrs. Bowen Sounds Warning.

"I am not thoroughly familiar with the Stevens case," she said, "but I feel that executive clemency should be used only in rare instances, and not repeatedly, as of late. Where a court has convicted and the higher courts have upheld the conviction, there is little chance for a governor to make a mistake in standing by the court decisions."

Mrs. Alfred Tyler of Evanston, president of the Chicago Woman's club, said she thought concerted action should be taken in protest against numerous pardons and that she concurred in everything said by Mrs. Bowen.

"Would Sanction Crime."

The Chicago crime commission, in a statement from Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director, said a pardon for Stevens would give official sanction to crime. The statement said:

"The crime commission does not believe that clemency should be extended to Walter Stevens, who has a long and unfavorable record as a lawbreaker. To pardon this man would be to give official sanction and to guarantee immunity to the worst type of professional criminality in Chicago. It would bring dismay to respectable citizens. It would deny the protection afforded them under the laws of the state and would be received with rejoicing by the outlaw who robs and murders as a profession."

"CONGRATULATIONS"

Miss Mary Bartelme, winning candidate for judge, is congratulated by her brother, A. E. Bartelme. Miss Bartelme won by 14,000 votes. Her victory in yesterday's election not only makes her a judge of the Circuit court, but also gives her the honor of being the first woman to preside in an Illinois court of such high jurisdiction. Some years ago Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch paved the way by serving as a justice of the peace in Evanston. Miss Bartelme won fame by her work as an associate judge of Chicago's Juvenile court. ALBERTA GOES WET BY 40,000; FARMERS HELP

Calgary, Alberta, Nov. 6.—[United News.]—After being dry for seven years, Alberta went wet at the polls yesterday by a majority of nearly 40,000.

Most cities and towns were carried by the wets, while rural sections, which were expected to vote dry, turned in wet majorities in many cases.

The government is empowered to control beer, wines, and liquors by the law, and all sales must be through government venders. Beer may be consumed in private homes or in licensed bars. Other liquors can be purchased in limited quantities on government permits.

Yankee Air Flivver Flyer Goes for British License

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 6.—Lawrence Sperry, a young New York aviator who arrived on the Mauretania yesterday with an aerial flivver, intending to tour England, has gone to London to get a British air ministry license. The air flivver has been transported to the Avro aerodrome on the Solent.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 6.—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, Democratic candidate for reëlection, apparently is certain of victory over Alexander Armstrong, Republican. Returns from 623 precincts out of 1,115 in the state give: Ritchie, 87,870; Armstrong, 58,971.

U. S. SEIZURE OF RUM SHIP SHOCK TO GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Dispatches from Jacksonville, Fla., reporting the seizure of a British liquor carrying vessel Louise F., "within the new twelve mile limit," which are featured prominently on the first pages of the London newspapers today, caused some surprise in British ministerial quarters.

There is an apparent desire on the part of officials here to make it clear that while Secretary Hughes' proposal for the curbing of rum running has been tentatively agreed to by the imperial conference it has not been enacted into law or embodied in a treaty.

'WE DID OUR BEST' TO BE U. S. FINIS ON HUGHES PLAN

France's Attitude Stops Participation.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Unless the French government changes its attitude the United States will not participate in the proposed reparations survey, according to authoritative information coming from the White House today. Following the conference between President Coolidge and the French ambassador, M. Jusserand, and the meeting of the cabinet it was stated officially that the prospect of an expert examination of the reparations question which the American government can sanction is not promising as matters now stand.

The President was represented as hoping the American position had been made so clear that in the event the present negotiations come to naught civilization will realize that the United States has tried to do its part to aid the stabilization of Europe.

Want Proper State of Mind.

Ambassador Jusserand, it was explained, had set forth the French position to Mr. Coolidge in considerable detail, and the President had restated the American attitude. The executive, it was stated, had reiterated America's desire to be helpful to Europe provided the European nations are in a state of mind which would permit the United States to enter freely and impartially into the conference in an advisory capacity.

If the state of mind in Europe is not such as to permit free and impartial participation by the United States, there is nothing, in the opinion of the President, which America can do.

So far the United States, it was learned tonight, has been given only the vaguest idea of the limitations the French government would place upon the expert inquiry.

Some Loopholes that Remain.

Ambassador Jusserand said his government would not consent to any inquiry which went farther than examining Germany's "present capacity" to pay. He was unable to define the period that "present" would cover or otherwise to state definitely the restrictions France would place upon the investigation.

Likewise the ambassador spoke in generalities when he said France is unwilling to permit the occupation of the Ruhr to come within the purview of the expert inquiry.

The administration is willing to concede that the legality of French occupation of the Ruhr and other political questions pertaining thereto should be pronounced outside the jurisdiction of the experts.

On the other hand, the administration does not understand how a body of economic experts could ascertain the ability of Germany to pay without taking into consideration the productivity of the Ruhr valley.

Another disclosure of the negotiations is that the French now appear disposed not to press at this time their contention that German reparations cannot be reduced unless the United States and other creditors scale down the war debts owed by France.

POINCARE SPURNS COMPROMISE.

[Copyright: 1923: By New York Times.]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Premier Poincare appears to be firmly decided not to accept the broad reparations inquiry sought by Secretary Hughes. Following receipt from M. Jusserand this morning of a report of his conversation yesterday at the state department the premier forwarded lengthy instructions to communicate to the American government. Despite the opportunity Mr. Hughes gave for a compromise M. Poincare, it is learned, does not yield at all.

The French premier in his speeches has several times intimated that France would leave the Ruhr if she got equivalent guarantees. But instead of accepting the proffered compromise it is said M. Poincare's reply is that France will evacuate the Ruhr only against German payments.

This reply, coupled with instructions M. Poincare is known to have prepared for M. Barthou, president of the reparations commission, tends to confirm the report that the premier would like to see the whole experts' inquiry dropped for the present on the grounds that, upset as Germany is, and with the possibility of power in the reich being tomorrow in the hands of persons who have sworn not to fulfill the treaty, this is a most inopportune time to discuss German capacity for payment.

As the French see it the inquiry offers only embarrassment for them, and having accepted it only to please public opinion in America and England, they would now be content to see the project die and would not be at all happy to see Mr. Hughes accept their conditions.

GEN. WOOD WINS OVER SCHEMING FILIPINO'S POLICY

BY WALTER WILGUS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MANILA, Nov. 6.—Dissatisfaction in the ranks of the coalitionists with the leadership of Manuel Quezon is leading to daily caucuses, with Mr. Quezon bending every effort to preserve the coalition, as a split would bring in a Democrata majority in the next legislature.

Many coalitionists consider that Mr. Quezon has been outgeneraled by Gov. Gen. Wood since the cabinet resignations, as Gov. Wood's policy is to appoint Democratas wherever possible, depriving the coalition of small fry jobs.

Gen. Wood's position is stronger than ever, as he will get last year's budget automatically, which corresponds practically with his requests for this year. He also controls most of the appointive positions. Hence if the coalitionists lose their position in the legislature, they will be left holding the bag.

In the present crisis the coalitionists want an outstanding leader. They fear to send a mission to Washington. Mr. Quezon thinks that he will lose out here if he goes to the United States. Sergio Osmena finds himself in a similar position.

WALTON TAKES IMPEACHMENT TO FEDERAL COURT

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gov. J. C. Walton took his impeachment to the federal courts today, applying in United States District court at Lawton for a writ of subpoenas, charging that the state legislature participated in a conspiracy with the Ku Klux Klan to remove him from office.

Hearing of the action was set for tomorrow afternoon by Judge John H. Cotteral.

The executive charges that he is unable to obtain a fair trial before the senate court of impeachment and asks, if his charges are sustained, for a permanent injunction against the legislature preventing it from proceeding with his trial.

The governor named as defendants the Oklahoma house of representatives, its officers, Acting Governor Trapp, the knights of the Ku Klux Klan and N. C. Jewett, grand dragon.

In his application Gov. Walton referred to "a threat against his life" that had been handed to him by a senate page last week.

While the governor was holding the spotlight with his court maneuver the house received a report alleging irregularities in the conduct of the state board of affairs in the way of awarding contracts for state work.

N. Y. Society Man Found Shot to Death in Auto

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The body of Frederick F. Culver, attorney and society man, was found today, a bullet wound through the right temple, in his automobile near Palisades Interstate park. While police of Tenafly believe Culver killed himself, no motive could be learned. A revolver was found near the body. Rudolph Culver, president of Culver & Co. and a son of the dead man by his first wife, had the body removed from the morgue.

CALLS EVANSTON "WETTEST SPOT ON NORTH SHORE"

Evanston was branded as "the wettest town between Chicago and Waukegan" by Ald. W. A. Knapp at a meeting of the Evanston city council last night.

"I believe there is more moonshine made and sold right here in Evanston than any other place along the north shore," he said. "It is my opinion the police committee should find out why the police department doesn't stop it. Nothing like that could exist without the police being fully aware of it, in my opinion."

"And if you're going to start out to investigate moonshine, there is no better place to start than in the drug stores," added Ald. E. L. Kappleman.

The matter was referred to the police committee.

GERMANS CALLED TO ARMS TO BEAT ROYALISTS' COUP

Socialists and Democrats Issue Appeals.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—The Democrats and Socialists tonight issued almost identical proclamations, urging all citizens capable of bearing arms to hold themselves in readiness to answer the call of the fatherland should the enemies of the republic attempt to overthrow the government.

The Socialists threatened the nationalists with an invisible army "ready to spring from the soil if called by the state to protect the integrity of the Reich."

The reinforcements sent to Thuringia Sunday under Gen. Hasse received orders today to disarm all proletarian "bands of 100" there as a precautionary measure. The government learned that the communists had planned a counter "putsch" should the nationalists attempt to march into Thuringia.

Berlin May Get Martial Law.

President Ebert determined tonight to proclaim martial law if the plundering in Berlin does not cease tomorrow. Gen Von Horn, military commander in Berlin, received orders this evening to hold his men in readiness to reinforce the police if necessary.

Rioting was resumed tonight. More than 1,000 shops have been looted in the last thirty-six hours. One person was killed and hundreds injured.

Despite pressure from every side, Chancellor Stresemann is determined to see Germany through the present crisis. The British ambassador today told the chancellor it would greatly weaken Germany's position and hamper the arrangements for the proposed reparations conference if Herr Stresemann resigned.

Herr Stresemann answered that he had no intention of resigning.

Bavaria Grows More Restless.

MUNICH, Bavaria, Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—As armistice day approaches, the Bavarian military dictator, Dr. von Kahr, is experiencing increasing difficulty in his efforts to hold the Bavarian Fascisti in leash, and the leaders of the moderate political factions here are inclined to view the approaching days with apprehension.

The so-called patriotic leagues, which are nominally behind Von Kahr but are really dominated by Adolph Hitler, the Fascist leader, are becoming more insistent in their clamor for "a strong nationalistic government in Berlin." They view the reichstag as wholly discredited and declare Germany can only rehabilitate itself if the government exhibits a show of authority.

Dr. von Kahr's position as dictator also is cracking because social and economic conditions are becoming worse.

Allies Resume Arms Control.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—The ambassadors council today sent a note embracing certain characteristics of an ultimatum to Germany, demanding that the Berlin government reëstablish a functioning interallied military control by Nov. 10.

Since the occupation of the Ruhr last January, Gen. Nolte's commission, with headquarters in Berlin, has been unable to function and the allies discontinued all attempts to investigate reports of hidden supplies arms and munitions or rumors of the surreptitious manufacture in isolated factories. Several allied officers attempting to verify these reports were manhandled by German mobs, and the shupos refused to protect them.

The allied note hints, and French sources confirm, that France might find itself forced to take military measures for protection against "reactionary militarist parties who exercise power in a considerable part of Germany."

Ruhr Negotiations Break Down.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

DUSSELDORF, Germany, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—Negotiations between the French and Germans in the Ruhr broke down today. The Thyssen interests closed all their mines and factories in Mulheim, Hamborn, and Dusseldorf, while Hugo Stinnes without openly refusing the French terms, demanded another week to think them over and to confer with Chancellor Stresemann.

The almost confiscatory nature of the French terms leaves the industrialists "between the devil and the deep sea," as one of the industrialists said. The refusal of the French terms throws the whole Ruhr into unemployment.

French Expel 2,000 Separatists.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BONN, Germany, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—About 2,000 separatists were disarmed and expelled today by the French troops in Bonn. The action followed a protest lodged with the French commander by the acting mayor against the wanton destruction wrought by the separatists, who have overrun the town.

Belgians Spoil Rhinelanders' Plans.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

CREFELD, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—The separatists' plans for an offensive campaign to establish a Rhineland republic throughout the northern occupied region has permanently been defeated by the action of the Belgian authorities at Crefeld and Duisberg, who have ordered all the "shock troops" to leave. The only armed separatists remaining in the towns are those acting as police force.

Ex-Kaiser Is Hopeful.

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Confirmation was obtained today of a report that former Crown Prince Frederick William had not yet left Wieringen, where he has been residing since his interment in Holland.

Former Emperor William is maintaining close relations with the leaders of the monarchist movement in Germany and is said to be hopeful that present events in the fatherland will turn in his favor.

ANOTHER HISTORIC ROMANCE

SERVANT ENDS LIFE BY GAS IN DENEEN HOME

Mrs. Mary Vermillion, 60 years old, employed as a domestic in the home of C. Ashley Deneen, 6639 Kimbark avenue, son of former Gov. Charles S. Deneen, committed suicide yesterday in the Deneen home.

Mrs. Deneen and her mother, Mrs. Winnie Dawson, who resides with her, were in the kitchen late in the afternoon when they detected the odor of gas coming from the basement. They investigated and found all the jets of a gas stove open and Mrs. Vermillion's body lying on the floor, her head enveloped in a rug.

Mrs. Deneen notified the Woodlawn police. They found a letter addressed to Mrs. Vermillion's son which indicated that she had planned to end her life since Oct. 28. She was said to have been despondent over domestic difficulties.

Connecticut Baby Blessed with Seven Grandmothers

East Hampton, Conn., Nov. 6.—Virginia Starr, new born daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Starr, is abundantly blessed with grandmothers. A family roll call today showed two ordinary grandmothers, four great-grandmothers and one great-great-grandmother.

456 VARITIES OF 'MUMS' TO GRACE ANNUAL EXHIBIT

When the annual chrysanthemum show opens in the Garfield park conservatory tomorrow every known species of "mum" will be on exhibit, it was announced yesterday by James J. McComb, secretary of the west park board. Some of the plants will be trained as bushes and will measure twenty-one feet in circumference, bearing more than 600 flowers.

More than 4,000 specimens, representing 456 varieties, will be on exhibit, according to Mr. McComb. Included in the specimens are all types of blossoms grown in this country and in all foreign countries.

The Edwin Clapp Shoe

BY FAR the biggest tribute that could be paid to Edwin Clapp Shoes is that for seventy years they have justified by wear, by comfort giving, by general shoe satisfaction, their makers unalterable policy of producing only the best shoe that it is possible to produce.

There are striking and apparent examples of this policy to be seen in the new models now on display.

avenue. The accident took place at Wabash avenue and Washington street while Miss Guthrie was attempting to cross the latter street. Felgenhuer was not held. Miss Guthrie was taken to the Iroquois hospital.

James Pirolo, 11 years old, of 1515 Hudson avenue, was probably fatally injured when struck by an automobile as he attempted to cross in front of 1301 Sedgwick street. He was taken to the Norwegian American hospital. John Kuhn of 1958 Sheffield avenue, owner and driver of the car, was booked on a charge of assault with an automobile and will be arraigned today.

Ella Dryer, 7 years old, of 3052 Lincoln avenue, was injured when struck by an automobile owned and driven by Martin Vrabik of 1746 Diversey parkway after she had alighted from the rear platform of a Lincoln avenue car at Barry avenue. She was taken to the Children's Memorial hospital. Witnesses said the accident was unavoidable.

Quick Relief From Constipation

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

NEW DOLLAR OF GERMANY BEGINS TO HIT TOBOGGAN

"Gold Paper" Fails to Win Berlin Confidence.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—The German dollar has started dizzily down the toboggan in pursuit of the German mark.

At 2 o'clock today THE TRIBUNE representative found this new freak of German currency quoted at three to one American dollar in making purchases in Leipzigerstrasse, but in Budapesterstrasse, around the corner, an hour later, he found them quoted at five and six to the American dollar.

At Wertheim's department store the American dollar would buy five times as much as the German dollar in the early afternoon and eight times as much in the late afternoon.

Jeweler Spurns German Marks.

"We won't take paper marks if you give them to us," said a fashionable jeweler in the Friederichstrasse. "You can have these studs for 30 American dollars, 200 German dollars, 7 pounds sterling, or 165 Swiss francs."

The paper mark was quoted at 420,000,000,000 to the American dollar this afternoon and this was the maximum rate paid by hotels and big banks to unsophisticated strangers. At this rate a good meal costs from $3 to $4, and a room and a bath in a small hotel about $10. This was purely an artificial rate set by the government to regulate prices.

German bootleggers paid as high as 1,500,000,000,000 marks to the dollar this morning and 2,000,000,000,000 late this afternoon. At this bootlegging rate a fine dinner at the Adlon hotel or the Bristol, with a bottle of wine, cost 50 cents.

Hard to Cash $10 Bill.

It is almost impossible to cash even $10 at a big Berlin bank, even at the low official rate, on account of the scarcity of currency, but bootleggers tonight are peddling unaccountable trillions and quadrillions of marks from stalls along Unter den Linden and also from hotels. They are doing their utmost to force their clients to buy at the low official rates.

The speculators get their cash by manipulating marks between London and Berlin and forcing Berlin banks to cash Bank of England mark checks.

Any one today with good standing at a Berlin bank can buy enough marks for $1 in Paris and London to purchase $10 worth of marks in Berlin and then rush the check here by airplane. By this trick the speculators are getting hold of almost all the available paper marks in Berlin. The speculators make 900 per cent profit in a single day in paper marks and then unload them at any price.

FACTORY ISSUES DOLLARS

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LUDWIGSHAFEN, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—Dollars are now being printed in Germany.

In an effort to appease the workers, who often find the buying power of their week's wages in marks reduced from 50 to 70 per cent, the Badische Anilin- und Soda-Fabrik, popularly referred to as the German dye trust, today began to pay off in dollars. This paper is in denominations of 25 and 50 cents and $1, and is redeemable in American dollars on April 1, 1924, by the corporation.

Although appearing for the first time on Saturday, the currency already is known as "anilin dollars." Webster defines anilin as a "colorless oil compound, the base from which many coal tar dyes are made." Confidence seems strong in anilin, but strangers looking for souvenirs have no difficulty in exchanging U. S. dollars for anilin dollars.

Baden Also Has New Currency.

The province of Baden also is issuing similar notes, redeemable in 1927 in United States money, but the security behind them is less tangible than the enormous works of the dye syndicate.

These dollar currencies already are at a premium, so eager are the people to convert their marks into something tangible. It is predicted that these as well as the francs just issued by the railway régime in the occupied territory soon will be sequestered in the family sock and disappear from circulation unless several hundred million are printed.

MAN OF THE HOUR?

Former Admiral Alfred William Meyer-Waldeck is backed by a party of German reactionaries as the man best fitted to become the dictator of that stricken land.

TOURIST GUIDES IN FRANCE PLEAD GERMANY'S CAUSE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—The newspaper Liberte, continuing a campaign against the questionable activities of guides in Paris, today accuses the Germans of disseminating anti-French propaganda among British and American tourists through Spanish, Italian, Greek, English and German guides.

Visitors inspecting the chateau of Versailles are regaled with long tirades against the injustice of the Versailles treaty, and people inspecting the battle fields are told of the prowess of the German soldiers.

Guides have been discovered and arrested in the act of tearing up British, French, and American battle flags in the cemeteries and in chapels and selling strips of them as souvenirs to tourists.

MR. HUGHES AND MR. POINCARE.

The American public, in the vast majority, wishes to avoid any responsibility which would put us in the position of forcing the hand of any of the European governments involved in the reparations controversy. The two hours' discussion, behind closed doors, between Mr. Hughes and M. Jusserand will therefore cause considerable disquiet. The dispatches from London reporting that British statesmen now consider the fate of the reparations inquiry lies between Paris and Washington will intensify our discomfort. There is little disposition in this country to bring pressure of any kind upon the French government to give up what it obviously conceived to be a course essential to the security of France, for Americans, apart from partisans, clearly see that the exerting of such influence would necessarily imply a moral if not a material entanglement in the politics of Europe.

We read that Mr. Hughes' determined dissent from the conditions and limitations M. Poincare has placed upon his acceptance of the proposed plan of inquiry is based on the theory that if these conditions and limitations are adopted the inquiry will become involved in political considerations. We cannot take this theory very seriously because we cannot see how any inquiry into Germany's conditions or allied policies can be divorced from political considerations. We think that to pretend they can be divorced is to deceive ourselves and to put us in the way of a most unpleasant disillusionment when it is too late to escape the consequences.

Our suspicion is that we are in a fair way to playing the monkey and the chestnuts. Mr. Hughes was undoubtedly sincere in his hope that a mere economic inquiry into Germany's capacity to pay reparations carried on by experts might be acceptable to all concerned. But the moment it was taken up by the British government and presented formally to the French government its inevitable political implications were forced into the foreground. The danger now is clear that our proposal has become merely a piece of diplomatic tactics to support British policy as against that of the French government, the net result being no clarification or modification of the reparations conundrum, but the purely political effect of strengthening the British diplomatic position.

Any favor the Hughes plan has received in America has been conditioned upon the sincere and cordial acquiescence of all the governments concerned. The moment the French government showed objection and demanded conditions our policy, it seems to us, was to retire politely. We cannot justify insistence upon the Hughes plan on the fallacious theory that the reparations problem can be split up and its economic phases segregated from its political. No French government would accept such a theory, and our government is not only wasting its breath but acquiring political responsibility if it tries to force the French government to choose between adopting a distinction without reality rather than be placed in the position of blocking an effort to disclose mere economic facts.

PROHIBITION RECEDING IN CANADA.

The province of Alberta has voted wet by a two to three vote and will discontinue prohibition and legalize the sale of liquor by government vendors and of beer by licensed vendors, upon whose premises it may be drunk. This is virtually the system which was retained in Quebec when most of the Canadian provinces were going dry and the same as has been adopted in Manitoba after a trial of prohibition. British Columbia also is wet, and thus four of the provinces are out from under absolute prohibition.

The contrast offered by Canada to the United States is one of rationality to fanaticism and of free exercise of political liberty to an undemocratic restriction of it. When most of Canada decided to try prohibition it was not made nation-wide, and it was not put in unchangeable law. The United States not only spread it over the entire nation but put it in law which is virtually irrepealable.

The dominion has a more centralized government than is our federal government, and, excepting the French in Quebec, Canada is a more homogeneous nation than the United States. There is not the great spread of habits, customs, ideas, etc., in Canada that there is in the United States. It is not a nation drawn from so many different stocks. Therefore it would have been easier to have had a dominion sumptuary law than to have a federal sumptuary law in the United States, but Canada was wise, and Manitoba did not declare that Quebec must not have wines, beer, and liquor any more than Quebec tried to declare that Manitoba must have them.

The provincial laws being repealable, no province was required to have prohibition if the majority did not wish to retain it. The law could be respected, because as soon as it ceased to represent the opinions of the majority it lasted only until a vote could be had in an election.

This is an illustration of a people conducting themselves in a wise, orderly, and liberal fashion, just as the United States is an illustration of a people conducting themselves in an unwise, disorderly, and fanatical fashion. Our fanatics would not allow the country to have a law which could either be respected or enforced. They repressed majorities in the states, the great political units, and left these majorities only lawlessness as an escape from a law they will not have and cannot repeal.

THE ERROR OF THE KLAN.

A battle between William J. Simmons, "emperor," and H. W. Evans, "imperial wizard," for control of the Ku Klux Klan, has been going on at headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., for some time. Its latest development is the murder of William S. Coburn, attorney for the Simmons faction, by Philip E. Fox, official publicity agent for the Evans faction.

As murders go, one more or less will be no great shock to opponents of the klan, who have long insisted that unrestrained violence is the common practice of the organization. But this particular killing ought to have an influence on members and friends of the klan as well as upon its enemies. It reveals clearly the type of men at the head of the organization. It ought to bring the subordinate membership to a realization of its errors.

The klan probably is a natural outgrowth of an inherent desire among native born Americans for an organization which can express their sentiments as against any minor group or faction. In theory it is not bad; in practice it is. It is not the best thought and principle of America which moves men to mask themselves and commit outrages by night and in secret against those of whom they disapprove. However pure and high of thought and purpose the oath of allegiance to such an organization may be, it is dragged in the dirt by such practices.

We can conceive of, appreciate, and approve the spirit which seeks organization of an all-American society which would put the ideals and interests of this country ahead of any other loyalty or thought or interest in the world, but such a spirit cannot live with the spirit of the mask, of violence, and of summary injustice. The two things are absolutely incompatible.

Yet an attempt has been made to unite them and to justify the union in the ranks of the klan. It has, no doubt, attracted many otherwise good citizens. Each has credited the organization with the thought which is within his own heart. The good Americans have overlooked the un-American mask and violence as unfortunate local errors.

The Atlanta murder proves that the error is deeper than that. It goes back to the head of the organization. It fixes the status of the klan.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH WISCONSIN?

Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, asked to tell the Wisconsin society of Chicago what is the matter with his state, says nothing is the matter with it, except the ideas of "some people who promulgate them for their own political profit." Mr. Lenroot did not mention his colleague, Senator La Follette, by name, but his audience was virtually unanimous in drawing its own conclusion.

Ideas put forward by politicians for political profit, without regard to business principles or economic laws, can hardly fail to develop into a serious ill for any state or community so afflicted. They have so developed in Wisconsin. The responsibility is La Follette's, who bosses the state with a thoroughness such as has seldom been equaled in this country.

The result of such one man rule through intensive politics has been to give Wisconsin a superficial appearance of well being which is somewhat deceptive. The state has good roads, and tourists there are impressed with the evidence of continuous work upon them. It has prosperous and well kept farms which are also impressive. But it is losing caste as a manufacturing state, having slipped from ninth to tenth position in the [illegible] of its manufactured products since the La Follette dictatorship raised taxes to a destructive height and otherwise discouraged business.

A recent bulletin issued by Wisconsin manufacturers complained that several hundred business institutions have been driven out of the state. Outstanding examples of this hegira are the removal of the great Simmons bed manufacturing concern, and the more recently reported arrangements of the Palmolive company to establish its business headquarters in Chicago.

That reveals a tendency downward which cannot be ignored. It takes money, business, and employment out of the state. It does so because state laws, promulgated by such politicians as La Follette, penalize capital and business arbitrarily to win the approval of short sighted voters.

Senator Lenroot is right. There is nothing the matter with Wisconsin except this blind devotion to demagogic promises and superficial improvements. But that is too much. It can, if persisted in, destroy the most firmly founded prosperity.

Editorial of the Day

"SUPER GOVERNMENTS."

[Davenport (Ia.) Times.]

Senator Brookhart has been frequently interviewed while on the junket of the senatorial committee from the great lakes to the gulf. Any man of prominence who can be counted upon to make a ridiculous assertion is fair prey for the newspaper reporters. The colonel makes lots of good copy, but he doesn't add a cubit to his stature as a statesman thereby.

At New Orleans he warned that "America is under a super government of high finance and the railroads are the pawns in the game of high finance."

There has never been a time in the nation's history when business has been so thoroughly regulated by the government as today. The business man is not a champion of the railroads except in so far as he recognizes that much of the present day demagoguery carries with it the threat of a breakdown of the nation's transportation system to the impairment of the country's commerce.

Big business is as anxious to enjoy low rail rates as the farmer, but it doesn't want them at the peril of a broken down distribution system.

When the colonel talks of the political power of the carriers he makes himself ridiculous, for they have been unable for years to protect themselves against legislation which they stoutly protested.

He charges that the railroads are plotting the destruction of the waterways of America. Quite naturally, the steam roads do not welcome this form of competition, but they will be powerless to resist that development when the American people awaken to its value.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IN DEFENSE OF SILENCE

When we are close,
Your nearness is a bar:
I find no words to say
How dear you are;

For heat comes stinging me
With little whips,
And all my songs grow still Against your lips. . . .

O, I can tell all men
The wide world through
How fair and strong you are—
But never you!

How may I tell
What only my heart knows
If words pass breathlessly
When we are close?

DOROTHY DOW.

NOT until after the polls closed did M. B. W. get to us with the Democrats' campaign leaflet describing James C. Jeffrey as a "fine lawyer and sueful citizen."

READING with unwonted care in the W. G. N., W. L. M. discovers this subhead: POINCARÉ REFUSES TO BULGE. . . . Our explanation is that he can't: he's over-distended as it is.

THE old world seems a better place than ever now that Klansmen have taken to shooting among themselves.

BUT 'TIS BARRED!

We have the horseless carriage;
The wireless telegraph;
Likewise, obeyless marriage,
And the hornless phonograph.

We have the spineless cactus,
And seedless raisins, too;
So, now the Eighteenth's racked us,
Let's have the barless zoo!

THE KEYSTONER.

PLANS made for the Opera will be carried through, thanks to the generous attitude of the Chicago papers in the matter of Signor and Signora Formichi.

If Henry does run for President, recollections of the peace-ship are certain to bring him the nickname of Admiral.—J. R. W. in the Milwaukee Journal.

WHICH is a good suggestion, for two reasons: the other being that it carries our mind to the Crichton-like qualities with which his ad-men and alms-men invest him. Hereafter, Henry is, to THE LINE, the Admirable Ford.

A Theory.

SIR: The elderly gentleman who cries the Dearborn Independent at Clark and Madison lets us know that it is "the only paper that's not censured"; and I heard different. THE DOLPHIN-STRIKER.

FROM the Duke of W-31 comes an assertion, unaccompanied by proof, that in Marquette Manor he went into a restaurant whose menu listed Special: Spanish Omelet with Egg, $.40; so, we don't believe him.

PLEA TO DOROTHY DOW

O Dorothy, why do you thus,
While in your tender years,
Make Love a spectre-haunting mite
Whose arrows fall too short for tears?
Give to us some fair lay of love
(Nor sugar-coated need it be),
To wash the bitter from the taste
That long has tinged your poetry!
So, let "malign, pale hands" withdraw,
And warm and shapely ones be kissed:
The "little thing" may, after all,
Become the Big Thing you have missed.

I-2.

Which reminds me that I have been asked to write a parody of Tantalus's column in THE TRIBUNE. I can't hope to compete with Tantalus at parody.—James Weber Linn in the Examiner.

AND his being out of hope in that matter leaves us rather helpless in the matter of an attitude; and, perhaps, it is all right to say "Thanks!" in the belief that it will be taken in the spirit of Professor Linn's paragraph, regardless of what that spirit may be.

Tantalus, the reminiscent gentleman who fills THE LINE from day-to-day with mysterious and uninteresting stuff, let fly at a subject, a week or two ago, that is vital. . . . —Arthur Burrage Farwell in the Literary Times.

HERE, of course, a fellow knows what to say in appreciation; and, to save words, 'tis said. . . . And this is, of course, the place to put in a belated word for the Literary Times, which was started within the year to help the employés of the surface-cars in their fight for higher pay. [It has no connection with the paper edited by employés of the L roads.] We plan some reminiscences of our first and second meetings with the editor of the Literary Times; and we will run them, Deo volente! in the final issue of THE LINE under the present editorship.

FILARDEEDEE!

SIR: The following arouses my curiosity to the extent that I'm forwarding it to you for use. The author is unknown to me: at least, by the name used. Perhaps, the publication might make her reveal her identity.

EROTIQUE

These syncopations of jasstime orchestra
Do not conceal us:
You are aware of me,
Assuredly,
Without pressure
Of the encircling fingers:
I do not as yet know you.
Your touch upon me promises. . . .
I shall dally thoughts,
But at last drop them.

Rosa Pevyun.

I frequently receive cryptic messages of like nature, but have never been able to understand the complex of their efforts. PHILARDEE.

We Wrote Impulsively.

SIR: My liking for you is newly tempered with derision—an effect of reading what you had to say on the 5th about horse-thieves. I should be safe in plumping a thousand to one that you've never stolen a horse in your minor lifetime. If I be right in this, then why, may I ask, do you undertake to write on the subject? It is not a theme for laymen!

BUCKO T. MACQOZE.

DER FLEDERMÄUSE CHOR

Monsieur Louis—No question of "sides"; and we get not the point of your poem.

S. N. B., 4140—The extra labor of telling what store was, we assume, unthinkable!

Reginald Mumssfield—If J. O'D. B. had even appeared to have written it, you would have had a good quip.

Nic, 4065—No! Those who would understand cannot read, and those who can read, et-cætera. Thanks, of course!

Carol K.—Appreciate terrific effort. Trouble is that every newspaper in the U. S. is under bonds to make same error at least once a week.

M. B., Evanston—And, how else might we thank you while explaining that you are counter to the consensus? And none of them is "personal," in your sense.

THOSE of THE LINE's clientèle who affect the sonnet and are not indifferent to seventy-five dollars have until May 31 (next) to write a good one for that sum. The theme is a city—not a fabled place, but a charted and findable town; and you select your own.

As it is none of THE LINE's business, we add that contesting sonneteers are admonished to abide by the Petrarchan rules,—those observed in the sonnets of Wadsworth and of Milton,—with the first six lines equal in length. . . . Your perfected sonnet is to be addressed to Alice Hunt Bartlett, 27 West Sixty-seventh Street, New York City—if, that is, you care for the seventy-five: if not, send it to THE LINE.

TANTALUS.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitation, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make a diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

NEW PNEUMONIA EXPERIMENTS.

MORE than once I have said in this column and elsewhere that the physicians have made no headway in the treatment of pneumonia. If a man got a definite pneumonia in, say, 1920, his chance of getting well was no better than that of the man who in 1870 had the same bad luck. It has been said that George Washington had the bad luck of contracting pneumonia during a period when bleeding was the approved treatment. Had George decided to stand on his rights as our first citizen, and postpone his pneumonia 100 years, he would have escaped being bled, but he would have died just the same. There are signs that I may have to change my statement. Nothing will afford more pleasure.

Bacteriologists say that pneumonia is due to at least four types of pneumonia bacteria, and that whether a man is to recover or not depends less on the treatment he gets than on the type of bacteria which is responsible for his disease.

With the more frequent form of infection causing pneumonia, the death rate is 25 per cent. That means that if a man contracts the disease, he has three chances out of four to get well. With the most virulent type of infection, he has a little better than an even chance to recover. These seem to be about the rates where men have good nursing care, are in good surroundings, and have the usual treatment given by physicians.

In the type of infection where the normal recovery rate is about 75 per cent, the later treatments appear to effect a recovery rate that is as high as 93 per cent. Approximately, 1,000,000 people are due to have pneumonia in the United States in the next year. At least, that 1,000,000 have an interest in the treatment of the disease, or will have.

The later treatment of pneumonia consists in the injection of serum plus certain other procedures. There are many of these sera. In general, they partake of the nature of antitoxins. They are injected into the veins, though they are being tried by the ordinary hypodermic methods as well. As in the case of diphtheria antitoxin, the earlier they are given, the better. Following the injection, the patient has a chill and his temperature runs up, but shortly thereafter it falls. The laboratories are experimenting continually to improve the quality of these serums and antigens.

The procedures employed as aids are many. Patients with ordinary pneumonia do best in places where there is plenty of fresh air. The open air treatment of pneumonia has many advocates. The patient must have plenty of water. Some physicians supplement the use of water by injections into the bowel, under the skin, or into a vein, of water, or soda solution, or glucose solution, or some of these in combination.

In addition, symptoms are to be controlled as they arise.

COLD FEET AND RED NOSE.

M. E. C. writes: Please tell me what causes cold feet and red nose in the winter time. Mother insists that it is constipation, but I just take laxative after laxative without result. As winter approaches I feel the return of these troubling things. My feet rarely get warm until nearly morning. In the slight winter we have here I am sure something could be done. Also the red nose, besides being uncomfortable, is very disfiguring, and I should like to know if it could be dispensed with. In truth, I am most always constipated a little, but with the mild laxatives rather often and strong ones at intervals I manage to survive. I am a girl of 17.

REPLY.

Constipation and the use of laxatives.

Discontinue the use of laxatives. Overcome constipation by drinking large quantities of water and eating bran, vegetables, and fruits.

Red nose.

The commonly held theory is that red nose results from digestive disorders. The red nose of the alcoholic is thought to be caused by the digestive disorders resulting from the prolonged use of large doses of alcohol. It is possible that in your case laxatives are causing the nose effects caused in some people by alcohol.

Cold feet.

The common explanation of cold feet is vasomotor disturbance or splanchinc disturbance. Which may be all right, but does not interest you because it is not pragmatic. Take a cold bath every morning, followed by a vigorous rubbing. The cold-feet-bad-circulation letters are beginning to roll in. I am doing my best to find a better line of advice to give than I have.

If I get it, I will publish it.

HE NEEDS TRAINING.

Mrs. R. writes:

1. Is it natural for a baby 2 years and 2 months not to be able to talk yet? I have heard children half that age talk perfectly. My little son seems to be very backward in talking. Although he can say words, he cannot make sentences, and this worries me. He is very active, and doesn't get very fat, although he eats well and sleeps fine. He gets a lot of lumps and knocks himself, but it doesn't seem to worry him.

2. Would that have any effect on his speech?

REPLY.

1. Your child may be feebleminded, but I don't think so. He is probably backward. Backward children can be expected to attain normal in time. Spend a little more than the average time on his training.

2. No.

LOOKING FOR ALIMONY.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 2. — [To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Six years ago a woman who had a boy 14 years old got a divorce with alimony of $15 a month. She married again in less than a year after the divorce, and her first husband notified her he would not make further payments. She lived with her second husband for four years, and he has now deserted her. Can she collect back alimony from her first husband as she is trying to do? The first husband is also married again. J. T. S.

Alimony questions are largely within the discretion of the divorce court. It seems probable that she could not collect the full sum. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ATTACHING JOINT ACCOUNT.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a bank account be tied up by attachment or garnishment before a judgment is secured?

2. Can a joint bank account of man and wife be attached or garnisheed for the business debts of the man? E. I.

1. Only on special grounds, such as that the defendant is a nonresident.

2. Yes. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

UNAUTHORIZED RENEWAL.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—The company which carried insurance on my automobile renewed my policy without my authorizing them to do so. The original policy expired May 5 of this year. A few days ago I received a statement from them showing a balance in their favor for unpaid premiums on the policy since renewal. Can they hold me for charges on this policy when I did not request them to renew it? E. O. J.

No, if you have not expressly or impliedly authorized the renewal.

DISINHERITS HIS WIDOW.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 4.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man in California recently died. He left a widow and grown family of several children. Two are single and to these he made a deed of gift of his entire property. Was this legal without the widow's knowledge or signature? The deed had been recorded. Does this make it legal? In case it is illegal, what should the widow do to gain her right? ANXIOUS.

It is valid as to his separate property, unless you can show undue influence or lack of mental capacity.

MINING INTERESTS.
THE GREAT COAL MONOPOLY.
From the Baltimore Sun.

The Reading Railroad Company, which has gone so largely into monopolizing Pennsylvania coal lands, wants subscriptions to a $10,000,000 6 per cent gold loan, which was put on the London market on the 22d October. The transactions of this Company in land and transits are simply enormous, and this year the Company increased its net income up to Sept. 30, $1,109,729; its total earnings for the ten months being $12,022,221, against $9,650,160 for the same period in 1872.

Prince Bismarck has laid before the German Federal Council a proposition from the United States Government, inviting Germany to participate in the Philadelphia Centennial, and has recommended its acceptance.

The apparently interminable Tichborne case has secured a fresh lease of life, and bids fair to rival Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce, an extension of time having been granted upon motion of the Claimant's counsel to November, 1874.

The Tweed case makes slow progress in New York. Twelve men were examined yesterday as jurors, but none of them were accepted. The temper of the Judge and his appreciation of the jury law may be inferred from his very pertinent remark, in dismissing a juror who had shown himself to be an intelligent man, that "this man's mind is not the perfect blank the law requires, and he is therefore excused."

BULLETIN.

Havana, Nov. 6, midnight.—Gen. Diaz was stabbed by a Mexican at 10:30 tonight. He was wounded in two places. The injuries probably are not fatal.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The Mexican situation is rapidly reaching a head.

The United States has notified Gen. Huerta that it is its "final and irrevocable" decision not to recognize him or any of his entourage as president of the neighboring republic.

Gen. Huerta apparently has determined to ignore the latest communication of this government, or if he should make answer it will be in a form totally unsatisfactory to President Wilson.

Under the circumstances, the president and his advisers are considering what step to take in order to show Mexico that this country cannot be flouted with impunity.

A transaction involving the removal of another big wholesale grocery concern from the loop district is the lease by Franklin MacVeagh & Co. from the trustees of Garrett Biblical institute of the nine story and basement building at the southeast corner of Lake and Market streets, now occupied by Reid, Murdoch & Co., wholesale grocers. The lease is for twenty years from Jan. 1, 1914, at a reported annual rent of $44,000, or $880,000 for the term.

Reductions in electric light rates which the Commonwealth Edison company says will mean a saving of $604,000 to the public next year were agreed upon yesterday by a majority of the city council committee on gas, oil, and electric light.

The committee ordered an ordinance drawn incorporating the terms of the last offer by the company to City Electrician Palmer. This creates a third rate in addition to the present primary charge of 10 cents a kilowatt hour for the first thirty hours' use and the secondary charge of 5 cents for the next thirty hours. On Dec. 1 this tertiary will be made 4 cents and on March 1 it will be made 3 cents. It will cover all current after the primary and secondary periods.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

DESTANDARDIZE THE MOVIES.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Just as a sporting proposition I would like to suggest that Famous Players-Lasky, and in fact several others of the larger producing companies, take a ten months layoff instead of ten weeks. During the last two years the movies seem to have gone to seed. There has been a deadly sameness in the feature pictures; the ever present forest fires and other mechanical thrills, the last minute rescues of helpless maidens from fearful visaged villains, and, in the "big" pictures, the continual dragging in of the French revolution. The movies are becoming as standardized as hairpins.

It would be fine if the independent producers were allowed to furnish the screen entertainment for a time at least. The most entertaining pictures ever produced were from the studios of Griffith, Sennett, and Chaplin. "The Birth of a Nation," "Mickey," and "The Kid" are the real classics of the screen, and they were made in studios where the expert accountant does not hold forth. If nepotism and other forms of favoritism are eliminated from the Hollywood studios there will be no need for any reduction in the salaries of real actors and actresses. The movie going public does not care a rap about Mr. Zuker, Mr. Lasky, and the other moguls of the industry. It is the stars who count. JAY DEE CEE.

IT TAKES A COMMUNIST TO REASON SOUNDLY.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—I often wonder what the capitalist class would do if THE TRIBUNE were put out of existence. Your paper is the most able spokesman of the concepts of capitalism—namely, private property. Your editors are continually harping about equality, brotherly love, and justice, and when boiled down it means brotherly love, equality, and justice for those who own America, and not for the great mass of people who are proletarianized.

Your article "O, What a Pal Is Moscow" speaks ignorance. For instance, you say "Wherever communism finds hunger, disorganization, suffering, and disease, it sends money to make it worse." Let us examine this quotation. Why should the Third Internationale, an organization which stands for production for use instead of profit, send money to make matters worse? Secondly, an organization calling upon the world proletariat to seize political power for the working class and only the working class, send money to see matters go worse? What material interests, what spiritual interest drives Moscow to see destruction and give money to see it? THE TRIBUNE, it is evident, answers communism by slander and falsification. It, however, has failed, like all capitalist class apologists, to answer scientific socialism by sound reason.

In conclusion I wish to impress upon your mind that Russia has never been communistic. Further, to emphatically tell you that Lenin never thought of communism in Russia so long as the rest of the world remained devoid of working class dictatorship. Lenin only came out for communism and will come out for communism for Russia only when Europe can actually be The United Proletarian States of Europe, and only then, and then only. WILLIAM FREEMAN.

WONDER WHERE HE NOTED IT?

Chicago, Oct. 29.—I am very much pleased to note the great increase in the number of people who are in favor of the league of nations and the world court. They are now able to understand how they were deceived and how these two great beneficial international questions were misrepresented by the politicians during the last presidential campaign, and continue to be misrepresented by THE TRIBUNE for political reasons only. To those who favor the "Harding" plan of joining the world court, permit me to state they are wasting their time by so doing, as the "Harding" plan specifies separation from the league and for self-perpetuation of the election of judges, which means mutilation of the world court, which the friends of the league and court never would permit. The "reservations" idea is simply a political trick to discredit "Wilson" and make political capital for the Republican party. FRANK L. FOOTE.

OTHERS THAN STUDENTS HAVE A RIGHT TO SEE FOOTBALL.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Your editorial of today on professional football sure was a touchdown.

I disagree with Prof. Stagg. The greater majority of the football fans are so employed that it is impossible for them to attend a game on Saturday. A great many of us who would like to attend the college games in Chicago are unable to do so on account of the size of the stadium at Stagg field, which seats less than 1 per cent of the population of Chicago and its suburbs.

We are proud of our Mr. Stagg and the teams he has developed, but we do not intend to take his advice in regard to Sunday football. A. C. WILSON.

PROVIDE FOR THE PUBLIC AT COLLEGE GAMES.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Regarding Sunday professional football, the writer's views are almost entirely in accord with Mr. Stagg's. Therefore, it is quite pleasing to see your comments gaining such wide publicity.

It would seem, however, as though the colleges might be held responsible in some measure for the growth of the professional game. Football has become the king of sports from the spectator's viewpoint, and in the past the public always has been encouraged to attend college games. But since its enthusiasts have become so numerous, the public has not only experienced difficulty in obtaining tickets but has now been practically excluded from the games.

The argument that the university is not conducting an amusement park is fundamentally sound. But it is rather hard on alumni and former students of distant schools who cannot attend the games of their own Alma Maters, but whose love of clean football leads them to the college games played in this city.

With all but their own students and alumni excluded from college games, is it any wonder that football fans turn to Sunday professional games? I don't believe there is one lover of football who would not greatly prefer to see two college teams in action to the best professional teams in existence.

Therefore, I believe that one of the best solutions for the professional football evil is to open the gates of college football to the public and provide ample accommodations for them. DONALD R. MATHER.

WHY NOT EXTEND MR. DARROW'S THEORIES?

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Referring to Mr. Clarence Darrow's speech opposing medical licensing, education, and legislation restricting medical practice, I would say he does not go far enough. Let us abolish the law schools also. Any one can be a lawyer. Let any one who so desires put out his sign, and people can patronize the [bricklayer or hodcarrier] one he thinks is the best lawyer. Also any one that wants to be a judge, let him put up a sign and dispense justice.

Liberty, equality, fraternity! Let the man who sells glass eyes or spectacles treat people with eye disease if they prefer him, and let the butcher who swings his meat ax in the most handy manner handle the more delicate surgical operations.

Tear down the libraries. They contain nothing but books. We are all equal. Liberty, equality, fraternity! As for the M. D. who spends $10,000 or more on his medical education—pooh, pooh, for him. Let the street loafer put a sign alongside of him and drive him out of business. What if he does kill a few people? The automobiles are doing that, too.

Harding Food Service Shop~

For Women

at 68 W. MADISON ST.

FOR many years John P. Harding, originator of the famous Harding corned beef sandwich, has been besieged by the women of Chicago with requests for a Harding establishment where women might come and enjoy the luxury of partaking of the popular Harding sandwiches, steaks, pies and coffee that are already pleasing more than a half million Chicago men each month.

It has been Mr. Harding's hope that conditions might shape themselves to permit the fulfillment of this preponderous feminine desire for Harding Service—and it is particularly gratifying to him that he is now able to announce a new Harding Service Shop for women—on the second floor at 68 West Madison Street. This second floor shop will feature a combination service—self service during the day and until 3 P. M.—and table service with waitresses in attendance from 3 P. M. until 1 A. M. The same famous sandwiches, steaks, pies and coffee that have won the approbation and patronage of Chicago's men will be features of the women's shop.

That this new shop may be a truly women's shop—we have established a rule that no men may patronize it, except when accompanied by a lady. Women, of course, are welcome either singly or in groups, with or without escorts. We believe that this restriction will be understood as a real courtesy to our women guests—an effort to reserve for their exclusive use the privilege of an uncrowded and efficient Harding service. From the patronage that has come to us in this new shop during the few days that immediately preceded this announcement, we are confident that we are giving Chicago women a distinctive service that is unmatched in this city—or any other city. Ladies, we are at your service.

The New Harding Building

John P. Harding now has a four-floor establishment—the new Harding Building at 68 West Madison Street. With the added facilities and conveniences that are available in this added space, Harding Service will be greatly improved to our Madison street trade. The first floor will be a new grill and sandwich shop for men, beautifully decorated and finished in walnut with the latest hygienic equipment for serving Harding specialties—the second floor, an equally beautiful and wonderfully convenient and well-equipped grill and sandwich shop for ladies and ladies with escorts,—the upper floors will be devoted to kitchens, bakeries and general offices. The entire building has been elaborately trimmed with beautiful new fixtures and the most modern equipment, more than $150,000 having been spent to make this building the first of its kind in the land. The special ventilating system uses 7 tons of coil (air wash) to keep the atmosphere clean and pure and refreshing.

Harding Sandwiches

Made from the finest of corned beef, sugar cured baked ham and roast beef—Harding hot sandwiches are juicy and tender and palatable. They are generous in size, too—the choice of thousands at luncheon time. Another steam table specialty—Harding's corned beef hash.

Harding Steaks

and Big Idaho Baked Potato

Where else in town can you get a crisply browned special sirloin steak, weighing a pound or more, at the Harding price? Small steaks, tenderloin and T-bones are just as fine—not quite so large—a little less in price, and a wonderful, juicy, buttered baked Idaho potato. Also, Harding's famous K. & K. dinner—every evening after 3 P. M.

Harding Coffee

Nothing goes into Harding coffee but the finest coffee that money can buy—plus filtered water in the proper quantity—plus 22% cream when served to your order. It's worth much more than the dime you pay for it.

Harding Pies

This Is Pumpkin Pie Time

You can't help thinking of mother when you have eaten your first piece of Harding's home made pie. The crust is just right—the filler of the proper flavor and consistency—just like "back home."

T. J. Kinnally, General Manager

After Theatre Parties

For a quick lunch after the theatre before leaving for home—Harding's Shop for ladies and escorts—no music or dancing—just good things to eat.

Football Fans' Rendezvous

Harding's is just the place to drop into for a bite to eat before or after the game—the main floor grill for men—the upstairs shop for ladies and escorts.

Good Things to Take Home

Just inside the entrance at the Madison Street Shop we will feature Harding's pies, cooked meats, etc., available for purchase to take home. This service gives the homefolks the pleasure of enjoying Harding's famous specialties.

5 Harding Grill and Sandwich Shops

Every few months there is another Harding Shop to tell the story of Chicago's demand for better and cleaner food at a moderate price.

You Can Breakfast Here

The new ground floor shop for men—breakfast for both men and women from 7 to 10. The upstairs shop for ladies—and ladies with escorts—as described in more detail in the center panel of this page.

72 West Madison Street

A shop for men who want good food in a hurry at noon—and a seat in the evening at "steak time."

131 North Clark Street

The same kind of a shop in another location—catering to men who value both time and the quality of the food that they eat.

132 West Van Buren St.

Convenient to railroad terminals south of the loop—near the financial, grain and clothing marts—this shop is just one more "handily located."

12 North Clark Street

The entrance is illustrated below; this is the new and modern shop that we opened last Spring—if you haven't visited it, you've missed a real treat.

27 KILLED BY GAS EXPLOSION IN COAL SHAFT

Rescuers Bring Out 25 Bodies; Two Missing.

Beckley, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Twenty-seven men were killed by an explosion in the Glen Rogers mine of the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company in a remote mountain district twenty-five miles from here at 8 o'clock this morning. Early tonight twenty-five bodies had been removed from the shattered workings and rescue crews were searching for the bodies of the two missing men.

State mine inspectors under R. M. Lamble, chief of the state department of mines, said the explosion was confined to one entry where all the fatalities occurred.

Governor Goes to Mine.

Gov. Morgan, who left Charleston this afternoon, was expected to reach the mine tonight. State police were rushed to the scene and there was no disorder.

The mine, which is one of the deepest in West Virginia, was preparing for a record production day and seventy-five miners had gone down the 300 feet of shaft before 8 o'clock. Fire bosses, it was stated, had inspected the mine as late as 7:20 o'clock and pronounced it safe.

Forty-eight Miners Escape.

The forty-eight men who escaped after the explosion were working in a section some distance from where the blast occurred. The explosion did not put the cages and fans out of commission, it was learned tonight and the miners experienced little difficulty in reaching the surface.

Carl Scholz, general manager of the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company, said after a hurried investigation late today, that all of the men working in the entry where the explosion occurred had been killed. So far as he knew none of those who escaped had been injured.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

NICE, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—Three thugs last night staged a daring and brutal robbery, obtaining jewelry valued at 400,000 francs (roughly $28,000) from Mme. Maud Seguin, the wife of a French financier living in the luxurious villa which Premier Poincare occupied in 1914.

Mme. Seguin was sitting on the porch enjoying the air when a thug hit her on the head with a sandbag. The thieves then entered the villa, shouting, "Madame has broken her leg!" This attracted Mlle. Vera Zegouwucki, the Russian companion of Mme. Seguin. The thieves strangled the companion and secured the keys to the victim's jewel box.

Mme. Seguin recovered consciousness and staged a fist fight with her two assailants until she was cowed by revolvers. The thugs in making a quick getaway left jewelry valued at more than 4,000,000 francs ($280,000) behind. The Nice police have arrested two suspects.

REPORT GIRL, 17, MISSING.

Florence Cooney, 17, 649 Vedder street, has not been seen since Monday morning, her sister told the police yesterday in asking their aid in the search.

HUNGER STRIKERS LANDSLIDE INTO REGULAR DIET

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

DUBLIN, Nov. 6.—Some account of the prison debacle when the hunger strike began to break down is given in letters captured by the government and made public tonight.

One letter was written by a man named Byrne, who described conditions at the officers' prison at Tintown Camp, Curragh. He says that after a number had given in a conference was held.

"While we were hearing views and opinions a regular stampede occurred," Byrne wrote. "The Free State took advantage of the opportunity and presented a form to every man who wanted food, and they were signed as fast as the men could sign their names."

There was a continuous procession to the cookhouse, the officer wrote. One prominent hunger striker requested cigarets, tobacco, chewing gum, liver, and salts.

Bulgaria Agrees to Make Apologies to Jugo-Slavia

BELGRADE, Nov. 6.—[United News.]—Sofia dispatches state Bulgaria will accept the Jugo-Slav demands for full apology for the attack on the Jugo-Slav military attaché and his orderly at Sofia. Jugo-Slavia's forty-eight hour ultimatum called for personal apology by the Bulgarian war minister, compensation to the families of the injured men, and military honors before the Jugo-Slav legation in Sofia.

May Preston, Aged Actress, Dies at Actors' Fund Home

New York, Nov. 6.—May Preston, actress, 69, who is said to have played the part of "Mary" in the original production of "Ten Nights in a Barroom," died today. She had lived for nine years in the Actors' Fund home on Staten island. Miss Preston played with John Morgan, Edwin Forrest, and E. L. Davenport. Her last stage appearance was with David Warfield in "The Auctioneer" in 1914.

BOARD OVERRIDES PRINCIPAL WHO SUSPENDED TRIO

The high school board of Maine township last night rescinded the order issued by Principal C. M. Himel several weeks ago suspending three boys from the Des Plaines High school, supposedly because of charges that they had "laid down" in a football game. Ning Eley, secretary of the boad, announced he would notify the parents of the boys of the board's action this morning.

May Not Let Boys Return.

The boys suspended were Roland and Amasa Kennicott, sons of Ransom Kennicott, chief forester of the forest preserve, and Montgomery Hall. The latter returned to school several days later at the invitation of Dr. C. A. Earle, president of the board, and it was understood Dr. Earle extended the same invitation to the Kennicott boys.

Mr. Kennicott refused to allow his boys to return because he understood Principal Himel imposed the condition that they acknowledge the charges to be true. Mr. Kennicott declared last night he is still uncertain as to whether he will permit his sons to go back to the school.

Calls Charges Flimsy.

"Inasmuch as my boys were suspended on flimsy, veiled charges without any foundation whatever," he said, "and since the action of the principal reflected upon their characters unjustly, it would have been only fair for the board in rescinding the order to state the charges were untrue. This I wanted the board to do and this they did not do. They simply stated the boys can go back. That, in my mind, is not sufficient."

SALESMAN VICTIM OF HEART DISEASE.

George W. Kent, a salesman, Hammond Ind., died suddenly, supposedly from heart disease, in front of 5 South Wabash avenue last evening.

The Newer Negligees

Luxuriously Comfortable and Decidedly Moderate in Price

THE two negligees pictured above suggest at once how charming and how practical these garments can be.

The quilted Robe is of fine English sateen lined with contrasting shades of sateen and comes in a number of color combinations, at $16.75. The slip-over Negligee of tea-rose meteor is trimmed with silk net, margot lace and the daintiest of ribbons; delicate boudoir shades, $28.75.

Two Exceedingly Practical Types

Sketched at the side are two of the most satisfactory Robes in the section. One, an importation of fine French flannel, with collar and cuffs oddly hand-printed, comes in soft tones of blue, rose and lavender. $12.75. The Corduroy Robe with embroidered bands, in many rich colors, is $12.75.

MISSING PHONE MAN TURNS UP IN LETTER SCANDAL

Didn't Jump Off Manhattan Bridge.

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Richard Dieters, telephone operator at the exclusive Crescent Athletic club in Brooklyn, whose mysterious disappearance several days ago after his hat and coat had been found on Manhattan bridge caused his wife to express the belief that he had been slain or driven out of town, was arrested tonight in Blackstone, Mass.

Although he at first denied his identity, Dieters later told who he was to Chief of Police Greenhalgh, adding that "he had been forced out of town because he had been threatened with death by a man named Jeffe."

Wealthy Clubman Involved.

Ephraim F. Jeffe, rich Brooklyn clubman, recently was examined by District Attorney Dodd in Brooklyn, following charges by Mrs. Dieters that her husband had been threatened by Jeffe. Letters said to have been received by Jeffe from the wife of a banker in Philadelphia and which are said to have got into the possession of Dieters, figure in the mysterious case.

Dieters admitted tonight that he himself had placed his hat and coat on the bridge "to make them think I had done away with myself." Detectives left New York tonight to bring the operator home.

Letters Break Up Home.

To the queer tangle surrounding the disappearance and capture of Dieters—a tangle in which romance and intrigue are intertwined—was added today the story of how letters written by the banker's wife, who is reported to be young and beautiful, disrupted Jeffe's married life, led to hints of blackmail attempts and finally into threats which drove Dieters out of town, leaving his wife and two children destitute.

Dieters, it was said, picked up the letters in a waste basket at the athletic club after they had been read and torn up by Jeffe.

Out of the maze of subsequent stories that came to the district attorney's office were reports that Dieters had planned to act with Mrs. Jeffe in procuring evidence sufficient to obtain a divorce.

Other stories were that Jeffe had several times threatened Dieters.

MUSSOLINI FOR LEAGUE IF ITALY GIVEN FAIR DEAL

ROME, Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the league of nations, who was received yesterday by Premier Mussolini, gave representatives of the Italian foreign press today some details of this conference.

"I am happy at the result of the meeting," he said. "The premier assured me that Italy had no prejudice whatever against the league and that he himself favored the principles of the league as an association of nations to effect the peaceful settlement of disputes and promote coöperation in technical international fields."

Mussolini, however, informed the secretary-general that Italy required that her position as one of the great powers and one of the founders of the league and a principal signatory of the treaty of Versailles should be "adequately established."

Sir Eric said he personally was trying to insure the principle of national equality which was the underlying spirit of the league.

DENIES MARTIN WAS TRAMPLED BY CAR BOARDERS

The Chicago Surface Lines sent out the following regarding the accident at Racine and 47th street last Friday evening:

"Referring to injury of a passenger at the corner of 47th street and Racine avenue Friday evening last, the reports on file with the Surface Lines do not indicate that Mr. Martin's injuries were received in the crowd boarding the car at that time. According to the reports of witnesses, Mr. Martin, who had been a passenger on an east-bound 47th street car, left it by the front exit, where there was no crowd. He had started for the sidewalk, and when near the curb a man who was running for the car collided with him and knocked him down.

"Mr. Martin was picked up by the Surface Lines starter, William Welke, who was on duty at the intersection at the time, and Motorman Casey of the car on which Martin had been a passenger. The man seemed dazed, and they helped him to the sidewalk, where he was looked after by a policeman, who called a police ambulance and took him away.

"The facts fail to show the slightest basis for the suggestion that the man was 'trampled to death.' He was the unfortunate victim of a personal collision which might have occurred anywhere."

TWO HELD AS ROBBERS.

Two men, Bruno Brazowski, 8539 Brandon avenue, and Harry Novak, 8514 Buffalo avenue, were arrested yesterday and charged with the robbery of $500 worth of merchandise from a store at 8412 Burley avenue last Monday.

COOLIDGE ISSUES THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Points Out the Blessings America Enjoys.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—President Coolidge's Thanksgiving day proclamation issued today from the White House calls to mind that the year has brought to the American people two tragic experiences—the death of President Harding and the Japanese earthquake—but says that such experiences serve to test and refine men and nations.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.
[Harris & Ewing Photo.]

During the year also the proclamation says, the nation has been blessed with much of material prosperity.

Refers to Old Custom.

"The American people, from their earliest days," the proclamation says, "have observed the wise custom of acknowledging each year the bounty with which divine providence has favored them. In the beginnings, this acknowledgment was a voluntary return of thanks by the community for the fruitfulness of the harvest. Though our mode of life has greatly changed, this custom has always survived. It has made Thanksgiving day not only one of the oldest but one of the most characteristic observances of our country. On that day, in home and church, in family and in public gatherings the whole nation has for generations paid the tribute due from grateful hearts for blessings bestowed.

"To center our thought in this way upon the favor which we have been shown has been altogether wise and desirable. It has given opportunity justly to balance the good and the evil which we have experienced. In that we have never failed to find reasons for being grateful to God for a generous preponderance of the good.

"In this current year we now approach the time which has been accepted by custom as most fitting for the calm survey of our estate and the return of thanks. We shall the more keenly realize our good fortune, if we will, in deep sincerity, give to it due thought, and more especially, if we will compare it with that of any other community in the world.

"The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them. One was the death of our beloved President Harding, which has been mourned wherever there is a realization of the worth of high ideals, noble purpose, and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the nation to a less lapitohs and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country.

"A little later came the unparalled distaster to the friendly people of Japan. This called forth from the people of the Unietd States a domonsration of deep and humane feeling. It was wrought into the substance of good works. It created new evidences of our international friendship which is a guarantee of world peace. It replenished the charitable impulse of the country.

Men Refined by Adversity.

"By experiences such as these, men and nations are tested and refined. We have been blessed with much of material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remember the privations others have suffered, and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief. We will do well then to render thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser, and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us.

"Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby fix and designate Thursday, the 29th day of November, as Thanksgiving day, and recommend its general observance throughout the land. It is urged that the people gather in their homes and their usual places of worship, give expression to their gratitude for the benefits and blessings that a gracious providence has bestowed upon them, and seek the guidance of Almighty God that they may deserve a continuance of his favor."

MRS. HARDING AS G. O. P. DELEGATE IS POSSIBILITY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding may take an active part in picking the next Republican nominee for President. She will if a plan being set on foot by her friends and those of President Harding prevails.

French Crow, postmaster of Marion, O., and for years a close associate of Mr. Harding, made known here today that a movement had been started to name Mrs. Harding one of the six delegates at large from Ohio to the Republican convention.

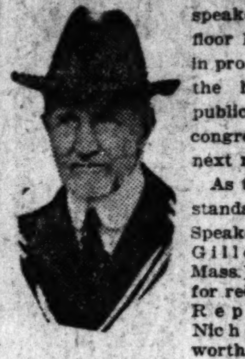
It is known that Mrs. Harding has made clear since leaving the White House an intention to retain as close an association as possible with the affairs of government and the Republican party. In order to qualify for the primary race it will be necessary for her to file a declaration with the secretary of state of Ohio designating which candidate she will support.

Fiery Cross at City Hall Put Out by Detroit Firemen

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—A fiery cross was set up and ignited at the east entrance of the city hall shortly before the polls for the municipal election closed tonight. A patrol load of uniformed policemen scattered the crowd as the firemen destroyed the cross. There was no disorder.

CONGRESSIONAL PLUMS TO EAST STARTS REVOLT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—A lively and highly complicated contest over the speakership and floor leadership is in prospect among the house Republicans when congress convenes next month.



FREDERICK GILLETT.

As the situation stands today, Speaker Frederick Gillett [Rep., Mass.], candidate for reëlection, and Representative Nicholas Longworth [Rep., O.], candidate for the floor leadership, still seem to have the edge, but a revolt is under way. Whether it will reach sufficient proportions as to upset the Gillett-Longworth slate remains to be seen.

The opposition to Gillett and Longworth comes principally from the west the middle west. "Too much Massachusetts," is the cry raised against Gillett, particularly since Calvin Coolidge became President. Representative Martin B. Madden [Rep., Ill.] is considered for the speakership.

SAVE CLARENDON BEACH, PLEA OF SPRAGUE TO U. S.

In order to save Clarendon beach from being cut off from the lake, Col. A. A. Sprague, commissioner of public works, has appealed to the war department to prohibit the Lincoln park commissioners from constructing the proposed drive north of Montrose avenue, it was announced yesterday.

The park commission, according to Col. Sprague, plans to construct the drive north of Montrose avenue so that the beach would be cut off.

"There is no sense in destroying this beach," Col. Sprague said, "when it affords so much enjoyment to the people and represents such an expenditure of money by the city."

He declared Eugene R. Pike, president of the Lincoln park board, has admitted the commission plans to construct the drive regardless of the beach, and already has obtained a permit from the war department to drive pillars in the lake as far as Montrose avenue, and is seeking permission to extend the piling.

Col. Sprague submitted another plan to the commission. He suggests that the drive skirt the beach by going west on Montrose avenue, continue to Clarendon avenue, as widened for increased traffic, then continue north to the north side of Clarendon beach. Here it would turn east again.

Col. Sprague has asked Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch to ascertain whether the city has surrendered its riparian rights to the ground on which Clarendon beach is located. The Lincoln park commissioners declare this to be the fact.

Filipino Constables Open Attack on Moros' Hill Fort

How to make Good Coffee
NUMBER VII

Americans who have lived in Paris often prefer coffee made the French way. The Parisian has his coffee made very strong and served black, together with a pitcher of hot milk. Then he blends it either half coffee and half milk or as suits his individual taste. The French maintain that no other method brings out the delicacy and fragrance of coffee so perfectly.

No matter how you prefer your coffee served, you will admit that Yuban surpasses in depth of flavor any coffee that you have known. All the coffees of the world were reviewed that this particular blend might give you just this full-bodied richness. Its peculiar mellowness is only matched by the tantalizing aroma that is such delight to the true coffee lover.

BANDIT FORCE CAPTURES TOWN; LOOTS 2 BANKS

Two Citizens Wounded by Volley; All Wires Cut.

Spencer, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—For two hours early this morning this town was in the hands of a band of robbers, who threw a cordon of guards on every road leading out of the town, cut all electric light, telephone, and telegraph wires, and, after wounding two citizens who attempted to interfere, leisurely robbed the First National bank and the Exchange State bank.

About daybreak the outlaws, numbering between fifteen and twenty, took $13,000 they had collected from the banks, climbed into four automobiles, and drove away toward Indianapolis.

Alarm Bells Awake Town.

A few minutes later citizens, awakened by alarm bells and armed with shotguns and rifles, were massing to take up the trail. Sheriff W. C. McCarty drove to Gosport, from where he telephoned to police in nearly towns to be on the lookout for the bandits, but late today no trace of them had been found.

The bandits came into town quietly and bound and gagged William Vaughn, the night watchman, whom they surprised while he was making his rounds, then turned their attention to the banks.

A blast of nitroglycerin used in one of the bank vaults awakened several citizens, who ran into the streets to learn the cause, but were driven back into their homes by a volley from the bandits on guard. Frank Gray, a second hand dealer, and J. A. Barge, a baker, were slightly wounded.

Take $13,000 in Cash.

The bandits obtained $6,000 from the First National bank and $7,000 from the Exchange State bank.

Furniture in both institutions was wrecked by the heavy charges used.

The town was completely cut off from communication with outside points for hours. Florence Kirkham, night operator in the telephone exchange above the Exchange bank, tried vainly to give the alarm while the safe blowers were working in the room below her.

Nassau Schooner Captured with Lots of Rum Aboard

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 6.—The auxiliary schooner Pilot, sailing from Nassau with a cargo of 30 barrels and 261 cases of rye whisky, was seized at Bogue Inlet, a coast guard station near Swansboro, N. C., according to a telephone report.

R. R. Unions to Decide on Their Legislative Policy

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—A meeting of the chief executives of the sixteen standard railroad labor organizations "for the purpose of agreeing upon a definite legislative policy in connection with matters to come before the next congress" has been called by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to meet in Washington Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, Mr. Stone announced today.

Wife Says He's So Stingy That He Cheats the Hens

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 6.—Unusual charges of stinginess are made by Mrs. Pearl M. Manus in a bill for separate maintenance filed today against her husband, Dirk J. Manus, a carpenter of German Valley. Among other things the bill declares that when a hen hatched a brood of chickens Manus stayed up two nights forcing a rooster to cover them so the hen would leave them and start laying again.

Coughs and Colds are germ diseases

Zonite kills germs

A COLD is not a mere cold or "just a cold." A cold is an infection. Most colds are highly contagious, and are caused by germs, or bacteria. It is difficult to dislodge these germs once they have become established. The time to kill them is at the start before they penetrate to the recesses of the throat and nasal cavity.

Zonite provides a safer means of preventing oral, nasal and bronchial infection than has hitherto been available. Unlike the old-fashioned germicides, it is neither poisonous nor burning in its nature. Unlike the old germicides it can be used freely on the sensitive linings of the throat and nasal cavity. Zonite represents an entirely new principle in antiseptics.

Zonite is not a poison. It is non-caustic and non-irritating. Furthermore, Zonite is actually 40 times as powerful in germ-killing effectiveness as the strongest solution of carbolic or iodine or bichloride of mercury which can be safely applied to the human body. And compared to peroxide of hydrogen, Zonite is 75 times as effective in germicidal strength.

HARDING STOPPED SALE OF VETERAN BUREAU SUPPLIES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—President Harding personally put an end to the sale of materials from the veterans' bureau supply depot at Perryville, Md., it was disclosed today before the senate investigating commission.

The late executive first intervened in the transaction on Nov. 24, 1922, nine days after the bureau had entered into a contract for the sale of the materials valued at $3,000,000 to Thompson & Kelly, Inc., of Boston for approximately $600,000. Deliveries were resumed after a conference between the President and representatives of the veterans' bureau and the war department on Dec. 12.

The second and final order by Mr. Harding stopping deliveries was issued on Jan. 24, 1923, and, according to the testimony of Lieutenant Commander Charles R. O'Leary, then in charge of the supply division of the bureau, after a meeting at the White House between the executive and Charles R. Forbes, then director of the bureau. What transpired at that conference was not developed.

O'Leary's understanding was that Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, personal physician to President Harding, and Senator Calder [Rep., N. Y.], were among those who had made representations to Mr. Harding regarding the Perryville transaction.

Development of the story of this sale was pursued again today by the committee with only a single break. This came with the presentation by John F. O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee, of a letter describing "parties" said to have been indulged in by some officers and employés of the bureau at Chillicothe, O., where is located the largest rehabilitation school of the bureau.

The letter was written by E. A. Tripp, in charge of the supply division of the bureau, to W. C. Black, chief clerk of the bureau, who testified it was among papers stolen when his office was burglarized on the night of Nov. 25, 1922.

"Say, this is some town," said the letter. "You're missing a real old time. The hunting season is on. Rabbits for lunch and pheasants for dinner; wines, beers, and booze, and we haven't missed a one yet. Last Wednesday I was soused to the gills.

"To hell with the central office and work," the letter continued. "The fun is in the field.

"Let me know when Forbes is going to sell by sealed proposals. Then's when I get a Rolls Royce."

Raise of $38,100 Year Given to 700 Rail Men

Three southern railways have granted wage increases totaling $38,100 annually to 700 men, according to information received by the railroad labor board yesterday. The Tennessee Central boosted 192 mechanics 2 cents an hour; the Columbus and Greenville granted increases of 1 and 2 cents an hour to certain shopmen, and the Norfolk Southern tacked 2 and 3 cents an hour to the pay of 400 shop employés.

PULPIT POLITICS DRIVES HIM TO QUIT HIS CHURCH

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—What he calls political stump speeches from the pulpit and unceasing "criticism of the best government on earth" in place of solid religion has led Horatio S. Earl, for thirty-five years a member of the Cass Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, and part of that time a member of its official board, to send his resignation to Dr. Robert Tucker, its pastor. Mr. Earl made the announcement today.

"I am tired of hearing nothing but 'dry' and election propaganda and criticism of men like Police Commissioner F. H. Croul when I go to church," Mr. Earl said. "That isn't what church is for. I have stood it as long as I can, and my resignation is simply a protest against it.

"I have not given up my place as a Christian by this action. I hope to remain one as long as I live. But what the church has been doing is not my idea of Christianity. When I go to church I want to hear the gospel. All this stuff the preachers are pouring out constitutes desecration of the pulpit, in my opinion.

"The churches used to be dry, while I was a little wet. Today the churches are wet and I am dry. They stand for strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law which never can be enforced. In doing so they only encourage bootlegging and other ills.

"One minister said in Detroit: 'Any man who will drink intoxicating liquor today is a traitor like Benedict Arnold.' If all such traitors were incarcerated 75,000,000 would be in prisons, and among them would be enough ministers to take charge of the Sunday services."

"There was a day when the churches preached temperance. Preachers confined themselves to the Christian religion as set forth in the gospels; today the preachers compete for space on the front pages and talk about everything under the sun except religion.

"We have two governments in this country. One we all recognize, the other is set up by the churches. They try to tell us what we shall do in matters that have no connection with religion.

"I am not crying out against any one church in particular, nor against any one preacher. I have only the greatest love for Dr. Tucker."

Pullman Official Heads Rail Electrical Engineers

Ernest Lunn of the Pullman company, Chicago, was elected president of the Association of Railway Electrical Engineers, which yesterday opened its fourteenth annual convention in the Hotel La Salle. F. J Hill of the Michigan Central railway was elected first vice president, and Joseph A. Andreucetti of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad was reëlected secretary-treasurer. The convention will close Friday.

'LORD FILMORE' TO ASK PARDON FROM PRISON

Barney Hunt, one of the originators of the idea of posing in Chicago society as a British lord, and also one of the first to use an electric drill in opening a bank safe, will appear before the board of pardons and paroles in Joliet tomorrow to ask that he be given his liberty from the penitentiary.

Barney was a pal of Eddie Fay, notorious Chicago postoffice robber who was killed here about four years ago. When postoffice safes didn't yield enough Barney dyed his red hair and mustache black and stepped into Chicago society with cards engraved "Lord Herbert Filmore, London, England." That was during the war.

Then Barney changed his name to John B. Trainor and headed a gang of bank and postoffice robbers in Kentucky, but finally was arrested four years ago for a robbery in Kanesville, Ill., and sent to Joliet.

MOVIE KILLING OF BISON STIRS CANADIANS' IRE

Tame Buffalo Driven to Death; Wounded Flee.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—A blundering mess was made of the movie roundup and the killing of buffaloes staged in the national park at Wainwright, Alberta, according to reliable information received here, and the affair is causing a good deal of resentment throughout Canada.

Dead and wounded buffalo littered the ground, while other wounded animals were able to rush off with the surviving monarchs of the plains in their panic stricken flight into lightly wooded portions of the park.

Dr. R. A. Rooney, chairman of the big game section of the Northern Alberta Fish and Game Protection league, tonight said: "It was quite evident that the American movie concern had not placed the killing in proper hands. It might have been much more efficiently carried out and so have avoided cruelty. The affair will be brought before a meeting of the league in order, if possible, to prevent repetition of cruelty."

Cowboys and Indians Aid Scene.

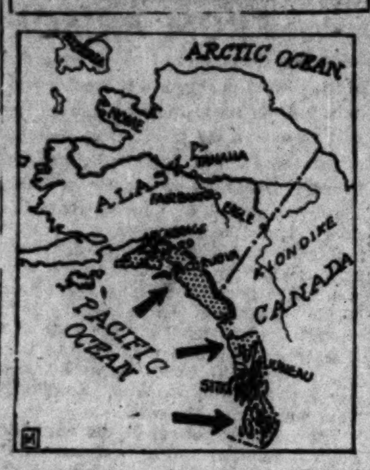
In preparation for the killing scene, twenty-five cowboys were taken to the movie camp, located twenty miles within the boundary. Close by was an Indian encampment of Crees brought from a reservation. While the braves made ready for the hunt their squaws prepared to make pemmican of a pair of buffalo carcasses promised them.

Rounded up by the cowboys and headed toward "location," a large herd of tame buffalo were driven down a wedge shaped, fenced lane. In all their war paint and feathers, the whooping Crees followed along the flanks of the rushing herd, shooting harmless arrows in profusion. But before the buffalo had reached the appointed spot rifles began to crack. The great herd paused in its rush and all was confusion.

Riflemen Do Slaughtering.

Cow punchers on their flanks fired with heavy revolvers along the sides of the rushing mob. Frightened, untried cayuses and ponies of the Indians bolted. The riflemen got out of control and fired indiscriminately into a portion of the herd that came onward. Instead of ten buffalo bulls, which it had been announced would be killed by expert riflemen, over a score lay helpless on the ground, including cows and calves. When riders had trailed those with broken legs or slightly wounded the total slaughtered exceeded thirty.

ELECTIONS



JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 6.—Today's elections were held in the panhandle of Alaska only, that narrow strip of territory running between British Columbia and Yukon territory, on the east, and the Pacific ocean on the west. This portion of Alaska is generally known as southeastern Alaska.

Contiguous to the section voting today is an area including Cordova, Seward, and Anchorage.

Argument of proponents of separation of southeastern Alaska, to be formed into a state if congress approves, usually starts with the assertion that division is necessary because the territory has never been separated into counties.

Under the present status of government, the southeastern Alaskans assert they pay taxes for a population scattered over 400,000 to 450,000 square miles of area.

BRITISH ARREST POET AS LIBELER OF CHURCHILL

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Lord Alfred Douglas, poet, literary man, friend to Oscar Wilde, and uncle of the present Marquis of Queensberry, was arrested this morning while at breakfast in his house in London and charged later in the day at the Bow street police court with criminal libel of Winston Churchill, colonial minister in the Lloyd George cabinet.

After a short hearing he was committed to Old Bailey.

The prosecution was not instigated by Mr. Churchill, but by the public prosecutor, which indicates that a serious view of the action is taken and it is believed that conviction will be certain.

The charge is based on a leaflet published by Lord Alfred and sold widely by hawkers in London recently, which was entitled "The Murder of Lord Kitchener and the Truth About the Battle of Jutland and the Jews." In this he charged that Mr. Churchill, at the instance of a Jewish financier, Sir Ernest Cassel, issued a false report of a German victory at Jutland, enabling the Jews to clean up big fortunes on the stock exchange.

He also charged that Lord Kitchener was the victim of a Jewish plot.

Lord Alfred, who has a mania for litigation, recently sued the Morning Post for libel for commenting on these charges and got a verdict in his favor which gave him one farthing damages.

PLANS TO UTILIZE WIND TO CLEAR ISLES OF DISEASE

Dr. Patrick A. Buxton of the London School of Tropical Medicine soon will leave for the south seas, where he is going to try to rid the Samoan islands of disease by letting the wind blow it out.

In Samoa, the British have found that most diseases are caused by a lowered vitality due to the parasites from a particularly venomous mosquito. The insect is related to the yellow fever mosquitoes, and transmits a germ in its bite that greatly weakens human beings, and makes them liable to the ravages of other diseases.

Dr. Buxton believes that by cutting down all underbrush from the islands, the trade winds, which blow steadily in one direction here for most of the year will blow through the trees, whisking them all out to sea to be drowned.

The expedition will include usual public health measures, and will take two years to complete the job.

Clean Teeth— all day long

Not from ordinary brushing, but from the constant cleansing action of the mouth glands

As soon as you hang up your tooth brush, the acids of decay again begin to form.

If the six tiny glands in your mouth were normally active, these dangerous acids could do no harm.

But the mouth glands have grown weak from lack of exercise. Your tooth paste must do more than merely clean—it must help these glands.

Pebeco makes the mouth glands flow more freely. As soon as it enters the mouth an increased flow of healing fluids pours over the gums and teeth; in between the crevices where the tooth brush cannot reach. These fluids neutralize the acids of the mouth as fast as they form and keep the teeth always clean and safe.

Pebeco cleans the teeth thoroughly, but it also helps the mouth glands to keep them clean.

Other Shoes and Oxfords, $6 to $14

Made to follow your silhouette so exactly that even in its heaviest weights it will not bind, sag or wrinkle

Haven't you often felt that it would be a blessing if you could get underwear that was really warm and comfortable, which could yet be worn with your latest and most fashionably cut clothes?

And isn't it a relief to know that you can now get exactly this kind—for there is not a fashion or a material for daytime or evening wear for which you cannot find the correct style in Carter's. Carter's Knit Underwear reflects every newest fashion in outer clothes without sacrificing one bit of warmth or comfort.

An expert designer studies the advance fashions in outer garments and then each season creates just the proper foundation in undergarments. Living models are used and the original of each style and size is cut and fitted exactly as a dressmaker cuts and tries on a dress.

Then too, the fabric itself, so carefully prepared, is most satisfactory. The machines on which the fabric is made have so many needles that the exactness of the knitting gives a remarkable elasticity and evenness of texture. This is of great importance for it means that a Carter suit gives with every movement, never pulling or binding yet never getting loose or baggy even after long wear and frequent washings.

Only the most superior grades of yarn are selected for Carter's Knit Underwear. After the fabric is knit, it goes through a series of washings in pure soap and water, then through a special process which practically equals sun bleaching and drying. The result is a wonderful feeling of silky softness that lasts as long as the suit itself.

With the final details of flat seams with budded ends, guaranteeing them against ripping, the double crochet edging, reinforced button holes, buttons doubly stitched on to stay, Carter's Knit Underwear is a very true economy.

Whether you are looking for underwear for evening or for daytime, you are sure to find it in Carter's. And not one model for each occasion, but an unusual choice for each occasion in all weights of cotton, cotton-and-wool, wool, silk-and-wool, and knit silk. Not only can you get Carter's in any style you like but there is also a wide variety of styles for men, children, and babies.

THE WILLIAM CARTER COMPANY
Home Office: Needham Heights (Boston District)
Mills also at Framingham and Springfield, Mass

A perfect foundation for the thinnest frock! Style 18½, round neck and knee length union suit in the panel above, and Style 30½, with the popular bodice top, shown on the seated figure, are two of the Carter models especially popular this season.

You can get Carter's Knit Underwear for babies and children of every age and size—and no matter whether you buy Style 15 which these children are wearing, or another Carter model, you can be sure that each garment has the same superior qualities so characteristic of Carter's. Carter's can be tubbed every day, and will stay as soft and white as the day it was bought.

Every year more men are buying Carter's Knit Underwear—They particularly like Style 15 with its roomy seat, its specially knit cuffs, its soft elastic weave that keeps its springiness through months of wear.

ROTARIANS HEAR PRAISE OF POLICE AND WAR HEROES

24, Honored for Bravery, Are Club's Guests.

"For extraordinary heroism in action."

Twenty-four heroes—fifteen whose valor in battle won them distinguished service medals and nine policemen whose bravery has won them THE TRIBUNE's monthly $100 awards—were guests of the Rotary club at a luncheon yesterday in the Sherman hotel.

Mrs. Helen Barry, whose husband, Sergt. Stephen Barry, lies in a hospital seriously wounded by bullets fired at him by a boy moonshiner resisting the policeman's search for illicit liquor, received THE TRIBUNE's check from Chief of Police Collins. Barry's comrade, Policeman Laurence Harnett, was killed by the boy in the melee.

Draw Chamberlin's Praise.

"No fanfare of trumpets or flag-waving accompanies the policemen into his "trial," declared Henry Barrett Chamberlin, chairman of the Chicago crime commission, and toastmaster of the luncheon. "Yet every man in blue is a hero, and even these soldiers who have received the highest honors their country can bestow, will admit that the policemen's deeds, unsung and unheralded as they are, are heroic to a degree as high if not higher than their own."

Chief Collins responded on behalf of the police department and pleaded for unity of law interpretation by jurists and lawyers. Their varying opinions hindered prohibition law enforcement, the chief asserted, until under a ruling from Corporation Counsel Busch, raids on cheating soft drink parlors were conducted without search warrants. The Rotarians cheered his assertion that although only 1,742 places were forcibly closed, another 3,500 had padlocked their doors voluntarily.

Heroes Given Plaudits.

As Col. Chamberlin read the citations which won the soldiers their medals and the policemen their checks, each hero stood to receive the plaudits of the more than 600 club members present. Buglers sounded "attention" and while "taps" was played guests and club members stood silent for a minute in honor of heroes—soldier and policemen—who had "gone west."

Among the veterans present was Corporal Thomas A. Pope, bearer of a congressional medal of honor. Others were Lieut. Mark M. Duffy, Capt. Herman H. Weimer, Sergt. Frank A. Koljane, Corporal Michael J. Cullen, Private Sidney Holzman, Corporal John J. Keenan, Sergt. Paul Hobscheid, Private Edward J. Powers, Private Edward J. Weiss, Private Ragnar Liljeberg, Sergt. John Francisco, Sergt. James J. Washa, Corporal A. J. Jones, and Maj. Robert E. Myrhrman, all holders of distinguished service crosses.

The nine policemen who have been awarded $100 prizes for bravery this year and who were present yesterday are: Patrolmen James O'Neill, Warren avenue station; Andrew J Barry, Fiftieth street station; Jeremiah J. Curtin, John E. Wade, Cottage Grove avenue station; Bernard Gannon, west park police; Timothy O'Reilly, Lincoln park police; George W. Barker, Maxwell street station; Michael Carolan, North Robey street, and William Thomas, Cottage Grove avenue station.

U. S. SPENDS 5 BILLION A YEAR TO RUN AUTOS WORTH TEN BILLIONS

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—The annual cost of owning and operating the 14,000,000 motor vehicles in the United States is approximately $5,600,000,000 and the investment in these vehicles probably is about $10,000,000,000, A. R. Hirst, Wisconsin state highway engineer, declared today in an address before the Michigan Good Roads association. He said the cost of operating motor vehicles is more than one-half of all taxes.

He urged that motor vehicle owners' payments for highway service should be measured by the benefits they receive and declared that taxation upon motor vehicles should not be uniform but vary with the highway facilities of the various states.

He advocated a valuation tax, licensing by weight, "police power" licensing, and a motor fuel tax, but opposed imposts by counties and cities.

OTTAWA BEACH HOTEL IS RAZED BY GREAT FIRE

Holland, Mich., Nov. 6.—Fire, believed to have been caused by defective electric wiring, today destroyed the Ottawa Beach hotel, near here.

The hotel, annex, and bathhouse, famous among Michigan resorts, were a complete loss. The damage is estimated at $750,000.

Fire apparatus from Holland was sent, but was unable to stay the flames. The owners are said to have announced their intention to rebuild on a more extensive scale. As the hotel was closed for repairs, no guests were registered.

The Handy Volume Issue of the New

will soon be sold out

It will never be reprinted!

To secure one of the few remaining sets now offered

at HALF the PRICE of the regular Cambridge Issue

YOU MUST ACT AT ONCE!

THE end of the Handy Volume Sale of the Encyclopædia Britannica is now only a matter of days. The response to our earlier announcements has been unprecedented. Two bindings have been exhausted. Orders are coming into our office by the score with every mail.

The Greatest Britannica Bargain

And no wonder. This has been the most remarkable offer we ever made—the greatest bargain in Britannica history. Thousands have seized this last chance to secure the Britannica in its most convenient and popular form, the Handy Volume Issue.

If you act at once you can obtain one of these sets at this unprecedented price reduction. We still have sets in three beautiful bindings, Maroon Cloth (always the most popular), in Library Buckram and Sheepskin. These are the three most desired bindings, of which our original supply was greatest.

All sets are the 12th and latest edition, 32 volumes, including the three volumes prepared since the war—the most up-to-date compilation of the world's knowledge in any form.

But time is short. If you want to make sure of a choice you haven't a day to lose.

Last date, December 24

On or before—probably long before—December 24 every one of these sets will be sold. The Handy Volume Issue will never be reprinted. When the present stock is gone, that will be the end. After that no more of these wonderful Handy Volume Sets will be available at any price.

The End of a Great Issue

Because of the universal demand for the Handy Volume Issue nearly 250,000 sets of this Issue have been sold. We had hoped to keep the Handy Volumes in print side by side with the Cambridge Issue, but increased manufacturing costs and changed conditions in the publishing business have made that impossible. We therefore decided to standardize the Britannica on the basis of the Cambridge Issue. For that reason we are selling the Handy Volume Sets at the greatest price reduction it ever has been possible for us to make.

A Superb Christmas Gift

No finer Christmas gift could be chosen than one of these beautiful Handy Volume Sets in the handsome mahogany bookcase, which is given free with each set. Here is the one gift of a lifetime's usefulness, one that all the family will enjoy from henceforth on.

Easy Monthly Payments

You can have the complete set of 32 volumes delivered to any address for an initial payment of only $5.00, and our deferred payment plan makes it easy to spread the balance over six to eighteen months. The price is a bargain to begin with, and your monthly outlay will be so small it never will be missed. Everyone to-day can afford the Encyclopædia Britannica on these terms, and there is no one to-day who can afford to be without it.

Act to-day before it is too late!

Your chance is here; the time is now; to-morrow it may be gone. Sign the attached coupon (which commits you in no way) and you will receive by return mail full particulars of this remarkable offer.

STINNES' SON IS DUE TODAY FOR OIL FIELD TOUR

Sinclair Silent on Report Hugo Plans Big Buy.

Reports that Hugo Stinnes, Germany's industrial giant, has fastened hungry eyes on America's oil fields gained support last night when it became known that Hugo Stinnes Jr., his second son, will arrive in Chicago today to become the guest of Harry Sinclair, head of the Sinclair Oil company, on an extensive tour leading through Texas and Oklahoma.

The younger Stinnes, who is 26 years old, landed in New York on Oct. 26, admitting no other mission than that of establishing personal acquaintanceship with "several business connections my house has in the states."

Sinclair Confirms Visit.

Reports as to the impending arrival of Mr. Stinnes and party, including several German engineers, were confirmed late last night by Mr. Sinclair, who is at the Blackstone hotel.

"Mr. Stinnes and his associates will arrive tomorrow," said Mr. Sinclair, "and will board my special car, probably on the Santa Fé, some time during the day. I shall take them on a tour of the oil fields of Oklahoma and Texas."

"What significance is to be attached to this trip?" Mr. Sinclair was asked.

"O, none," he replied. "Mr. Stinnes and his friends are to be my guests—that's all."

"Does it presage any possible combination of American and German capital in oil fields of this country?" a newspaper man persisted.

Denies Standard Is Interested.

A report that a Standard Oil group would join in the personally conducted tour was denied from usually reliable sources.

The present venture of young Mr. Stinnes recalls efforts of his famous father to gain control of oil properties in Persia, Russia, and other countries. These, it is said, were greatly stimulated by the French occupation of the Ruhr, an erstwhile stronghold of the Stinnes fortune.

CHICAGO'S ORDER FOR STAMPS IS A NEW U. S. RECORD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Chicago today sent to the postoffice department the largest requisition for high denomination stamps ever received from any postoffice in the United States.

Exclusive of ones and twos the order totaled 60,000,000 stamps with a value of $5,589,000, and included 1,000,000 50 cent stamps, 100,000 $1 stamps, 4,000,000 of the 20 cent denomination, 8,000,000 10 cent, 3,000,000 15 cent, and 2,000,000 each of the 11 and 30 cent denomination. Other stamps of lower denomination were ordered in lots of 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 each.

Since Chicago already has on hand stamps to the approximate value of those ordered, indications point to an anticipated heavy parcel post mailing this Christmas season.

Chauncey Depew, 89, Votes "It's a Habit," He Says

New York, Nov. 6.—One of the early voters today was Chauncey M. Depew, who, despite his 89 years, went with Mrs. Depew to a voting place in West 55th street.

"I believe I am the oldest voter in the district," he said.

An official replied that he was, adding that he also was the most reliable.

"Well, I've been voting sixty-nine years, and have just got into the habit," he replied, "and I have always voted the same ticket."

MADISON COUNTY OPENS ITS ARMS TO ESSINGTON

G.O.P. Committeemen Back Senator.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Edwardsville, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Madison county gave State Senator Thurlow G. Essington a hearty welcome today journeying southward from Macoupin, Green and Jersey counties on his first swing into "Egypt." The G. O. P. candidate is finding wonderful encouragement from Republican leaders.

Senator Essington visited Alton and Granite City today and wound up the day in Edwardsville tonight. Significant of the strength Essington is developing in the border counties between Central and Southern Illinois is the support he is getting from the county Republican committeemen, including the chairmen.

Men and Women Indorse Senator.

Essington's supporters down this way include a majority of the Republican county officials and leaders of the women's organizations.

At Alton Senator Essington put in a busy morning meeting and conferring with visitors at the Mineral Springs hotel. He also accepted an invitation from President Potter of Shurtleff college to address the student body.

Speaks at Alton.

The candidate made a short talk at luncheon at Alton, presided over by State Representative Norman G. Flagg, one of the veterans of the house and leader in agricultural legislation. R. E. leader in agricultural legislation.

United States District Attorney Thomas Williamson, chairman of the Madison county Republican committee, headed the delegation that met the senator here tonight.

Bleeding Gums

Pyorrhea's flash of danger to the root sockets

THE very first symptom of pyorrhea must be checked. Otherwise, the infection spreads to the root sockets which hold your teeth in place. Then the teeth fall out or must be pulled.

Pyorrhocide Powder is the dentifrice prescribed by dentists since 1908 as an aid in checking as well as preventing pyorrhea. It has a tonic and healing effect upon the gums. It corrects bleeding gums—strengthens tender gums—hardens soft gums. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

Use Pyorrhocide Powder daily—see your dentist regularly—and you can avoid pyorrhea. The economical dollar package contains six months' supply. All druggists.

BURGLAR SLIPS IN AS MAID SINGS; STEALS $10,000

Taking advantage of a maid's singing which drowned out the sound of his approach, a burglar gained the second floor of the home of Leroy Baumgartl, secretary of the Federal Cement company, at 1180 Oakley avenue, Winnetka, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, bound the maid to a newel post and escaped with nearly $10,000 worth of jewelry.

Mrs. Baumgartl was keeping an appointment with a dentist in Chicago and both of her children, Jane, 11 years old, and James, 9, were at school. The maid, Emily Sechser, was making beds on the second floor and singing when she suddenly turned and faced a man holding a revolver. He ordered her to tell where Mrs. Baumgartl's jewels were kept. She refused.

He then bound her to a newel post in the hall while he leisurely ransacked the bedrooms. She was released some time later by an ice man. Mrs. Baumgartl did not return home until late in the afternoon and told the police last night she had not completed a check of the burglar's loot.

REPORT EPIDEMIC IN ZION; STATE BEGINS INQUIRY

Reports that more than twenty cases of diphtheria had appeared in Zion City caused Dr. A. J. Markley of the state department of health to begin an investigation there yesterday. The Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion, of which Wilbur Glenn Voliva is overseer, does not countenance the practice of medicine. There is one physician in the town who administers only to the ills of the anti-Volivaites. It was on the appeal of the latter to Dr. John C. Foley, health officer of Waukegan, that the state authorities were called in. Dr. Markley did not reach Zion City until late in the afternoon and will continue his inquiry today.

Realtors Should Watch the Wording of Their Want Ads—

MR. G., a realtor, had several vacant apartments on his list which he desired to rent. So he tried a Want Ad in The Tribune:

TO RENT—2 RMS., $65; 3-4 RMS., $75; 5 rms., $90; 6 rms., $100; 7 rms., $175 and up; mod. apts.; Rogers Pk., Edge., Evanston. Rogers Pk. 0000.

A little surprised that The Tribune did not pull as many inquiries as usual, he asked The Tribune representative what was wrong. Mr. G. was advised to rewrite his Want Ad, giving more detailed information and better typography, so he ran it as follows:

Edge., Rogers Pk., Evanston.
LARGEST LIST; POSS. NOW, OCT. 1ST.
2 and 3 large rms., nr. L and lake..$65-$75
4 large rms., nr. L and lake..............$75
5 large rms., nr. L and lake..............$85
6 large rms., $90; 2 baths..............$125
8 rm. house..............$200
Modern, sun parlors; many others.
0000 Greenview. Rogers Park 0000.

This Want Ad brought a large number of inquiries, and Mr. G. rented most of the apartments. In fact, he was so well pleased that he said to The Tribune representative, "After this, my Want Ads are going to be the biggest in the Rogers Park district," so convinced is he of the slogan—"The more you tell the quicker you sell."

SHIPPERS BOOST LAKES-GULF WAY THROUGH TOURS

GEO. A. BLAIR. [Toffett Photo.]

Further recognition of Chicago's need for water terminal facilities that would meet demands of the proposed lakes to the gulf nine foot channel developed yesterday at the annual meeting of the Chicago Shippers' Conference association in the Hotel La Salle.

A week ago today more than a score of the city's industrial leaders cruised down the drainage canal to Lockport, proceeding thence by rail to other points, to inspect waterway improvements already completed or well under way.

Another delegation, a larger one, probably will be organized to make a similar trip within two weeks, H. G. Logan, secretary of the shippers' organization waterway committee, announced following the annual luncheon.

Hopes to Increase Interest.

"Plans are tentative," said Mr. Logan, who is assistant traffic manager of the Morton Salt company, "but I feel sure the trip will be made before cold weather finally sets in. Shippers here know water terminals must be provided and inspection of what already has been done toward realization of the deep channel dream will enliven their interest."

A report of the shippers' railway terminal commitee, submitted at the morning business session, deplored the so called Willard plan, which would effect unification of the Chicago district railroad terminals, both as to control and operation.

Such unification, the report contended, would stifle competition among the carriers, and the committee indicated it could "conceive of no greater catastrophe to the industrial welfare of the Chicago district."

Markham Chief Speaker.

C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central railway, was the chief luncheon speaker. He expressed accord with the shippers' stand, so far as it referred to freight handling, but said he favored that part of the Willard plan which would eliminate all but three passenger terminals. Mr. Markham advocated the trucking system for efficient handling of freight.

Incidentally, President Markham asserted, there is nothing "radically wrong" with present terminal facilities, and in support of this he cited the industrial expansion they have made possible in the last few years.

George A. Blair, traffic manager of Wilson & Co., was elected president of the shippers' association; C. T. Bradford, manager of the traffic department of the International Harvester company, vice president, and W. J. M. Lahl, traffic manager for the American Seating company, secretary.

Mine Hoists 5,846 Tons of Coal in Eight Hours

Pana, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Nokomis Coal company mine No. 10 set a new hoisting record for Central Illinois mines today when 5,846 tons were hoisted in eight hours, 1,927 hoists which filled 120 railroad coal cars.

FRENCH MOVIES TO END HORRORS OF VIVISECTION

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—[Tribune Radio.]—The horrors of vivisection are to be ended in France by the substitution of moving pictures for actual operations. After hearing the testimony of several distinguished surgeons today the Paris municipal council voted to establish a program of films by slow motion process showing the various benefits of operations on humans to teach and improve the technique of medical students and young surgeons.

Coolidge and Cummins Discuss Rail Situation

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—President Coolidge late today went over the general railroad situation and proposed railroad legislation with Senator Cummins [Rep., Ia.], chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee. While bills providing for repeal of the ratemaking section are expected to be introduced when congress convenes, Senator Cummins does not expect as much agitation for elimination of the section as there was during the last session of congress. The attack will be shifted to railroad valuation, the senator declared.

And We Guarantee It 25 Years

NO other part of any pen is so important as the point. And the Parker Duofold point has now astounded the world. It's a point of extra thick gold with a fused-in tip of Native Tasmanian Iridium—hardest metal known. This tip alone costs us $2340 a pound—three times the cost of synthetic iridium.

It's as smooth as a polished jewel bearing, so needs no "breaking in." It suits all hands; and no style of writing can distort it—hence a pen you can lend without fear.

Five times trained experts inspect it. And every Parker is filled with ink and tried on paper, before the final O. K.

Parker Duofold is really a $10 pen at $7. It's the most economical you can own, for we guarantee this point 25 years—not only for mechanical perfection—but wear! You would wear out several ordinary pens before that.

Its black-tipped lacquer-red barrel is handsomer than gold and hard to lose. It has Over-size ink capacity; a balance that your hand can't get away from.

But you can't get this barrel and this point in any pen but Parker Duofold. So look for this imprint—"Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD—Lucky Curve." Look carefully, and avoid pens made to deceive.

Strong★Gold Girdle—was $1—now free. Neat Gold Pocket-clip or Gold Ring-end for ribbon also included.

EXPECT GREAT THINGS

EXPECT GREATER SMOOTHNESS

The new, inherently balanced engine of Cadillac V-63 has established a new standard in smoothness of operation.

It is perhaps the greatest achievement of a group of men who are justly renowned for their introduction of the V-type, 8-cylinder engine, electrical starting and lighting, and many other important developments in automotive engineering.

You will be immediately conscious of the even flow of power of this perfectly balanced engine when first you hold the wheel of V-63. So quietly and smoothly does it operate that owners say they are scarcely aware that there is a power plant beneath the hood.

The nearest Cadillac branch has a V-63 ready for you to drive and test to your own satisfaction. If you cannot call in person, phone us and we will send a car to your home or office.

Do we eat to live or live to eat?

THOSE who live to eat usually have a short life, and not always a merry one.

Those who eat to live know that it is not how much they eat, but rather the food they properly digest that makes for health and long life.

The crisp, delicious wheat-and-barley food, Grape-Nuts, is not only good to eat, but it digests easily, and supplies life essential vitamin and mineral elements from the grain, without which health and strength cannot be maintained.

Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is completely nourishing—a delightful, well-balanced food for those who eat to live long and happily.

GRAPE-NUTS FRUIT PUDDING

1 cup Grape-Nuts
1 package lemon Jell-O or lemon flavored gelatine
1 pint boiling water
¾ cup seeded raisins or chopped dates

Add the boiling water to the Jell-O or lemon flavored gelatine and stir until it is dissolved. Pour into a mould, and after the mixture has cooled slightly, add the Grape-Nuts and fruit; then allow the mixture to chill and harden. Makes four to six portions.

Tribune helps incomes grow

Mrs. R. G. Platt, 4334 Congress St., used this Tribune Want Ad, which she ordered for three days:

CONGRESS, 4334, 2D—TO RENT—3 front hspkg. rms., priv. entrance, hot water ht. and elec.; L and surf. Nevada 3017.

After the second appearance she called to cancel the Want Ad. "I forgot to call yesterday and cancel," she said, "but the results were worth the extra price. I didn't know there were so many people in Chicago. I had three rooms and rented them all the first day. People took them almost sight unseen. They 'phoned and asked me to hold rooms until they could get here."

600 BONUS PAY WARRANTS SENT OUT TO SOLDIERS

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 6.—[By the Associated Press.]—Soldier bonus bonds should never have been given soldiers in payment of their service recognition claims, State Treasurer Oscar Nelson declared today in announcing that 600 soldier bonus warrants for cash had been put in the mails this morning and that 580 former service men in Illinois had already received bonds in payment of their claims. Resumption of payment began with claim No. 59,047.

Hurry to Bond Buyers.

"The service men," Mr. Nelson affirmed, "don't want the bonds. They get them at the office in Chicago and rush right over to the bond buyers to get rid of them. They want money. I don't mean that all of them do that, but enough have done it to make it noticeable.

"It has a bad effect. It is the Victory bond story all over again. Sale of individual bonds below par will beat down the value of the other soldier bonus bonds yet to be disposed of."

Additional Warrants to Go.

After today, the state treasurer said, additional warrants will be sent out at the rate of about 2,000 a day. There are enough claims approved, or to be approved, he said, to keep his office busy at that rate for nearly two months, past the first of next year.

There are only a few more bonds to be sent out in payment of service claims, he said. Less than half of 1 per cent of the soldiers asked for bonds.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & CO

Charming New Frocks for Formal Occasions
In a Specially Assembled Group, $75, $85. $110 and $115

Among the newest arrivals, the fashion features they bring are interesting, and, being presented here, authentic. It is unmistakable, too, that they are of the finer modes.

Fur and Silvered Lace Combined In Misses' Frocks, $110

The silvered lace tunic over the underskirt of black chiffon velvet. Or with gilt lace over brown or ruby velvet. The fur is in gray or tan. Left center. $110.

These frocks are of the soft, supple fabrics seemingly created for the present fashions. They are colorful, graceful and youth-giving in line, and interestingly varied.

Misses' Frocks of Brown Cut Velvet, Sketched at the Right, $85.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

Women's Silk-and-Wool Hosiery, $2.50 Pair

This is full-fashioned hosiery of splendid quality. Of silk and wool mixed, in black, dark brown, log cabin and combinations of black and white. There is real economy in choosing several pairs. $2.50 pair.

Women's Imported Ribbed Wool Hosiery at $2.50 Pair

First Floor, North.

Jaunty New Sweater Coats
And Scarf Sets to Accompany Them

Chosen together, they make an outfit which figures largely in winter's zestful sports. Uncommon smartness they have, too, adding to the comfort they give. And their pricing in this selling is most interesting.

Sweater Coats, $10.75 Of Brushed Wool

Sports Sets—Cap and Scarf—$3.95 Set

Third Floor, North.

Indispensable the Year 'Round Are Corduroy Robes at $5.95

When they are of the better qualities, carefully made, lovely in color, and charming in style as corduroy robes are here, they are indeed an excellent wardrobe investment.

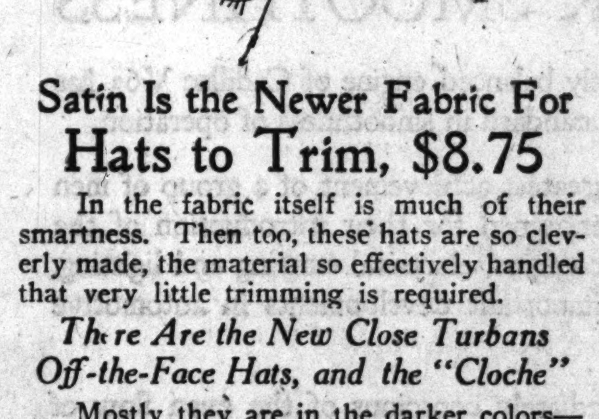
"Slip-over" Corduroy Robes, $6.75

One can see by the sketch at the right what a convenient sort of negligee this is. It may be chosen in sand, pansy, black and tangerine in a newer weave of corduroy, in checked effect. $6.75.

Third Floor, North.



Satin Is the Newer Fabric For
Hats to Trim, $8.75

In the fabric itself is much of their smartness. Then too, these hats are so cleverly made, the material so effectively handled that very little trimming is required.

There Are the New Close Turbans Off-the-Face Hats, and the "Cloche"

Mostly they are in the darker colors—black and brown. And special mention is made of the lustrous quality of the satin in these hats, and the deft workmanship.

In the Sports Section
Swagger Top-Coats, $65

The sports section is the source of selection for much of the smarter street apparel this season—so closely are street modes and sports modes allied in fashion. The coats featured are typical.

These Coats Are of Stunning Striped Fabric With Wide Collars of Smart Furs

Brushed Wool Sports Coats Priced at $10 In Jacquette Style. Sketched at the Right.

Fourth Floor, North.

Attractive House Dresses, $2.95, $4.50
Have Every Essential Feature for Satisfactory Service

For they are made with a complete understanding of the purpose they fill. So they are of good-looking, serviceable materials, carefully fitted, in becoming colors and smart-looking styles, and they are decidedly moderate in pricing.

A new and most unusual style, from the plaid in shaded colors to the quaint cut of the neck and sleeve. Sketched at the right. $2.95.

Crepe Gingham House Dresses, $4.50

Third Floor, East.

With All Their Charm, They Are Most Practical, These Lovely Undergarments of Tinted Voile

They seem to have been specially designed for women who have a liking for exquisite lingerie, and who insist upon serviceability and moderate pricing. They have the charm of the unusual too, and are a suggestion worth-while to those whose gift-giving takes a practical turn.

Two-Piece Sets, $7.90 Set The Night Dresses to Match, $6.95

The two-piece sets consist of drawers and vest chemise. These undergarments are trimmed with puffing of fine net footing, and fluffy little frills of the net.

The Voile Is a Daintily Fine, Firm Quality Which Tubs So Well and Keeps Its Color So Satisfactorily.

The Lady of Pentlands

Blue Ribbon Fiction

By ELIZABETH JORDAN.

SYNOPSIS.

Valerie Knight has spent the greater part of her life globe trotting with her father. Her mother died when she was a child, and she and her father made only occasional visits to New York. On their last visit to the city Joseph Knight died suddenly, leaving Valerie without a cent.

An old school friend of Valerie's (Anne Sterling) comes to the rescue, pays all Valerie's bills, and takes the girl into her home. After the first sharp pains of her father's death have worn away, Valerie sells the only treasure she owns—a string of pearls—and repays Anne. She tells Anne she must leave her house and try to earn her living. Anne begs her to stay on. In the midst of their discussion Bruce Gordon, an intimate friend of the Sterlings, comes to call and invites the Sterlings and Valerie to spend the week-end at his home—Pentlands. Gordon is a widower with two children—twins—a boy and a girl.

After Gordon leaves Anne tells Valerie he promised his wife on her deathbed he would never marry again. Anne also intimates there is something mysterious about Pentlands, but admits she doesn't know what it is. The morning after their arrival Gordon asks Valerie to marry him, putting his proposal on a business basis. He requests Valerie to defer her decision until the end of her visit. Anne tells Valerie that the children's only other relative, besides their father, Lee Carrington, their mother's sister, is at present living in Paris and is estranged from Bruce.

Genevieve, Gordon's little daughter, disappears while her father and his guests are out riding. She reappears, but gives no explanation of her absence. Valerie accepts Gordon's proposal and a few weeks later marries him. The day after the marriage, Andrew, one of Gordon's servants, is found murdered on the grounds. A day later Genevieve becomes seriously ill.

INSTALLMENT XLV.
LEE CARRINGTON.

"I'm afraid not."

"But—Walters said everything was in her favor."

"Of course it is—with a healthy child like Genevieve."

Valerie was so sorry for him that her throat ached. Moreover, she was inwardly appalled by the responsibility she was taking upon herself. She had decided to let one more night pass before telling him of Genevieve's disappearance and of the peepholes. What if, during that night, something happened which a warning now might avert? Yet, looking at his haggard face her determination hardened. She would add nothing more to the burden he was bearing. She slipped her hand through her husband's arm, and at the light touch he started as if he had been awakened from a sleep.

"Come and have your dinner," she said comfortably; and, though she did not know it, her voice held the cajoling maternal tones in which a woman addresses alike her small son and the man she loves. To B. G. that tone was as familiar as an old lullaby. Countless times he had heard it in Lilian's voice as she spoke to him or to little Bruce. He had not heard it since she died and under it now he felt his eyes smart. Very gently he put his hand over the small hand on his arm.

"You're wonderful, Valerie," he said quietly. "Some day, when this nightmare is over, I'll try to tell you what I think of you."

After dinner, over coffee in the library, he absently threw a new light on his experiences of the day.

"I had an unpleasant session with those fellows this morning," he confessed, sitting very straight in his wing chair and looking at his cigaret with eyes that failed to see it. "They're getting very fussy about that murder. I think they started out with the general notion that I killed Andrew myself and forced the Arab boy to take the responsibility. When they reluctantly abandoned that they were rather inclined to the theory that the Arab was a thug I hired for such jobs. His extreme youth helped to dispel that pipe dream. Finally, by slow stages, they got around to the idea that we have a nest of outlaws hiding here and that they must tear down the place to find it. The workings of rural police minds are amazing," he ended with a sigh.

"There isn't much doubt, though, that there must be a search here, and a thorough one."

"Of course there must be. We've got to find that Arab boy's lair, for one thing, and Genevieve's pet haunt for another. I'm going at it as soon as poor Andrew is off my hands. But I think we can conduct the search without local police help."

"Yes, we can." Valerie hesitated. Words were pressing against her lips, but she held them back. Here was her chance. Should she speak or shouldn't she? While she weighed the question Gordon threw his half smoked cigaret into the fire and rose. The chance was gone.

Valerie set a match to the waiting kindling and logs in her sitting room fireplace, and watched the flames catch and spread. Thoughts came to Anne. How good it would be to have Anne here to talk to now! In the last few days she felt that she understood Anne better than ever before. She seemed to have lived a lifetime since she had parted from Anne. Of Perry, too, she had a better knowledge, and of his point of view. She recalled his disapproval of this marriage, and his reasoning. Perry had seen nothing but unhappiness waiting for his two friends. She had understood why, and her lip had curled scornfully under the knowledge. It did not curl now. Possibly Perry was right. Drooping forward in her favorite easy chair, with an elbow on its broad arm and her chin on a cupped hand, Valerie stared into the red heart of the fire, subconsciously seeing in it some reflection of her own. Yes, there were infinite possibilities of unhappiness in this marriage.

She would have welcomed almost any diversion from her thoughts, even a noise on the other side of the wall, and she hospitably left open the door between her bedroom and sitting room. But through the long hours the only sound that came to her was that of the watchman's footsteps as he paced up and down the corridor.

At one o'clock she changed into a warm wistaria negligee and arranged her hair simply for the night, replacing the heavy Spanish comb she wore with two gold pins. It seemed a girl of eighteen who entered the nursery at two o'clock and softly ordered Gordon to bed.

He rose quickly. "Genevieve is better," he hastened to report in a low tone. "She was restless the first hour or two, and I held her most of the time. But she's been quiet since then, and Miss Atwood thinks she'll sleep the rest of the night. Miss Atwood has been in twice."

Valerie bent over the bed and her heart lightened. It was true that Genevieve seemed better. Her breathing was more even and the flush had left her face. Her relief showed in the warming smile she gave the child's father.

"So now you can go to sleep with a mind at rest," she pointed out. "The watchman is over in the other hall. As I came upstairs I met McAllister just leaving, and when I reached the nursery door Ross rose from the shadows like a Jack-in-the-box. We shall be quite all right. Forget us."

He was looking at her, and his eyes held a new expression.

"You're wonderful in that thing," he said.

She met his glance and felt her breath catch. When she spoke again the warmth was gone from her voice.

"Good night. Try to sleep. You know you have a hard day coming."

She had despised herself for that little catch in her breath. She despised herself more when she saw the quick change in his expression, the look of surprise, followed by one of understanding and acceptance.

"Thank you," he said quietly, and his voice, like her own, hardened a little. "I'll slip away, then." He nodded toward one of the books on the low table. "You'll find that rather interesting, if you havn't read it."

The door closed behind him. With its soft click came the sudden sense of loss and loneliness which his departure earlier in the day had brought to her. She settled down in the big chair, the lines of her beautiful mouth straight and hard. So that was it! She might as well admit the truth to herself. She would never admit it to any one else. Having admitted it, having faced it fairly and squarely, she would end this nonsense. She would not tolerate another thought of it.

With teeth set tight and self-contempt scouring her with merciless lashes, she picked up the book he had recommended. But—he had recommended it. The book itself was still warm from the touch of his hands. His eyes had rested on those pages only a few moments before. What had he thought of this passage, and of this?

She laid down the book. Not from such an aid could she gain forgetfulness of him. She seized another—any book would do—opened it and held it before her. The printed page was meaningless. She laid it down, and, rising, walked over to the bed and bent above Genevieve, pulling the covers around her more closely and smoothing them with a tender hand. This was his sick child and he had entrusted it to her care. There was comfort in that. Possibly the difficult life that lay before her would hold more of such comfort, for surely she could be of real use to his children.

She returned to the chair, dropped into it and leaned forward, staring at the floor. How could she endure this endless night? If only there was something to do! But there was nothing to do but be quiet—and think. Her hand moved toward the table. She would try another book. But just above the volume her thought had selected the hand stopped short, and remained suspended there. She had heard a sound—a slight sound, like the rustle of soft garments, and something about it made her heartbeats quicken.

She turned her head. Behind her, leaning against one of the dark wooden panels that flanked the fireplace, a woman was standing. She was young, blue eyed, and fair haired, and she wore a flowing Madonna blue negligee. For an instant the observer's breath stopped. What she was looking at might almost have been the incarnation of the portrait of Lilian, stepped down from its frame. But the painted figure, Valerie took in with a wild glance, was still within the frame, and its beautiful face was serene and smiling, whereas the living face into which Valerie now looked again was almost distraught. The woman was breathing quickly, as if she had been running. She held her hands against her breast, and as she faced the girl in the chair the expression that flamed in her eyes was one of desperate entreaty.

"Don't be afraid," she whispered.

"Who are you? Where did you come from?"

The visitor swiftly crossed to Genevieve's bed, and dropping on her knees beside it hung over the child with inarticulate murmurs. The mistress of Pentlands followed her and caught the shoulder in a firm grasp. The shoulder was thin but reassuringly human.

"Don't make a sound," she ordered.

The newcomer shook her head. She seemed unconscious of the hand on her shoulder, almost unconscious of the presence by her side. Her whole attention was centered on the child.

"Will she die?" she whispered, without moving; and her face twisted under the strain of the question.

"No, she's very ill, but we think she's getting better."

"You're sure of that—you're perfectly sure?"

"She seems better."

Valerie's hand tightened on the thin shoulder.

"You can't stay here."

The newcomer turned now and looked up at her.

"Why can't I?" she asked, dully.

"You have no right here."

'The Acquittal' Seems Rather Hard to Rate

May Be Good or Awfully Bad—for You to Say.

"THE ACQUITTAL."

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

"The Acquittal" might be described as one of those let's-play-tag pictures. You say to the person next to you [provided you are acquainted with him or her]:

"Who do you think's the moiderer?" To which he—or she—replies confidently:

"O, HE [or SHE] is IT!" Then immediately the counter question is hurled at you—

"Who do YOU?" Then you say "Tag," or words to that effect.

After that it's a merry game with author and director, both of whom are in the secret and are supposed to keep you out as long as is humanly possible.

It may be said of this photoplay that the suspense holds out considerably longer than does your interest in the outcome, which, when it does arrive, is pretty tame. A case of getting all het up—then—BLA—then "The End."

The story is from the pen of Rita Weiman and I think liberties have been taken with the original in order to make six reels. Certainly considerable time is taken up with assininites. The trial scenes, though, are good in the main.

That you may not be too distraught by the awful tragedy you are introduced to such good humorous old court characters as the expectorating bailiff, the snoring gentleman who when rudely nudged by the hand of authority applauds loudly, his first awakening impression being that he's just missed something good at a show; the coy scrublady witness who thinks the district attorney's "just gr-r-and," etc.

Charles Wellsley as the murderee acts as well as those in charge of the performance will permit him. All suspects appear guileless as lambs. Those in no may minutely connected with the murder are mysterious and shifty-eyed.

Charles Clary is a dignified and impressive attorney for the defense. Emmett Clary, as clergyman at the fatal wedding, is also dignified and impressive. The district attorney, as impersonated by Harry Mestayer, is catty and right on the job with his "I ooject's." He'd make a good divorce lawyer.

Miss Windsor, as a trusting wife and Miss Bedford as a pretty secretary, pin your faith to 'em at the start but by the time the picture is well under way give you the impression that their sanity is gradually giving way under the strain. This impression is aided and abetted by the sudden and totally unexplained appearance for a scene or two of a young woman in the habiliments of a trained nurse. You say:

"What's the trained nurse doing here?" And there isn't any answer.

I'll tell you how it is—better see "The Acquittal" and judge it for yourselves if you're a courtroom hound. It looked kind of foolish to me—but it MAY be the cat's tails!

See you tomorrow!

CLOSEUPS

Eugene O'Brien, we hear, is now wearing sideburns after the 1865 English design. He is to be Miss Talmadge's leading man. "Secrets" will be the picture which will bring the two together again on the screen.

Mrs. Ben Turpin is just about well again and she and cross-eyed husband expect to leave Hot Springs, Ark., about Nov. 10. After a visit to relatives in Michigan the twain will return to Los Angeles.

Andree Lafayette, who came over here from Paris to play in "Trilby," is now on the first lap of her journey home. She will appear in a French feature—named so far undivulged.

Chief Brightness of Lohengrin Provided by Mme. de Cisneros

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Eleanora de Cisneros' appearance as Ortrud, Robert Hutt's as Lohengrin, and what the publicity department said about Conductor Ernst Knoch were the most interesting items in an otherwise placid and uneventful performance of "Lohengrin" by the Wagnerians at the Great Northern last night.

A note followed this reporter to his desk to the effect that Mr. Knoch had accomplished a miracle; that some one had blundered in placing a score of "Tristan" instead of "Lohengrin" on the conductor's stand, and that Mr. Knoch did not notice the error until after he had started the orchestra and it was too late to turn back.

There was a reminiscence of former days when Mme. de Cisneros took up the music and action of Ortrud, for she, an American mezzo-soprano of ability and distinction, used to belong to the Chicago Opera. She retains the fine qualities that made her notable in the former days. Few artists ever move about the stage with the dignity that is second nature to her, and the malignant witchcraft of which Ortrud is a symbol colored her excellent voice in its every utterance.

Ethel Frank, known here only by a song recital given about a year ago, was the Elsa. She was a bit premature in venturing upon so large a rôle by the side of the tested veterans of the company. Neither in voice nor characterization did the part become as definite as it should be.

There ought to be a pleasant time at the Great Northern tonight, for Johann Strauss' operetta, "Die Fledermaus," is billed.

Dorothy Greathouse, coloratura soprano, gave a song recital at Lyon & Healy hall last night. Brilliant vocal display was on exhibition in a long list of songs, generally safely and accurately executed, though in a tone at times too great for the dimensions of the hall.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question J. H. Schmedes, 1113 South Chicago avenue, Freeport, Ill., was awarded $5.

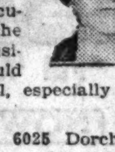
The Question.

Do the comic sections have any bearing on your choice of a newspaper?

Where Asked.

State, at Randolph street.

The Answers.

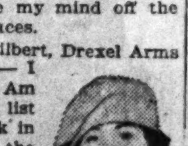


Mrs. Inez Schultz, 35 South Dearborn street, president State Humane association—No, because I don't especially care for them. Their portrayal of the perfectly ridiculous gives relief to the constant strain of business; but they could be made educational, especially with regard to obedience.

J. L. McCormick, 6025 Dorchester avenue, advertising—I don't look at a comic once a month. Just to pass the time, I'll read Andy Gump occasionally, but in general my choice of a paper is not influenced by comics at all.

Mrs. James Korecky, 2840 South Spaulding avenue, housewife—It does. The first thing I turn to is the comics. You know I think Wicker is going to cut Walt out. Walt is getting jealous. Mrs. Blossom—well, we don't know what she's thinking, and I'm anxious to see how it turns out.

A. C. Edmunds, 1319 South Michigan avenue, salesman—They influence me because I like to have something amusing, something refreshing along with the news, the holdups, the murders — something to take my mind off the everyday commonlaces.



Miss Dorothy Guilbert, Drexel Arms hotel, proofreader — I should say it does. Am I not sending in a list of ideas every week in hopes of winning the grand prize? What Walts doing, and Smitty. Andy's mouth's always open, but I want Min to have some new clothes and a car.

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.

Now, for your entertainment and approval, comes Miss Mary Nash, enacting with much tremolo certain calamitous experiences at the Adelphi. Mr. A. H. Woods has supplied her with an extremely weepy melodrama, vaguely to be described as a sort of cross between "Madame X" and "The Varying Shore," and in it she has a perfectly terrible time.

She loses first a husband and then a son—the latter in circumstances which impel her to screams and frenzy as abandoned as any you are likely to encounter on the current stage, as well as to a bit of the violently forthright language so much in favor in the drama of the moment. She faints, in one act, with hunger and the weakness of impending childbirth; goes forth, in another, in the drab garments of dire poverty; becomes a little mad through sorrow, peddles flowers pitifully in one of those dim London byways, babbles of her lost boy, and, in an epilogue, finds him only to lose him again.

It is a lusty exercise in woe, generously though not too skillfully relieved with a background of comedy which, being in the hands of some capable actors, threatens at times to overshadow the tragic affairs of its central figure. In a word, it is a good, old-time, thumping melodrama, playing alternately for a laugh and a tear and getting 'em both.

The comedic element is at its best in the earlier stages of the play—first in a noisy bar at Havre, full of roisterers whose French is rather shocking to those who understand it; then in a frowzy dressing room in a London theater, peopled with various persons of amusing Cockney proclivities.

The bar scene is a prologue, with Miss Nash presiding as keeper of the place, gray haired and enframed in a little white shawl. When the theater arrives, she has gone twenty years into the past, and is the singer, Polly Pearl, much adored by various gentlemen and men not so gentle, and secretly married, as the action begins, to an admirer of much presumptive wealth.

The promise of wealth quickly disappears as a stern parent casts the bridegroom forth upon the world. Comes Monte Carlo gambling, philandering, and disillusionment. Polly sends her spouse back to his father, makes her way to Marseilles, stumbles, starving, into a brothel, gives birth there to her child, and takes to entertaining the inmates in payment for the care she has received. Here presently appears the stern parent aforesaid, with papers, demanding his grandson. Polly, in desperation, entrusts the boy to a compassionate friend. And through the rest of the years and the rest of the play she wanders forlornly, hoping that she will find her son and find him a gentleman.

The matter of the brothel is a rather breath-taking interlude, with a frank incident or two calculated to implant an agreeable shock in the beholders. There is vivid acting here, too. But the most vivid surprise of the performance occurs elsewhere—a brittle characterization of a comic, gabby woman of the theater by Miss Elizabeth Risdon, whom you will remember strangely as the tragic heroine of such pieces as "The Nightcap" and "The Green Goddess." Miss Risdon, I thought, was gorgeous.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Make It Jaunty.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The old saw about clothes making the man may be true, but the reciprocity between man and clothes is just as true. A man [illegible] got to go half way and wear his clothes with some degree of smartness. A smart hat may look like any old hat on one man, and being worn with a certain tilt on the head of another man achieve a degree of style which one would not suspect from the way it looked on wearer number one. Give your clothes the benefit of the doubt every time.

This is as true of bow ties as of hats. Some men wear bow ties as though they were so much rope, for the sole purpose of providing something to go around the neck. A bow tie should have about it the spirit of jauntiness and smartness. Otherwise one might as well wear a four in hand. A bow tie that lies flat against the collar, merely tied into a bow, says nothing. When you tie your bow, pull the ends and the wings forward, make them stand out. Make them look more like the butterfly that some of the present day bow ties were named after. This is more easily done with the bows of lighter material, such as foulard, than with the heavier ribbed and moired silks. But these others can at least be cocked slightly to one side, perhaps, or given some little touch that will make them mean something.

Fashionotes.

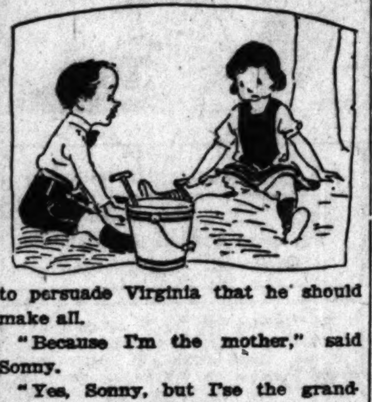
Bright Sayings of the Children

Sonny and his sister, Virginia, were playing with mud pies. Both children wanted to make them, but Sonny tried to persuade Virginia that he should make all.



"Because I'm the mother," said Sonny.

"Yes, Sonny, but I'se the grandmother," was Virginia's reply. H. B.

We had been visiting two days at a home where finger marks on the mahogany furniture gave our hostess fits and the bang of a screen door produced instant nerve strain. I had spent most of my time directing every movement Robert made.

When we got home we had barely stepped inside when Robert let out a loud whoop and said: "Whee, I feel so unloosened." M. C. R.

Bobby's little chum owns a pony.

The other day the two boys started for a drive, but the pony, feeling rather lazy, didn't start off briskly.

"Gee," commented Bobby, disgustedly, "this pony's sure got a bum accelerator!" E. C. B.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Two Fell To.

Mine happened in France. There were two of us lieutenants at mess; the rest were captains and majors. Several French women helped in the kitchen, and they gained a reputation for the variety and excellence of their soups.

One rainy day my friend and I were a little early, and as we seated ourselves, the waitress placed before us two bowls of thick soup. Commenting on its fitness for such weather and its inviting appearance, we fell to.

The remainder of the dinner was placed on the table, and meanwhile other of the officers had come in and were waiting for their soup. The waitress was sent to the kitchen, but came back without soup. She was then given the bowls as proof that there was soup, and asked to try again. This time she came back, but with her was the mess officer.

He strode straight at us, and in loud tones to attract the attention of all, said, "You shavetails ate the gravy." H. R.

More Forceful Than Words.

I am not at all slender, and when my friends remonstrated with me about my weight I would tell them it was no one's affair but my own, and I kept on eating as much and as often as I pleased.

But one day last week I got on a street car—one of those with seats along the side facing each other. There was no seat for me, so I stood hanging on a strap.

Finally a slender youth of about 15 slipped out of his seat and said "Have my seat, madam."

I looked at it and saw that I couldn't get half of me in the space he had left, so with a red face and grasping wildly at my packages and the hanging strap I said "Thank you; I don't care to sit down."

Everyone smiled, and the thin girls laughed right out loud. I resolved then and there to diet if I starved to death. E. S. B.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Men Who Like to Cook.

Half the letters I have received of late, it seems to me, have been from men, and they have been interesting and vital letters, too. The following is from a letter from a baker in which he first discusses a stew and then seems to me to me to say something rather vital on this matter of masculine cookery.

In reference to the stew, he says: "I used to serve it as a soft stew bordering almost on a soup, but have learned that by using no water and starting it over a slow fire I bring out the juices of the meat and onion and still have sufficient liquid when the stew is done."

And here is the general part of the letter: "I have four brothers—all of whom have served their time in the bakery—and it was in the shop where we got our experience in cooking. We had no stove, but always from 400 to 525 degrees in the modern bake oven chamber, so the most suitable vessel to cook in was the iron pot or Dutch oven. We cooked everything from soup to puddings in it. The tight fitting cover kept the steam with the juices from escaping, so there was little boiling down of foods.

"I find quite a few men who like to cook and who can cook and then at times find some who cannot even light a fire. I take great pleasure in examining the Boy Scouts when they are ready to take the cooking test.

"It is remarkable how these little chaps take to it—and some larger ones, too. I am a firm believer in teaching boys something about cooking, for in later years they will find many opportunities to help either their mothers or wives. I have found it so and have derived much pleasure therefrom."

And yet some women drive husbands from the kitchen.

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

White Elephant Tea Party Today to Have Two Receiving Lines

There will be two receiving lines at the White Elephant tea party to be given this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock at the Casino, one to greet the guests and the other to receive the "white elephants." Mrs. John A. Spoor, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, Miss Martha Wilson, Mrs. William P. Martin, and Mrs. Oscar W. Johnson will be in the former and Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. Augustus S. Peabody, Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, Mrs. George H. Taylor, and Mrs. Charles K. Foster in the latter. The "white elephants" will be sold at the Rummage shop, 27 East Ohio street, for the benefit of the Children's Memorial hospital.

Mrs. E. S. Adams will talk on "Airships and Airplanes," and Miss Julie E. Adams' subject will be "Conflicting Interests in the Mediterranean" at the meeting of the Evanston Class in Current Events, in the sun parlor of the North Shore hotel, this morning. Mrs. Frank H. Connor of 5645 Woodlawn avenue, will open her residence to the south side class tomorrow morning. The topics for discussion will be "Japan and the Far East" and "Airships and Airplanes."

Several junior members of the Opera club are having parties at the dinner dance tonight, including Miss Ruth Channon, co-chairman with Miss Katharine Prest of the juniors, Miss Elaine L. McCarthy, who will entertain for Miss Kathryne Green, and Julian P. Burlingham, who will be married Saturday; Miss Elizabeth Morse, Miss Elizabeth Van Hagen, and Miss Hester Sheldon. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Thompson will give a supper party at the club for Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Barrymore.

Dr. and Mrs. Leo Brady of Baltimore are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Nov. 1. Mrs. Brady was formerly Miss Lucy Jewett of Chicago.

Mrs. Arnold Krebs of Nyon, Switzerland, who has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Burry Jr. (Eleanor Newell), in Lake Forest, moved yesterday to the Onwentsia club for a ten days' stay. Her other daughter, Miss Nancy Newell, joined her in Lake Forest yesterday and is with her at the club. They will come in town for a stay of several weeks when they leave the Onwentsia.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany Blake have moved back to their apartment at 25 East Walton place after having spent the summer in Lake Forest.

Mrs. Arthur Ryerson of 2700 Lake View avenue, will return from her country residence near Cooperstown, N. Y., about Nov. 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Pope of Lake Forest, have taken an apartment at 25 East Walton place for the winter.

Mrs. George Halleck Taylor of 59 East Division street, has arrived at home from a three months' stay in the east.

Mrs. John D. Kales of 1356 North State street, has returned from the east, having left her daughter, Katharine, at Rosemary hall, Greenwich, Conn.

Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank and Miss Janet Fairbank of 1244 North State street are sailing today for New York and will come directly to Chicago upon their landing. Miss Fairbank is to make her debut on Dec. 15.

Miss Florence Lowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden of the Drake, left on Monday for New York, where she will sail in a day or two for Italy to spend the winter.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Furniture to Give.

"I have a settee, a bed, a rocker, and a large upholstered chair to give to some one who is in need of these things and who can call for them.

"MRS. B. M."

Any one of these useful articles will certainly help to furnish some home that lacks necessities.

Ease Her Burden.

"My husband is an ex-soldier and in the hospital here with tuberculosis of the throat and lungs. We have a 15 month old baby. I have no way of getting out to work, so would appreciate it so much if some one could send us discarded clothes. My size is 44 or 46.

MRS. C. McC."

Help in the form of clothing would certainly lighten this mother's burden. Her address can be had upon request.

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED

BY DORIS BLAKE.

In a foreword to a pamphlet entitled "How to Own Your Home; a Handbook for Prospective Home Owners," recently published by the United States department of commerce, Secretary of Commerce Hoover says that maintaining a high percentage of individual home owners is "one of the searching tests that now challenge the people of the United States; that the present large proportion of families that own their homes is both the foundation of a sound economic and social system and a guaranty that our society will continue to develop rationally as changing conditions demand.

"A family that owns its home," says Mr. Hoover, "takes a pride in it, maintains it better, gets more pleasure out of it, and has a more wholesome, healthful, and happy atmosphere in which to bring up children. The home owner has a constructive aim in life. He works harder outside his home; he spends his leisure more profitably; he and his family lead a finer life and enjoy more of the comforts and cultivating influences of our modern civilization.

"A husband and wife who own their home are more apt to save. They have an interest in the advancement of a social system that permits the individual to store up the fruits of his labor. As direct taxpayers they take a more active part in local government.

"Above all, the love of home is one of the finest instincts and the greatest of inspirations of our people."

The pamphlet, written by John M. Gries and James S. Taylor of the division of building and housing of the bureau of standards, presents the most practical advice and information on how to own a home.

The real problem, they point out, is in getting a satisfactory home which will not absorb too much of the family's income, nor be below its general living standards. Buying beyond one's ability to pay may result in the loss of the home or in a most discouraging struggle. Possession of 20 per cent of the value of house and lot in cash is desirable. Borrowing cash on life insurance policies is improvident, since it deprives the borrower's family of its full protection.

The pamphlet urges the home buyer not to forget he is purchasing what will be the center of his family life for years. His children will be reared in its surroundings; his wife will do most of her work there, and he and she will spend most of their leisure time in it.

It also points out that the average homeseeker takes a decisive step which will commit him to pay a large part of his income for ten or fifteen years and will probably determine the neighborhood in which his children will be reared. To avoid worry about overdue payments, poor construction, or an unpleasant neighborhood, it advises the decision being based on adequate information and consideration, else the pleasures and advantages of owning a home may be lost.

A family which has saved enough to make a first payment—a small payment and monthly installments like rent—and has paid its rent regularly when due has given good evidence of its ability to pay for and own a home.

The authors encourage building and loan associations as the most excellent form of financing a home. Aside from the money end, they point out that the officers of the associations are generally able to give good advice and frequently save home buyers from unwise purchases.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

That Isn't Fair.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 18 and my people are strict. They will not let me out unless I take my little sister with me. Will you please tell me what to do? MOLLIE."

Tell your mother for me, Mollie, that that is not fair, and that I say if you do not make boy friends now and learn to be easy and graceful and companionable with them at your age, later it will be less easy for you to meet and interest men. And tell her, too, that if she didn't have a beau when she was young she wished she had one, and she would not have liked to drag along a little "pitcher with long ears."

GOOP DIALOGUES

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

CAREFULNESS

When you are carrying things, go slow!
Don't watch your hands, watch where you go.

Not watch my hands?

No, watch the floor,
The chairs, the table, and the door.
The Goops run into things and stumble,

That's why they spill things, when they tumble.

"Champion Sunday School Teacher" Coming to Chicago

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

The Rev. Daniel J. Evans, whose Bible class in Kansas City numbered last Sunday 17,883, and who expects 25,000 next Sunday, is coming to Chicago to tell how it was done.

He will be one of the principal speakers at the Baptist Bible and missionary conference at Immanuel Baptist church, 23d street and South Michigan avenue, from next Wednesday to Friday, inclusive. Frank Jennings, conference secretary, is working for an attendance here of 4,000 registered delegates.

"The phenomenal record of Dr. Evans' Bible class in Kansas City," said Mr. Jennings, "is owing in part to a contest going on between the First Baptist church of Kansas City and the Baptist church at Long Beach, Cal. Next Sunday amplifiers of sound will be used in the hall and in an open park adjoining, so the 25,000 can hear the program. There will be a band of 500 and a men's chorus of 1,000 voices. It is believed to be the largest Bible class in the world."

"ISN'T THAT PERFECTLY DISGUSTING?"

Answer at bottom of this page.

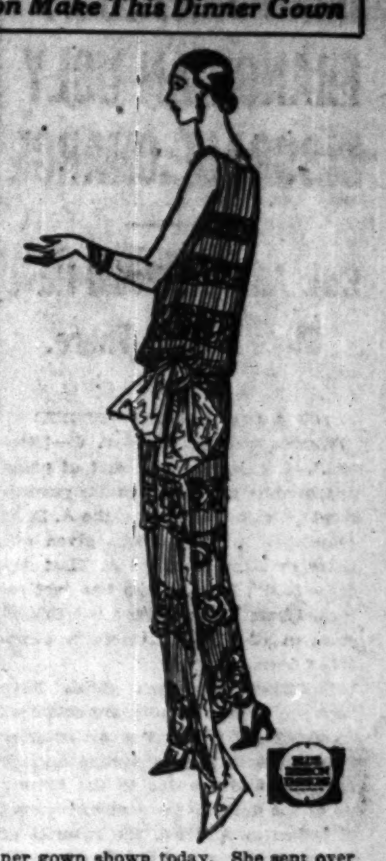
BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

HELEN: FOR REDUCING ankles here is one good exercise which you can repeat morning, noon, and night as many times on each occasion as you can do without overtiring. Suspend a pillow in the doorway high enough to insure a good stretch on the leg muscles when you kick. Stand back a couple of feet, hands on hips, then aim first the right foot five times and then the left five times at the suspended pillow. Adjust the suspended pillow as you progress and can kick higher.

Black Lace, Plaited Chiffon Make This Dinner Gown

by Mary O'Connor Newell



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Something simple to slip in for dinner begins to mean just that, and perhaps only a dance step further. As clothes take on a more rigid definition, in which simplicity of cut is the thinnest veneer, so to speak, over the utmost sumptuousness of fabric and splendor of coloring, the little dinner frock finds itself unable to pass beyond certain boundaries, as it has been doing heretofore, without being held up by Dame Fashion's asking to know how she got in. Full evening dress is now demanded for formal evening affairs.

Still, dinner frocks were never prettier or more ingeniously contrived. Lace is particularly favored, in ecru and black especially, with vari-colored touches of trimming.

Barthé designed the black lace dinner gown shown today. She sent over another which also has been widely copied, illustrating the three flounce treatment, held with huge loops of taffeta ribbon. Here lace is combined with plaited chiffon, in a straightline frock, and attention is centered on the decorating done in wide rose moire ribbon. A girdle of the ribbon shows under the blouse, and there are great loops with a sash end that also serves as panel finish for the open side of the skirt.

FALLING HAIR

DANDRUFF, itching scalp and falling hair are signs of an unhealthy scalp. Sergeant's Mange Medicine makes the scalp healthy. Then it will grow healthy, luxuriant hair. Sergeant's is a real scalp medicine—standard for 50 years. Nothing else approaches Sergeant's for actual results. Its sulphur, crude pine and other natural oils kill dandruff germs and fertilize the hair roots, stop falling hair and cause the hair to grow thick and fast all over the head. Results are almost immediate. Barbers apply Sergeant's. A large bottle is only 65 cents at drug stores and toilet counters.

HERO GRAVES IN FRANCE AN UGLY DISGRACE, CHARGE

Rep. Andrew Would Have More Beauty There.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—A stinging indictment of plans approved by the United States government for embellishment of the A. E. F. cemeteries in Europe was given out today by Representative A. Piatt Andrew [Rep., Mass.], who has just returned from France after a month's inspection of the six American cemeteries there.

Disturbed conditions which have been the subject of indignant comment by visitors at the graves this summer is transitional, Representative Andrew explains, and are due to the tearing up of the grounds incident to removal of bodies to America, the reburial of those remaining, and the abandonment of temporary landscape gardening upon adoption of a permanent arrangement of the cemeteries.

"U. S. Fails of Its Trust."

These arrangements, however, are denounced by Representative Andrew as falling "disgracefully short" of the opportunities and requirements in connection with the trust laid upon this government to guard and cherish its dead.

"Our government, however, not only has not fulfilled this trust; it has not even made plans for doing so," said Representative Andrew.

"Even the walls to separate the cemeteries from public highways are not to be extended around the other three sides of the inclosure, the boundaries of which are to be marked by a mesh wire fence, like the false facades of country stores.

Attacks Lack of Monument.

"No general monument with sculptured text of dedication is contemplate. A plain iron water tower will be the only work of art in any of our cemeteries. It will be the sole architectural or sculptural symbol of the nation's remembrance of its heroes.

"In none of the cemeteries has any provision been made for a place of worship or of meditation. A mother who has traveled far and crossed the ocean to visit, perhaps for the only time in her life, the tomb of her son, will be able to find shelter only in the caretaker's parlor or the visitors' dormitory."

ASKS ARGENTINA TO DROP LAW ON MINIMUM PRICE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 6.—The second of three commissioners representing live stock raisers' interests on the advisory commission constituted under the minimum price law to confer with the minister of agriculture regarding the fixing of prices has resigned. The third member has addressed a long note to the minister requesting that the law be suspended for six months so the packing business can be resumed.

The shorthorn breeders' association, representing practically all the shorthorn raisers in the country, has unanimously requested the suspension of the law.

The minister of agriculture daily receives from twenty to thirty similar requests from breeders throughout the republic. An important ministerial decision is expected at any moment.

VISIT ELECTRICAL WORKS.

UNIONS MENACE MELBOURNE WITH GENERAL STRIKE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MELBOURNE, Nov. 6.—The city was comparatively quiet today, following recent rioting during the strike of Melbourne police. The special constables organized by Gen. Monash are proving effective. The unions are threatening a general strike, and railway men, street car employés, and wharf laborers already have promised to support the striking police.

The employés of insane asylums are threatening to leave their posts and to permit the patients to mix with the community.

The government is introducing special legislation providing heavy penalties for threats, violence, intimidation or interference with special police.

NO NEED TO BE DYSPEPTIC

If Stomach Sours, Gets Gassy and Heavy, Sweeten and Lighten with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

One never grows too old to forget the delights of eating. And yet old people will sometimes play on these memories and bring on dyspeptic attacks even though the diet be simple. Every family should be supplied with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. From childhood to old age they daily overcome or prevent the distresses due to indigestion. They sweeten the stomach by giving it the alkaline effect as in health, they absorb the gases, they lift off the feeling of heaviness, they stop sour risings or heart burn, they actually assist in the digestion of food, and from all points of view are one of the most invaluable aids to health to be found. So, no matter what you eat, if your stomach rebels, always remember that a 60-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will keep your stomach sweet and thus aid to prevent much of the distress that comes late in life.

F. A. STUART CO., Marshall, Mich.

Two birds with one stone

PERHAPS sometime, somewhere, somebody has killed two birds with one stone. If anybody, anywhere, at any time ever killed two birds with one stone he accomplished this feat because he was lucky—not because he was clever or scientific. If anybody ever planned and attempted to kill two birds with one stone we venture the guess that one bird survived.

To kill two birds requires two stones—perhaps more—not less. To kill two birds, one stone must be directed at each.

Likewise to reach both groups in the Boston market at least two mediums must be used. In the Boston market are two great groups of population served by two groups of great newspapers. To reach one group of people an advertiser is offered a choice of newspapers designed and published to serve that group. The other group, constituting the most responsive and most profitable segment of the Boston market, is served by and can be reached through the columns of the Herald-Traveler.

Selecting one paper to reach the two groups leaves one group entirely untouched. The advertiser who seeks to reach both of Boston's two groups of population must employ two channels through which to send his message.

While Boston as a market is a unit, it is a divided unit. The advertiser who seeks to cover Boston by the use of one paper is as unwise and unscientific as the man who, relying on luck, attempts to kill two birds with one stone.

The proposition of covering Boston is a problem that concerns itself not only with the number of papers to be used but with the ability of the combination selected to cover both sections of the market. This is the subject of our booklet entitled, "The Road to Boston." Requests for this booklet will be promptly acknowledged if received on business stationery.

MEASURE STARS' HEAT THROUGH GIANT TELESCOPE

That of Sirius and Vega Found to Differ.

BY SELBY MAXWELL.

Dr. C. G. Abbot, the world's foremost authority on stars and suns and assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, announces that an unparalleled astronomical discovery has been made with the new 100 inch telescope at Mount Wilson, California.

This glass, which is the biggest in the world, collects so much light that it is possible to measure the heat of the stars through it. Dr. Abbot has found that the heat of different stars is totally different, although their lights and chemical natures may be the same. His discovery upsets all previous notions that astronomers have held concerning the nature of the stars.

Using a radiometer, which looks like the little sun vanes that whirl in opticians' windows, but which can measure one ten-millionth of a degree of heat, Dr. Abbot examined the heat of ten of the brightest stars in the sky.

Vega Hotter Than Sirius.

When he came to Sirius, the brightest of all, and Vega, the brightest star in the northern sky, he found that their heats were different, although their lights were the same. Both are blue white stars, whose outer atmospheres are made chiefly of glowing hydrogen gas. Both were supposed to be about twice as hot as the sun. But, to the surprise of every one, Sirius turned out to be almost a duplicate of the sun, while Vega glows hottest, with ultra-violet light.

Rigel, another blue white star, situated at the foot of Orion, also is remarkable. It shines as though it were two stars, one like the sun and one as ultra-violet as Vega. Yet this star has never shown any traces of being double or of having a nearby companion whose light might mingle with it. It is possible that here astronomers are seeing a star just in the process of splitting in two, an event often surmised but never yet witnessed.

Build Finer Radiometer.

Dr. Abbot says that the radiometer now being built for next year's work will be fine enough to detect a billionth of a degree of heat.

This is the second revolutionary discovery that has been made with the 100 inch telescope. The diameters of some of the biggest stars, such as Betelgeux, Antares, and Arcturus, were recently measured with it, by means of the Michelson interferometer. The telescope has only been in operation since 1920.

SEEK DOORSTEP BABY'S KIN.

Police are seeking the mother of a baby boy who was found in a basket in the hallway of a building at 2040 North Kedzie avenue by Miss Adeline Sendt, a tenant.

Heat Secret Learned

RIVALRY AMONG UNCLE SAM'S HENS BECOMING KEEN

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 6.—Purdue's Champion, a lively White Leghorn hen in the Purdue university flock, was today proclaimed the champion long distance layer of the world, when her egg production was found to total 1,243 over a seven year period, an average of 177.5 per year.

The hen was hatched in an incubator.

And Now Comes Peggy.

Amherst, Mass., Nov. 6.—Peggy Bay State doesn't stop laying eggs just because winter has come. She keeps right on with such success that the Massachusetts agricultural experiment station announced today that she had hung up a new record for hens of the Rhode Island Red breed, with an official production of 302 eggs in her first year. Peggy is the product of ten years of breeding.

Eyestrain Costs Money

ACCURATE productive capacity largely depends upon good vision, which, in turn, depends upon proper lighting. Glaring or misplaced lights hurt the eyes.

Eyes behave better and last longer when working with a light that suits them. Daylight is best because Nature made it correct in quality and diffusion. That is why every Emeralite is fitted with a special screen which changes ordinary electric light into soft, eye-saving daylite.

Better light means Better Eyes, also Better Work.

When you Emeralite your office, you have the best eye insurance, promote the efficiency and comfort of your staff, reduce maintenance cost by standardizing equipment, and enjoy the satisfaction that invariably follows any investment of merit. Emeralite is also ideal for home use.

The Emerald glass shade, tilted by a touch of the hand, reflects a flood of soft daylite just where it is needed, does not tarnish or collect dust, and having no perforations, gives enduring service.

Genuine Emeralites are branded and have the Daylite Screen. Look for trade mark. It is your guarantee of satisfaction.

FAIL TO SELECT DATE AND CITY FOR CUE PLAYOFF

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The time and place of the playoff of the tie between Willie Hoppe, the champion, and Welker Cochran of Los Angeles in the world's 18-2 balkline tournament, which came to an end last night after a sensational victory by Hoppe over young Jake Schaefer, still remained up in the air tonight, due to the inability of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, which arranged the championship, to obtain a hall.

Despite the information that was spread unofficially that Chicago would get the playoff, nothing definite has been decided, and there is still a possibility that it may be staged in this city.

At Mercy of Hotel Men.

According to Thomas A. Dwyer, secretary-treasurer of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, the best date that can be obtained in New York is Dec. 18 at the Hotel Astor.

The grand ballroom of the Hotel Pennsylvania, in which the tournament was held, cannot be obtained for three successive days, and as the playoff will be decided in three blocks, it must be held elsewhere.

"We are at the mercy of the hotel men," Mr. Dwyer said. "We have to take the dates they offer."

Still a Chance for Chicago.

Efforts are being made by the company to find accommodation in Chicago. So far no hall has been secured, but if a better date can be obtained with satisfactory arrangements, Hoppe and Cochran will play for the title in the western city.

NATALIE VICTOR OVER MATURO IN 2 POCKET GAMES

Gary, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Pasquale Natalie, Gary's player in the national pocket billiards championship tourney, captured two matches today from James Maturo of Brooklyn, 100 to 56 and 100 to 29. Natalie clicked off high runs of 25 and 21. Maturo ran a 21 in the first game, but in the second could do no better than a 6.

Keogh Wins and Loses.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—An even division resulted in today's two pocket billiard league events here between Jerome Keogh, local representative, and Charles Weston of Lorain, O., the Rochester player taking the first, 100 to 66, in forty innings, with a high run of 24 to Weston's 14. Weston then came back, 100 to 94, in thirty-nine innings, running a 38 to Keogh's 17.

Stoutenburg Runs 48.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Larry Stoutenburg of this city and Erwin Rudolph, New York, broke even in pocket billiard games today, Larry running a neat 48 this afternoon to help win a 100-31 game in twelve innings. Rudolph had a run of 23. Tonight the visitor was victor, 100-84, in eighteen innings, although his run of 29 was surpassed by Stoutenburg's 39.

COCHRAN TO WAIT PLAYOFF IN WEST

New York, Nov. 6.—Welker Cochran, who created a sensation in the billiard world by getting a tie with Willie Hoppe in the international tournament for the 18-2 balk line world's title, which ended yesterday, will go to California on business for three or four weeks before returning to Chicago to meet Hoppe in the playoff. Hoppe will go on an exhibition tour.

JOCKEY GARNER SENDS GIFT HOME

Centerville, Ia., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Iowa has claimed its share of the spoils for In Memoriam's victory over Zev and My Own at the Latonia race track in Kentucky last Saturday.

"Ma" and "Pa" Garner, parents of little Mack Garner, the winning jockey, are the Hawkeyes to profit. A big portion of the $10,000 gift made the rider by Owner Carl Weidemann has been sent by the son to his aged mother as a Christmas gift. The Garners, Mr. and Mrs. T. F., to be exact, reside at 601 Park avenue here.

"I don't begrudge any of Kentucky's claims to my boy, for he was taught to ride and has enjoyed his greatest success there, but Centerville has the right to claim him as a native son," Mrs. Garner said today.

Guy Garner, another famous jockey, now riding in France, is also a son of the local Garners.

N. DAME TO PLAY AT SOUTH BEND

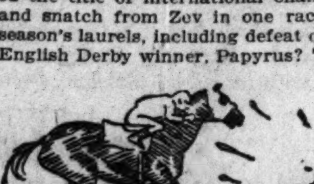
IN the WAKE of the NEWS

ZEV'S DIMMED LUSTER.

IN MEMORIAM was a better horse than Zev and My Own over the one and three-quarters mile route at Latonia Saturday. Zev, in particular, had no excuse to offer, as he acted as pacemaker for the greater part of the route, just as he had done in all his wins. He is at home over a fast or muddy track.

Is In Memoriam, then, to be accorded the title of international champion and snatch from Zev in one race his season's laurels, including defeat of the English Derby winner, Papyrus? Technically, yes. In the minds of most turf followers, no.



In Memoriam's early season form was so far inferior to that of Zev that racing enthusiasts will want another meeting between the pair before conceding supremacy of Saturday's winner. This opportunity for Zev, as well as for My Own, will come in the all age handicaps of next season. Most of these are at the Derby distance of one and one-half miles or less.

The Wake does not belittle the victory of In Memoriam. It was a truly run race, so far as we may judge. Zev has beaten so many good horses, however, that we concede him another chance at his conqueror.

The Face on the Bathroom Floor.

[A true tale.]

In my early youth I was told that Truth
Beat old Fiction every way—
'nd you must admit here's the proof of it
As told by the wife of Ray.

He phoned at 6: "In an awful fix,
Can't stop for my evening meal.
No, you needn't wait, for I may be late,
I'm so busy, just closing a deal."

Well, she went to bed and she slept like lead,
Waking up at the break of dawn.
To the hall she hied and his coat she spied
Near the hook that the coats hang on.

Then she looked around, but no Ray she found
Till she opened the dressing room door,
And, instead of a face on the barroom place,
It was Ray, on the bathroom floor.

Now, I sit and think and my brain cells clink
And my powers of detection are sore,
But they can't reveal what kind of a deal
Landed Ray on the bathroom floor.

Maizie.

Let's Have a Stadium.

Open Letter to Prof. Stagg: May I suggest, in answer to your letter to "Friends of College Football," that the most effective way to combat the growing influence of professional football is to provide more adequate accommodations for the public at intercollegiate games.

The professional game, I believe, draws its main support from those originally interested in college football, but who, for the last few years, have found it increasingly difficult and often impossible to gain admittance to college games. Most fans prefer the college article. They like the air of sportsmanship, the college setting, and acrobatic cheer leaders. But rather than see no games they resort to the only alternative. Can they be blamed?

I heartily agree with your views and sympathize with your desire to keep football a strictly amateur sport. I hope that before many seasons have passed the U. of C. may see its way clear to render substantial support to the ideal of amateurism by providing ample accommodations for the city's football fans. FARM and GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

LEGUMES NOW VIEWED AS GUARDIANS OF SOIL.

SOMEBODY is always digging up more good things to say about legumes—clover and alfalfa, for example. F. C. Bauer, an Illinois crop expert, points to recent investigations which show that the ability of the plants to gather nitrogen from the air is not the only outstanding benefit, for they are able to get phosphorus from sources more or less insoluble.

He says that they contain more than twice as much phosphorus as the nonlegumes. Cultural experiments, he claims, have shown that the legumes can get this phosphorus from the more or less insoluble calcium-phosphates, as rock phosphate, much more readily than the common farm crops can get the phosphorus they need from similar sources.

Since phosphorus, an essential element in plant nutrition, is deficient in many soils and is widely used in fertilizer practice, a better knowledge of the legumes' ability to get phosphorus may prove an incentive for the growing of more legumes.

But he refers to the significant fact that if legumes are entirely removed from the soil where they are grown the growing of them may cnotribute to a more or less rapid impoverishment of soil phosphorus."

SHEA ROLLS 224 IN TRIBUNE MEET

Led by Shea's 224, which took the high game prize, Stereotypers defeated the Composing Room two out of three in The Tribune Bowling league at Bensinger's, Randolph street alleys last night. Auditing took three from the Pressroom, while Circulation and the Engravers treated Advertising and the General team in a like manner. Editorial bested the Overset Club two of three.

High game honors among the women went to Winifred Yeadon of Auditing team No. 2, who spilled 187 pins. She averaged 158. Miss Yeadon's work helped her team to three wins over the General quintet No. 1. Other women's matches resulted as follows:

MAUPOME BEATS LEAN IN TWO CUE CONTESTS

BY JOE DAVIS.

Pierre Maupome added a brace of victories to his string in the National Three Cushion league yesterday, defeating Jess Lean of Cleveland, 50 to 39, in sixty-six innings and taking the night game, 50 to 26, in fifty-five innings.

Maupome took an early lead in the afternoon, but from the tenth to the thirtieth inning scored only 6 points and Lean drew close.

In fifty-three innings Lean led, 36 to 33, and then Maupome, after scoring a 6 and two ciphers, went out with runs of 5, 2, 0, 1, 1, 0, 0, 2. Lean was able to count three singles while Maupome was galloping home. Score at each tenth inning:

LEAN—8 15 20 28 34 37 39. Innings, 66; high run, 3.

MAUPOME — 12 16 13 30 32 46 50. Innings, 66; high run, 6.

Leans Miscues Often.

Lean's game at night was a tragedy. He made three miscues, once played with the wrong ball, once knocked two balls off the table, and ran into about twelve kisses. He was far below the form he displayed when living here a few years ago.

Maupome scored 4 in the second inning and 7 in the fourth. Starting with the thirty-eighth inning, he counted 1, 2, 2, 3, and 4 and led, 44 to 15, but took thirteen innings to make his complement. Lean had some hard leaves, but played better nearing the finish. Score at each tenth inning:

MAUPOME — 12 20 29 37 47 50—Innings, 55; high run, 7.

LEAN — 2 7 12 15 19 26—Innings, 54; high run, 4.

Referee—J. H. Levis.

COPULOS BUMPS WAKEFIELD.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Outscoring his opponent by one point, Gus Copulos of Cleveland won this afternoons' National Three Cushion league match against Harry Wakefield, 50-49, in the sixty-fifth inning, after a performance of steady safety play and fluctuating lead. Each had a high run of 5. Copulos made it two straight for the day by winning, 50-37, in the night match, in the forty-ninth inning. Wakefield again had high run of 5, to Copulos' 4.

Reiselt and Cannefax Split.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Otto Reiselt, Philadelphia, and Bob Cannefax, Detroit, broke even in their three cushion league games here today and remain tied for first place. The afternoon game went to Otto Reiselt by the close score of 50 to 49 in sixty-seven innings. Both players had 4 for high. Cannefax took the evening game, 50 to 43, in sixty-four innings, each having 5 for high run.

SENN SPLASHERS WIN FROM LANE

Senn High school swimmers won a double barreled victory over Lane in the Senn tank yesterday in a practice meet, the seniors winning, 38 to 29, and the juniors squeezing out a victory, 30 to 29.

Capt. Phillips and Peterson were high point men for the winning seniors with two firsts apiece. Phillips won 100 and 220 yard sprints, while Peterson captured the 60 yard back stroke and the 40 yard crawl.

Rickmore of Lane was high among the juniors with a first in the 40 yard back stroke and second in the 40 and 100 yard crawl events.

Hogan, Detroit U. Football Player, Draws Suspension

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—Paul Hogan, star full back and punter of the University of Detroit football team, was indefinitely suspended today for infraction of the training rules and general insubordination to the coaches, Germany Schulz, head coach, announced.

Lane and Tilden Dominate as Prep Season Nears End

BY WALLACE ABBEY.

With the exception of the postponed Hyde Park-Tilden game, to be played Nov. 17, the city high school elevens will complete their schedules Saturday. A champion will be determined in the north section, which will await the unraveling of the south section tangle for a city pennant engagement.

The Tilden-Hyde Park engagement may decide the south section winner, providing Coach Berger's boys down Englewood Saturday. Hyde Park is hopelessly out of it, but Coach Scanlon's warriors may retrieve themselves by handing Tilden its first setback in the postponed game. Lindblom will meet Hyde Park this Saturday.

Lane Nears Section Title.

On the north side Lane appears to be the winner, Austin being the only eleven remaining in its path to the title. The strength of Coach Fausel's eleven was demonstrated last Saturday when they brushed aside Lake View, 26 to 0, to keep its slate clean. Marshall and Parker, both undefeated in B division, will clash in the deciding game Saturday, with Marshall favored to don the championship crown.

Although the Suburban leaguers continue play until Nov. 24, the deciding game in the race probably will be played Saturday, when Evanston and Oak Park mix on the far west side school's field. Proviso held Evanston to a tie last Saturday, and, should Oak Park upset the north siders, the Maywood eleven and Coach Winter's crew will decide the race on Nov. 17. Morton plays Thornton, Bloom meets Waukegan, Deerfield battles New Trier, and La Grange tests Riverside in the other games Saturday.

Catholic Situation Not Acute.

The situation in the Catholic league is not acute, as the schedule does not end until Dec. 1 and St. Ignatius, the present leader in the race, has some trying battles ahead, including the one with Loyola. Four games are carded for Saturday and one for Friday.

CARDINALS LOOK FOR STIFF GAME WITH HAMMOND

Showing great improvement in their last few games and a punch that has beaten some of the best elevens in the National "Pro" Football league, the Hammond (Ind.) club invades White Sox park Sunday prepared to push Paddy Driscoll and the Cardinals down another notch in the title race.

There is just a chance Paddy may not be at his best against the Hoosiers following an injury to his back in the battle with the Canton Bulldogs last Sunday. Card fans are hopeful he will be in the fighting front of the south siders, for he has been improving nicely lately.

The bulk of the Hammond strength in earlier games has been in a pair of brilliant ends, Hanke, formerly of Minnesota, and "Ink" Williams, a Brown star of other days. Hess, the former Indiana U. quarter back, will be another of the invaders' headliners, likewise Usher, the giant Syracuse tackle.

BEARS WORK ON NEW AIR PLAYS

The work of building up a varied attack with plenty of aerial efforts mixed in with their assortment of plays is giving the Chicago Bears one of the busiest drill weeks of the fall and when the game with the Akron Indians is played at Cub park Sunday the north side machine should be just about at the top of its scoring form.

Akron carries quite a lot of grid talent of note in its lineup and the Bears are looking for a stiff fight all the way. Michaels, former Ohio State full back, will be with the invaders, Capt. Cramer is a former Hamline college star, Hendrion, former Pittsburgh U. player, is at quarter back, and Bronkert of W. & J., is also in the backfield.

Full Back Knop of the Bears is fast getting into condition and expects to play against Akron.

NEW CLUBS IN CAGE LOOP.

The Cook County Basketball league held its regular weekly meeting Monday night at the Windsor-Clifton hotel and eight new clubs were registered. New clubs may register each Monday night.

ALL FRANCE'S FRANCS COULD HAVE BEEN WON ON THIS $2 PARLAY

PARIS, Nov. 6.—A $2 parlay bet—roughly 30 francs—on the six winners at the Maisons Laffitte race track today would have won 42,425,000,000 francs. The entire bank note circulation of France is below 40,000,000,000.

The six winners averaged 50 to 1. The odds on the horse that won the first race were 175 to 1, on the second 15 to 1, the third 20 to 1, and the fourth, fifth, and sixth races, 30 to 1. Dave Englander was the only American jockey to pilot a winner today.

REVOLVER MEN GET HIGH MARKS

Contestants in the weekly shoot of the Chicago Revolver club hiked their scores considerably above the average at the Hamilton club range last night. Walter Wolff set the pace another time with the excellent mark of 91 of a possible 100, while J. Taggert, a novice shooter, placed second with 90. J. A. Asserson had an 89, and other leading scores were:

Leonard Hopkins, 87; R. C. Wallace, 86; Patrolman Marek, 83; J. P. Hansen, 80; W. C. Luebbut, 78; H. Wiener, 78; W. W. Wyre, 70; C. H. Applegate, 67.

Challenge of the eligibility of E. C. Gerber, tackle on the University of Wisconsin team, yesterday was laid before Maj. John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Western conference, and now, only four days before the important Wisconsin-Illinois game at Champaign, collegiate circles in Chicago, Madison, and Urbana are stirred with speculation about a revival of the strained relations between the Badgers and Illini.

Investigation of Gerber's status was at once undertaken at Madison and at La Crosse, Wis., where, according to the story challenging his eligibility, he is alleged to have been paid for services in instructing a boys' swimming class at La Crosse Y. M. C. A.

The investigation conducted by Maj. Griffith and Athletic Director Tom Jones of Wisconsin is for the purpose of ascertaining the nature of Gerber's employment by the Y. M. C. A., and deciding whether the facts which are found should put the football player afoul of the stringent conference position on coaching and professionalism.

Illinois Not Interested.

Neither Commissioner Griffith nor other interested persons would comment on the source of the communication questioning Gerber's eligibility. Athletic Director George Huff of Illinois declared at Urbana that he did not make any charges and knew nothing of the matter. "I didn't know such a man as Gerber was on the Wisconsin squad," he said.

At Madison, and among Wisconsin followers elsewhere, the memory was vivid of the incident last autumn when, shortly before the Wisconsin-Illinois game, a protest attributed to Illinois quarters resulted in the disqualification of "Red" Murray, regular tackle of the Badgers.

This protest last year brought an explosion of wrath from John Richards, then Badger coach, and for a period of two or three weeks resulted in hot interviews and retorts back and forth between athletic officials of the two big state schools, which, for a time, bade fair to stop sports relations.

Wisconsin Knew About It.

It was declared at Madison that Gerber had mentioned the facts of his employment at La Crosse before turning out for the varsity team this fall and the matter was referred to the athletic council of the university, which assured the player and the new football coach, Jack Ryan, that Gerber was eligible.

Gerber has played in all the games and has been regarded as something of a "find." It is his first year on the Cardinal varsity. His loss, with only two days of possible scrimmage to shake up the lineup and replace him, would be a great blow to Wisconsin's chances on Saturday.

SYRACUSE PROBES SALE OF PROFS' SEATS AT GAMES

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Charges that seats at football games belonging to faculty members and students by reason of season passes have been sold to outsiders today formed the basis of an investigation started by Syracuse university authorities.

Faculty members and students complained that at last Saturday's game some of them were threatened with violence by outsiders claiming to hold tickets to their regular seats.

Complaint is also made that large blocks of tickets have been sold to speculators.

Linemen Deserve Much of the Honor Heaped Upon Backs

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Without detracting in the least from the credit due numbers of football teams for sparkling performances on the gridiron this fall, it is unjust to give all this glory to the stars without a single mention of the linemen, the players who make the spectacular feats possible.

The best back the game has ever known could not gain behind a weak line. Strong forward walls have made many great backs, but star ball carriers never made a star lineman. If the backs did not receive support from the forwards on all plays they would be tackled before they even reached the line of scrimmage.

While it is admitted some of the great backs this year possess unusual ability, the forwards should share some of the honors. Harold Grange of Illinois has played wonderful football, but his gains were made possible by the forwards.

Credit to McMillen.

In the Chicago game it was Capt. McMillen who was responsible for most of Grange's thrusts through the line. Still the Illinois leader, who is one of the best guards in the country, was scarcely mentioned by those who saw the game. It was all Grange because he carried the ball.

In the Michigan-Iowa game one of the features of that bitterly fought struggle was the line plunging of Fry, the Hawkeye back. While it is true the Hawkeye drives with great power, he received most valuable assistance from his forwards, Kriz, the tackle, particularly. Miller, the Iowa captain, also plunged through the Wolverine line for substantial gains, but the openings were made by his own forwards. This was also true of the Michigan backs who penetrated the Iowa forward wall.

One of the features of this game was the performance of Jack Blott, the Michigan center. It was this player, a lineman, who dashed down the gridiron and recovered a loose ball behind the Iowa goal line for a touchdown. One occasionally sees tackles and guards go down under their own kicks, but it is a rarity to have centers cover punts in such faultless fashion.

Line Does It Again.

When Wisconsin trounced Indiana early in the year the Badgers won by using straight plays for the most part. The ball carriers were sent through the line or off the tackles, but in most cases it was Capt. Below and his fellow linesman who opened the holes for Taft, Holmes, Harris, and the other Cardinal backs.

In the Notre Dame-Army game, which was won by the Hoosiers, 13 to 0, more credit should have been given the Notre Dame forwards. Not only did the linemen open holes for Layden, Don Miller, and Crowley, but on numbers of occasions they broke through to take off the secondary, and it was not an uncommon sight to see some Notre Dame forward going down to take off the safety man.

Many other cases could be mentioned to show why the forwards should receive more credit. They are in the battles all the time, defensively and offensively. They have no time to relax or rest. The backs can rest up a bit on defense, but the forwards must stand the brunts of attacks and they must open holes on the offense. Many coaches use tackles and guards to head the interference on end runs. This is seldom noticed by the casual fan, who is too eager to bestow all credit on the player who makes the scores.

Fans See It Wrong.

In this connection it is necessary to mention that most fans have the wrong idea of line play. They believe a guard plays opposite a guard and a tackle a tackle. This is not the case. On defense, an open line is played and on offense a tight line is used.

When the offensive team springs a straight plunge, two of the offending linemen may charge one of the defense, according to where the play is sent. On certain formations, the defensive forwards must be charged in or out or straight back, but it almost always happens that two of the offensive forwards charge one of the defending linemen, while the offensive end helps on the defensive tackle.

Much more could be said of the great play of the forwards, who are the most important cogs in any football team. Without such men who are the equals or superiors of opposing forwards, no eleven can hope for success. Therefore, let the fans give the forwards just a little more credit.

CROWD OF 61,305 SAW ILLINI BEAT U. OF C. SATURDAY

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The crowd at the Chicago-Illinois game in the stadium Saturday was 61,305, F. H. Beach, ticket manager, announced tonight.

This is the largest crowd to witness a football game in the United States west of Columbus. The Buckeyes packed in about 70,000 last year when they opened their stadium.

MAROONS LOOK FOR STIFF HOOSIER SCRAP

University of Chicago footballers have no idea that Saturday's game against Indiana will be easy. They know that Coach Bill Ingram's men have improved rapidly during the season, and that the Hoosiers will turn every trick to down Chicago, their most celebrated rival this year.

Drill After Dark.

Through the daylight hours of practice he had his tackles and backs breaking up freshman interference and nailing the man with the ball on end runs. After dark, when the big lights were turned on, two teams were lined up for scrimmage.

In the scrimmage Jean Francis, Kernwein, and John Thomas were sent through the line on plunging plays, the tackles being given instruction on opening holes.

Francis Makes Gains.

Francis was a sterling performer last night, going through the gaps for big gains repeatedly, Kernwein, another sophomore, displaying considerable brilliance at finding the holes, though his drives lacked Francis' power.

The Maroon freshmen were drilled on Hoosier offensive tactics, which they will try out against the varsity today.

PURPLE IN DEFENSIVE DRILL

The Northwestern football team went into defensive action against the freshmen last night, with the yearlings using the Lake Forest attack, but unable to gain much headway. The Purple is hard at work preparing to stop Stockwell, star and running left half, and kicker for the north shore team.

Saturday's game, for "the championship of the north shore," will see the Purple without Half Back Tom Wolfe. His ankle is in bad shape, following the Minnesota game.

Two Tackles Back at Drill.

Guy Davis and Larry Horton, tackles, who have been given a vacation, will resume work on the squad today. Fear that they would go stale prompted Coach Thistlethwaite to give the pair a few days off.

Jackson, right half; Capt. Soldberg, center; Peterson, quarter back; Jansen and Hause, right and left ends, are playing their fourth season for the Lake Foresters, and some Purple followers dope the game this way: Lake Forest held De Pauw, 13-0; De Pauw defeated Indiana, and Indiana defeated Northwestern.

Capt. Bill McElwain is regaining his old time form, following his siege of boils, and will be shot full force at the opposition on Saturday, to be ready for Purdue on the following week-end. Fred De Stefano, who has been out of the game for two weeks, also will be ready to enter Saturday's battle.

FOOTBALL CAMPS

AT PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—"Beat Ohio" is the slogan adopted by the Purdue eleven this week in its preparation for the game with the Buckeyes on Stuart field next Saturday. It will be Ohio State's first appearance here, and attendance records probably will be broken. In their practice this afternoon, the freshmen scrimmaged with the varsity and used Ohio State plays effectively, particularly the forward pass. Monroe and Smiley made up a combination that executed some clever plays. Throughout the city this afternoon thousands of "Beat Ohio" signs appeared in store windows and on automobile windshields.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—With a squad of thirty-eight men on the field, Coach Bill Ingram worked his men hard today for the Chicago game. The coach is teaching his men new plays and most of the time was spent running through these formations. Coach Mann on another field was teaching the Rhinies what is known of the Chicago formations and the yearlings will introduce them to the varsity later in the week. Every Hoosier player came out of the Hanover scrap in good shape. Zievich, who has been nursing an injured knee, has recovered, and it is still a tossup whether he or "Red" Moomaw will start at right half.

AT MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—The Minnesota regulars who played in the Northwestern game will not get into another scrimmage until Thursday, Coach Spaulding decided today. The first squad ran through signals for fully an hour tonight. Coach Spaulding is busy devising new plays for the game with Iowa ten days away and thinks that his team will be ready to use them against the freshmen by Thursday night. Scouts Elliott and Hauser spent the afternoon with the freshmen teaching them Iowa plays for use against the varsity later in the week.

AT WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Faced with the possibility of E. C. Gerber, right tackle of the Badgers, being declared ineligible, the Badgers ran through drill today under a pall of gloom. Gerber would be a serious loss to the Badgers in their game with Illinois next Saturday. Arc lights have been placed over Camp Randall and the Badgers are being kept at the moonlight drill to perfect new plays against Illinois. Practice ends on Thursday, when the team will entrain for Champaign.

AT OHIO STATE.

AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—"Dedicate the new Yost field house with a decisive victory over the Marines" is the slogan the Wolverines have adopted in their practices this week. The team is determined to show Yost their loyalty by bringing victory to Michigan Saturday when the new athletic house is dedicated to Coach Yost. Almost entirely recovered from the bruises sustained in the Iowa game, the Wolverines were put through a stiff practice today, members of the varsity receiving individual attention. Kunow and Babcock, who played at tackles today, may start Saturday as Coach Yost may decide to give Vandervoort and Muirhead a rest.

AT IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Working on an aerial offense that he is preparing for Minnesota, Coach Howard Jones sent his varsity through light passing and signal drill tonight. Fry shared the tossing with Scantlebury, who is showing possibilities as a double threat man. Romey and Otte continue to be prominent receivers. With a backfield composed of Scantlebury at quarter, Schirmer and Fisher at halves, and Yerkes at full, the seconds tore the opposing line to shreds. For the first time this fall McIntyre was used at center. Jennings, reserve quarter back, who sprained his ankle a week ago, is expected in practice soon.

AT ILLINOIS.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Charley Jenks of Paris, Ill., weight 144 pounds, height 5 feet 6 inches, emerged from obscurity today and is a possibility for under study to Harold Grange. Zuppke spent a lot of time working with the lad at half back and he stepped lively around the scrub ends. The Illini regulars resumed work tonight and were driven hard by the coach. Everybody scrimmaged except Grange, whom Zuppke elected to hold out. "Red" is in the best of shape despite his busy afternoon last Saturday. Ticket sales for the Wisconsin game soared today and the Illini look for a crowd of about 25,000.

AT NOTRE DAME.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Coach Rockne took advantage of good weather this afternoon and sent his varsity squad through a stiff workout, using two freshmen teams as foes. On the regular practice field a combination of second and third outfits battled the first frosh eleven in a scrimmage. In another corner of the lot the coach superintended a dummy scrimmage in which his regular eleven worked against a freshman group.

Stuhldreher ran the team at quarter back, Crowley and Don Miller were at the halves, and Layden at full. Crowe, the newest star to shine, was at left end, and Mayl at right. Most of the regulars will be in shape for the Nebraska game

IOWANS PLAN ROCKNE ATTACK FOR VIATOR

Columbia college of Dubque, Ia., which plays St. Viator college of Burbannais, Ill., Friday afternoon at White Sox ball park for the middle west championship of Catholic colleges, may display some of the sweeping attacks used by Notre Dame. Coach Eddie Anderson, a former Notre Dame end, due to having a lighter team than the Friday opponents, has patterned his eleven's plays after those taught by Knute Rockne.

Jack Crangle's Viator aggregation, which has had easy sailing through its interstate and Catholic competition, is out to wipe off the stain of defeat suffered at the hands of the Iowa outfit last year. St. Viator proved its strength against Loyola last Saturday, 26 to 9.

NO GREAT LAKES TRIP THIS WEEK

Great Lakes eleven's scheduled trip to Newport to play Newport sailors on Saturday in the first game to decide the naval training championship of United States has been canceled, owing to the long jump involved. Instead Hampton Roads will engage Newport on Saturday, the winner to take on Great Lakes either in Chicago or Great Lakes, Ill., on Thanksgiving day.

RECORD MAKERS OPEN LOYOLA'S BIG POOL TONIGHT

World's swimming records are probably due to tumble tonight when a dozen Illinois Athletic club tank stars, including the speedy Johnny Weissmuller and Miss Sybil Bauer, compete in special events which will mark the dedication of the new tank in the $500,000 Loyola university gymnasium at Loyola avenue and Sheridan road.

Besides Weissmuller and Miss Bauer such notables of the swimming world as Perry McGillivray, Oliver Horn, G. Tolle, Swedish champion; Harold Krueger, Bill McDermott, Algina Ortlep, Dorothy O'Brien, and Minnie De Vry are slated for special races. Miss Ortlepp and McDermott will give diving exhibitions.

The Loyola university grid team, which suffered its first defeat of the season last Saturday at the hands of St. Viator college, is hard at work preparing for its important game with St. Louis university in the Missouri city Saturday. The north siders, with some of the injured players again in shape, are confident of a victory.

WEST VIRGINIA PUSHES RUTGERS OVER, 27 TO 7

New York, Nov. 6.—The ranks of unbeaten college elevens lost another member this afternoon when Rutgers was mopped up by West Virginia, 27 to 7, at the Polo grounds.

Mountaineer points came as the result of brilliant and impressive marches up the field, varying in distance from 60 to 97 yards. The play of Eckberg, George Hill, and Nardacci featured for the winning team. Lineup:

CUBS AND PIRATES TO CLASH IN FIVE GAMES ON COAST

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Only five games, instead of a dozen originally planned, will be staged between the Cubs and Pirates during their joint tour next spring. Johnny Seys, club secretary, returned from the coast yesterday with the information that the above number of games had been booked, but he is withholding dates and places of other exhibitions pending the return of President William Veeck, who is golfing at French Lick, Ind.

The Cubs and Pirates will play their first game on March 31 at Long Beach or Fresno, Cal. Then Kingman, Ariz.; Phoenix, Ariz., and Albuquerque, N. M., will be honored with one day stops.

Amarillo, Tex., will follow, although this date is not definitely closed. On April 5 and 6 the Cubs will play the Wichita Falls, Tex., team and then go on to Oklahoma City and Kansas City. Meanwhile the Pirates will be beating through the sticks on their own hook.

Fight On with Frisco.

The Cubs' last week of training in California, except for the day spent with the Pirates, March 31, will be at Oakland, where a series with the Oaks will be played.

The interesting angle of this series is that it will be going on while the Pirates are playing in San Francisco, across the bay. The Frisco club, because of its row with William Wrigley, owner of the Los Angeles club and the Cubs, refused to give Killefer's athletes a date, so the Cubs will try to get even by putting on counter attractions.

Seys visited Catalina island, where the Cubs will again do their preliminary training, and reports that the athletes will have a palatial new clubhouse in which to bathe, dress, and undergo their sessions on the rubbing boards.

Last Series Checks in Mail.

The last bit of work incidental to the distribution of the world's series money was cleaned up yesterday, when Leslie O'Connor, secretary to the commissioner, mailed out checks to members of the teams finishing second and third in the pennant races of the two leagues.

The Detroit and Cincinnati clubs, which finished in second place, drew $27,659 each. This means $1,078 for each member of the Reds and $1,024 for each Tyger. The sum of $18,439 went to both third place clubs—Cleveland and Pittsburgh. Each Pirate athlete will receive $735 and each Indian $635.

HILL LOSES TO ROSENBERG IN AMATEUR BOUT

Sammy Rosenberg won from John Hill in four rounds in the feature amateur bout at the Arcade gym last night. The boys battled nip and tuck all the way. At the finish the judges were unable to pick a winner. It was up to Fred Wittingham, the referee, to give a hair line decision. Results in the other bouts follow:

112 POUND CLASS—F. Gonzales beat Orlando Martin 3 rounds.

FLOYD JOHNSON OUT 4 MONTHS

New York, Nov. 6.—[United News.]—Floyd Johnson, the young coast heavyweight, who was knocked out by Jack Renault last Friday night, was so badly beaten that he will retire from the ring for at least four months.

Johnson will go to the west coast, probably to California, and try to learn to punch while learning also how to avoid a right uppercut.

It was with this punch that Jess Willard and Renault stopped him, and each time he narrowly escaped serious injury, because he chinned himself on the blow as he bored in with his head lowered.

In Motordom

by J. L. JENKINS

EXQUISITE bodies, mounted on tiny, hand wrought chassis, featured the first American exhibit of the Foreign Automotive association which opened yesterday in the Astor ballroom, New York. Dispatches describe something entirely new in a five horsepower Renault fitted with a body which recalls the old time hansome cab. The wheelbase is 100 inches. It is powered by a four cylinder motor which requires but one gallon of fuel to thirty miles. A tiny Fiat with open type Italian body is another miniature which shows the trend of automobile engineering in Europe. Forty cars, entered by five European countries, are shown.

Cheerful resort owners in Florida are all set to welcome more than 200,000 tourist cars to their winter playground during November and December, says a St. Petersburg prediction. Last year more than 100,000 motors from other states passed through Jacksonville, and the surge of travel to date insures double that number of visitors this year. The majority of cars are using the Atlantic coast route.

On the other hand, reports from the happy hunting grounds of northern Wisconsin indicate that excellent road conditions are responsible for a record number of sportsmen tourists there. Green Bay, Hurley, Manitowoc, and La Crosse report unusually good winter roads, all of them well worked following the recent bad weather.

The annual showing of motorcycles, bicycles, and accessories is to be held in Chicago during the first week in February, it has been decided by the Motorcycle and Allied Trades' association.

A. WEISSMULLER PINS P. ZBYSZKO IN MAT CONTEST

A fair sized crowd watched Adam Weissmuller, Chicago welterweight, defeat Pete Zbyszko two out of three falls in the feature bout of the wrestling show at Schoenhofen hall, Milwaukee and Ashland avenues, last night.

After losing the first fall to Zbyszko in 33 minutes Weissmuller came back and pinned the Pole twice, the first time in 8 minutes and the second in 5 minutes. A new hold which he calls the cradle hold gave Weissmuller his victory.

In the other matches Dr. Carl Furness beat George Mack in 24 minutes, Nick Gotch stayed the time limit of 30 minutes with Pat McGill, and Bennie Reuben and Tony Kozakelwich went 15 minutes to a draw.

ACCIDENT SAVES MAT TITLE FOR MEYERS

Johnny Meyers of Chicago, recognized middle weight champion for the last year, all but lost his title last night at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium where Joe Turner of Washington, D. C., won a fall and would have taken the third and deciding one but for a accident.

After Meyers had tried practically every hold known to the mat game to pin his man, he finally had to resort to the stopper, which is the same hold as the double wrist lock only it is applied around an ankle. Johnny won the first fall after 27:55 of grappling.

Champion Is Groggy.

Turner went after the champion in relentless fashion after that. Again Meyers was unsuccessful with head and body scissors combined with wrist locks. He rolled his opponent into position for other holds with the double wrist lock, but Turner had too much strength. At the end of 30:19 Turner clamped on a toe lock and Meyers conceded the fall.

The Washington grappler then changed his tactics. Some one must have tipped him off that Heine Engel of Dubuque, Ia., all but took the title from Meyers by use of the head lock. At the call of time Turner secured a head lock. Meyers broke after two minutes. No sooner had he lost the hold than he applied another. He repeated it seven times until Meyers was helpless. The champion was groggy and stumbled about the ring like a drunken man.

Accidental Blow Ends It.

Johnny was just able to protect himself from the dreaded head lock. He fell to a crouching position after breaking one of them and covered his head with his arms and hands. Turner then picked him up by the midsection and as he made the final effort, Meyers' right elbow caught his opponent squarely in the solar plexus. The accidental blow knocked the wind out of the easterner and from the expression on his face it looked as if a rib had been broken or some other injury inflicted.

As Turner writhed on the mat in apparent pain, Meyers leaped on him and pinned his shoulders. Referee Emil Thiry declared him the winner of the fall and match. The time was 6:19. It was a lucky break for Meyers as the title was at stake.

Jack Reynolds Winds.

In the semi-windup, Jack Reynolds, claimant of the world's welterweight title, defeated Ollie Olson of New Orleans, two in three falls. Olson took the first in 13:55 with a head lock. Reynolds took the second in 8:25 with a leg split and the third in 6:50 with a head lock. It was a rough bout with Olson the offender most of the way.

Cleat Kaufman of Cedar Rapids and August Sepp of Grand Junction, Colo., wrestled thirty minutes to a draw in the opening bout, which was limited to thirty minutes. They scaled 160 pounds.

Joe Parelli, the Italian middleweight sensation, won over Gus Hanson of Milwaukee in the other preliminary. The Italian won the opening fall with a flying mare in 16:20. Hanson's neck was injured and he was unable to appear for the second, forfeiting the match.

It was an excellent show, but as is generally the case when shooting matches are staged, only a small crowd turned out.

Mat fans and wrestlers are evincing great interest in the announcement that Frank Judson, mat coach of Harvard university, heavyweight, is out of his shell at last and starting a campaign for recognition as a possible championship contender. Eastern fans are raving over the young athlete, and declare he can master any man in the game. On Friday night at the Star and Garter Chicago critics of the sport will have the opportunity of seeing the Harvard man in action against the oldest star in the world, Stanislau Zbyszko.

HUNTERS AWAITING NOV. 10.

THE rabbit, pheasant, and quail shooters are getting ready to open up the festivities of the season, as, beginning next Saturday, it will be legal to hunt this trio. The wise rabbit hunter who wants to have some sport near Chicago has already gone out to locate his ground and secure permission to hunt on some friendly farmer's land, a preparation that takes time and trouble, but which means fun and game in the end.

The Illinois rabbit season is uniform, as far as the opening date is concerned, in all the hunting zones, and starts on Nov. 10. In the northern zone it continues until Jan. 31. The daily limit is fifteen. Ferrets are prohibited, also shooting from automobiles. Moreover, the game code says that it is unlawful to shoot or hunt on any farmer's land unless permission has been secured, another good reason for doing a little scouting first and lining up a farmer or two before getting into action.

The pheasant season, opening on the 10th, gives a fellow six days' shooting up to and including the 15th. Two cock pheasants a day are the bag limit, and one cannot have more than six in his possession at one time. These birds have certainly done well in some parts of Illinois, especially northwest of Chicago, and with the limit established at two a day there is not much danger of killing off too many each season.

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

At Detroit—Pinky Mitchell beat Sid Barbarian [10].

At New York—Pat Walsh beat Dave Rosenberg, foul [5].

At Boston, Mass. — Willie Gradwell beat Bobby Barrett [10].

Judging from the way the boxers are training at the Arcade gymnasium, boxing fans who attend the show in Peoria on Friday night will be treated to some excellent glove wielding. Even Kid Howard, owner of the gym, yesterday asserted he has not seen the boys take so much interest in their work as those who appear before Peorians on Friday.

Irish Johnny Curtin of the east, who meets George Butch of Chicago in the ten round windup, is working like a Trojan and has made a decided impression upon the fans who frequent the Clark street gym. Johnny is a two handed puncher, who has stopped some of the best bantams in the game.

O'Hara-Gory Bout Attracts.

Another bout which is attracting a lot of attention will bring together Joe O'Hara and Jimmy Gory, two hard hitting welterweights. They met once before and O'Hara had the shade. Four other bouts are on the card, including a heavyweight affair between John L. Walker of Davenport and Marine Ranieri of Great Falls, Mont.

The matches have been made by Jim Mullen and the show will be conducted by the Peoria Baseball Fans' association. Mullen leaves tonight for Peoria with the boxers.

New East Chicago Card.

George Oswego, the East Chicago promoter, has announced the following card for Monday night: As the main attraction he has matched Hillie Levine, the New York 122 pounder, who has met Bud Taylor and Carl Tremaine, with Ernie Gooseman of Los Angeles for ten rounds.

In the other bouts Billy Henry of South Chicago will take on Mickey O'Dowd of Muncie, Ind., for ten rounds at 126 pounds; Jack McCarthy, the clever west side lightweight, will hook up with Jimmy Anderson, the Italian newsboy, for eight rounds, and Eddie Raynor will collide with Andy Miller for six rounds at 140 pounds.

J. P. I. GIRLS WANT GAMES.

The J. P. I. girls' basketball team are practicing hard for the coming season and are ready to meet girls' teams playing boys' rules. Games will be played on Saturday nights on the home gym. For games address H. Rosenthal, 1258 West Taylor street, or phone Haymarket 6400.

Mahoney, Once Richest of Bet Makers, Dies a Pauper

New York, Nov. 6.—Charles Mahoney, once one of the wealthy and best known betting commissioners in the metropolis, died today in poverty and without funds for burial.

CHARLES A. DEAN TO REFEREE TRIB DISTANCE RACE

Charles A. Dean, chairman of the National A. A. U. championship committee in track and field athletics, a man who has done so much for amateur athletics in the middle west has been chosen to act as referee of the first annual cross country run of THE TRIBUNE to be held over a four mile course in Humboldt park on Nov. 17 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

With Dean in charge of the competent corps of officials, the event will be run off with dispatch. Years of experience acting as referee of not only A. A. U. events, but intercollegiate track and field games makes Dean an efficient man for the responsible position.

Other Good Officials.

The referee will be assisted by other men well known in amateur athletics. Timers, judges, checkers, and other will be selected from a group which has acted in various capacities for the last decade.

Particular attention will be laid to selection of checkers who will be stationed around the course to see that every runner covers every foot of ground and does not cut the distance in any manner. Even the running inside of the flags to denote the course will result in disqualification. The complete list of officials will be announced later.

Large Field to Start.

Entries continue to be received and indications are that a large field will be sent away by the starter. In addition to the numbers of club and unattached athletes who have entered, the teams from the Universities of Iowa and Chicago are expected to make strong bids for the trophy which will go to the organization whose representatives score the lowest number of points.

Entries will positively close at midnight on Monday and an entry blank appears on the sports pages for those desiring to enter.

An uneven decline in hog values yesterday forced best offerings down 10c to $7.40, being 40c below last week's high point, $2.35 lower than top in September, and lowest since fourth of July week. The market opened mostly 5@10c lower, but closed comparatively strong, due to unusually large shipping orders for Tuesday, which is considered an off day for outside orders. Packers purchased freely and only 13,000 of the 56,000 on sale remained in the pens. Day's general average dropped 10c to $6.95, against $7.30 a week ago, $8.25 a year ago, and $7.00 two years ago. Quality fairly good, with pigs and light weights plentiful.

Better grades of light cattle met with a good call yesterday and 78 head of 1,071 lb Texas bred yearlings fed in Illinois sold to Morris at $12.40 equaling last week's top. While yearlings sold fully steady, heavy offerings, owing to the indifferent demand for heavy cuts of beef, sold slowly at unevenly lower prices compared with late last week. Some choice 1,501 lb steers sold at $11.00, while 841@1,106 lb yearlings sold at $11.00@12.10 with the fancy Texas bred steers at $12.40. Butcher stock sold slowly at weak prices, with canning cows 10@15c lower and calves 10@25c lower. Feeding steers ruled steady to stronger.

Fat Lambs, $13.00.

Improvement in fed western lamb quality caused a brisk competition between city butchers and shippers early resulting in a strong to 15c higher opening trade yesterday. Best reached $13.00, outselling fat natives and range stock for the first time of the season. Best natives stopped at $12.85 and rangers at $12.75. However, after urgent orders filled, market weakened and closed at the low time of the day. Large local packers purchased sparingly, securing desirable "sorts" at $12.75, late. Sheep were steady, Dakota 116 lb, wethers bringing $8.00, with best handy weight ewes at $6.25. Feeders sold slowly at unchanged prices.

Seven western markets received 58,000 cattle, 122,000 hogs, and 36,000 sheep, against 61,000 cattle, 125,000 hogs, and 43,000 sheep, the previous Tuesday, and 51,000 cattle, 92,000 hogs, and 35,000 sheep, a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle 28,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep, against 11,407 cattle, 21,880 hogs and 18,517 sheep, the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

ELECTION CLOSES ALL MARKETS AND EXCHANGES IN N. Y.

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—All financial and commercial markets at New York were closed for election day. On the European stock exchange, prices again moved uncertainly, but were not distinctly weak. Evidently they awaited a new turn of some sort in the diplomatic exchange of views on the commission to examine Germany's paying capacity, and did not believe that such a turn could be long delayed. At London and Paris exchange moved slightly against the French market, reversing the movement of the day before.

It was left to the New Orleans cotton market to produce the spectacular movement of the day. While New York was closed for business the southern cotton exchange kept open and the buying orders sent up the price no less than $8 per bale. At New York spot cotton closed on Monday at 33.25 cents per pound, against 32 cents at New Orleans. Today's spot price at New Orleans touched 33.25, which would apparently be equivalent to 34.50 at New York.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Stocks of creamery butter in cold storage in the United States on Nov. 1, as compiled by the department of agriculture, was 76,630,000 lbs, compared with 73,857,000 lbs last year. Cheese stocks are 58,297,000 lbs, against 40,852,000 lbs last year, and egg stocks 6,658,000 cases, against 5,726,000 cases last year. Butter was in demand and unchanged to ½c higher.

Demand for fresh eggs was less active and the undertone of the market slightly easier. A car of eggs from Texas was received during the day. Refrigerators are quoted at 24@28½c, inside figure for June. Sales were made at 27½@28½c per dozen in carload lots.

While receipts of live poultry were 16 cars and 1,715 coops, demand was good and prices generally showed little change. Weather is still a little too warm for dressed poultry, although some is coming forward. Dressed turkeys are quoted at 40@42c per lb.

Potato prices were unchanged with a rather slow trade on account of the judicial election. Receipts, 96 cars, with 378 cars on team track.

Grocers See Food Cost Cut in Lakes-Gulf Waterway

Reduction in the cost of food products to the consumer will follow the proposed deep waterway from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes, it was pointed out by the Illinois Wholesale Grocers' association, which was in session yesterday in the Congress hotel.

The wholesalers were here to discuss a proposed plan to bring about a more economical distribution of food products. A. W. Oakford of Peoria is president of the organization and Ross P. Seaton is secretary.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Just how much market sentiment has veered about in the last week is evident from the statement of the heads of some brokerage houses that any number of their customers are "hoping and praying" for a reaction in order that they may buy stocks. The street just now is literally full of people who are bullish on the market, but who are making no money out of it because they have no stocks and do not like to buy until they are certain that the present rally is not a mere "flash in the pan." They would be perfectly willing, the brokers say, to take on stocks two or three points lower, but, having missed the initial swing, large numbers of them are not inclined at this point to go into the market until it has had a further test, and demonstrated more fully its ability to get along by itself.

One reason why security buyers and business men are confused as to prospects for future price trends lies in the fact that the present economic picture possesses colors and tones that have not a parallel in thirty or forty years of previous financial history, according to the views expressed by several bankers. For instance, they have pointed out, car loadings still run above the 1,000,000 mark in weekly totals, while, presumably, industry has been slowing down; and while some industries have been operating at 80 per cent of capacity, still others at the same time have been going ahead at close to 100 per cent of capacity.

October sales of the Hartman corporation were $1,592,029, an increase of 10.4 per cent over October, last year. Sales for the ten months ended with October totaled $14,683,051, an increase of 31.78 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

The Sapulpa Refining company, which was placed in receivership on Oct. 26 pending a reorganization, has paid interest due Nov. 1 on $1,000,000 8 per cent bonds and also retired $25,000 of bonds at 110 in accordance with sinking fund provisions.

Stocks of gasoline on hand at refineries throughout the country Oct. 1 amounted to 972,694,832 gallons, constituting forty days' supply, the interior department stated. This is a decrease of 81,000,000 gallons from Sept. 1, at which time forty-seven days' supply was on hand. New supply of gasoline in September is shown to be 20 per cent greater than last year, while the total gasoline demand was greater by 32 per cent than in September, 1922.

Allotment of the American Telephone and Telegraph company's $100,000,000 5½ per cent debenture issues was announced yesterday as 50 per cent of the subscription or less. The issue was twice subscribed.

FIRM MARKET FOR HAY

A firm market prevailed for hay, with the demand good for all desirable offerings. No. 1 and choice alfalfa is wanted at $27.00@30.00, while alfalfa and grass mixed is not wanted unless of high color. Prairie was in lighter supply, with only 1 car packing received. Arrivals of straw were 1 car rye and 1 car wheat. No. 1 timothy, $26.00@27.00; No. 2 at $23.00@25.00; No. 3 at $17.00@22.00; sample hay, $10.00@16.00. Timothy and light clover mixed, $21.00@26.00; heavy, $20.00@24.00; light timothy and grass mixed, $20.00@25.00; heavy, $17.00@21.00. Clover hay, $17.00@24.00. Southwestern, Nebraska, and South Dakota prairie, $17.00@20.00; packing and clover, $11.00@15.00. Rye straw, $13.50@14.50; oat and wheat mixed, $11.50@12.50.

General Motors Trucks

GMC

Longer Life—
New Economies

GMC Trucks incorporate distinctive features in design that not only prolong truck life indefinitely, but add materially to efficiency and assure day after day service without interruption.

Because of these features, GMC life is prolonged years beyond that of other trucks, GMC power is increased without enlarging the size of the engine, extra strength is given to GMC chassis and economies are effected in GMC operation and maintenance.

Samples that weigh a hundred pounds

You can't carry a sample of a cook-stove or a porcelain bath-tub or an office desk from door to door. They are too big and heavy.

Also they belong to that class of merchandise which does not look its best unless set up in the place where it belongs and surrounded by the things that go with it. The way to show these articles is by pictures.

The ideal presentation is the thing itself, properly displayed in the window or on the floor of a store. But such displays are not always to be counted on.

In good pictures you can show your goods in fitting surroundings that enhance their appearance and make people want to see and touch the goods themselves.

Pictures that have this alluring quality are produced by very simple means. The better printers print such pictures on Better Paper.

Warren's Standard Printing Papers are manufactured to help printers give an adequate and satisfactory presentation of the message and merchandise of their advertiser-customers. The fact that your printer wants to use a Warren paper is good evidence that he wants to produce an exceptionally good piece of work.

Once in a while returns from a Want Ad disappoint

Don't be too quick to blame The Tribune. Determine carefully whether your price was right, whether the market was receptive, whether you had an offer that you yourself would take advantage of! If these three are in your favor, then look to the wording of your want ad!

Want Ads have everything in their favor for pulling returns; people go to them deliberately—they are classified carefully in order that a given want may be found easily. Out of the enormous number of people to whom The Tribune carries your ad we may reasonably suppose that a certain number find your column and look casually into the offers presented. There is where the wording "does its stuff!" If you have skimped that, you're letting prospects get away without having sufficiently acquainted them with what you have! If the man in the ad above yours has gone into detail about his offer and you haven't, he has more chances of success than you. If you have been sufficiently explanatory about your offer, yours is a better want ad than one that was skimped in the wording!

The best thing to do is to write for a copy of The Tribune booklet, called "Wording a Want Ad to Make It Pay." It tells you a great deal about Want Ads and just how to go about their preparation to secure maximum results. It tells why Tribune Want Ads have been improved since the advent of "The more you tell the quicker you sell!"

The more you tell: the quicker you sell

"The Secret of Want Ad Success"

WHEAT IS HEAVY ON LIQUIDATION; CORN AND OATS UP

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation continued in the wheat market early, and for a time it looked as though prices would go much lower. At the inside December was off 1⅛c from the previous day's finish, touching $1.05, at which figure there was sufficient support on resting orders and from shorts to absorb the surplus in the pit and a rally of 1c followed, with the finish at net losses of ⅛c. December closed at $1.06 and May at $1.11. Corn was up ⅝@1c, with December leading. Oats finished ⅛c higher and rye ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher.

Without exception the day's developments were of a bearish character in the wheat market. The seaboard reported a limited foreign demand and wired that five Italian drafts had not been paid in the last few days Exporters were good sellers of November at Winnipeg and that market turned weak and closed ⅝@⅞c lower. Minneapolis, however, was firmer and finished unchanged to ⅛c higher, and was 2@3c out of line for fresh business with Canada.

Rumor Causes Some Selling.

A rumor, which apparently received considerable circulation, that James A. Patten predicted 90c for wheat probably induced some selling, as when an authoritative denial was given out by Mr. Patten the market started to rally sharply, with local shorts good buyers. A feature of the trading was the buying of December and selling of May at 5¼c difference, with the spread back to 5c at the last. Liverpool was off ½ to ⅝d at the last. A much larger export business is being put through than reported, as considerable wheat is being sold direct and not through the seaboard.

December Corn Acts Tight.

With sample grade corn selling at around December price despite the readjustment which has been under for several weeks, there was less disposition shown on the part of local traders to take the bear side. Sentiment changed slightly and with a better class of buying prices moved up readily, and the market showed the effect of the recent heavy buying by eastern houses. December closed at 75¼c and May at 73⅝c, both finishing at the top.

Disappointing husking returns continue to be received from parts of the west, and there was also talk of a falling off in country sales in Nebraska and Iowa. New cash corn on spot was unchanged to 1½c higher.

It is generally expected that the oats market will continue to follow other grains for some weeks to come, as it is too early for the heavy farm consumption and rapid disappearance of the crop to have much effect on values. Trade is largely of a local character.

Rye Trade is Light.

A little more bullish comment on the future of the rye market was heard in some quarters, but it failed to bring in any increase in trade and the market simply reflects the action of wheat Export demand is slow. No. 2 on track sold at 1⅛c over December.

Selling of January lard by private wire houses had a depressing effect on provisions and the finish was 5c lower on lard, with ribs off 2½c, while bellies were unchanged. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 1s higher. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

While the seaboard reported around 400,000 bu wheat sold for export, the actual business considerably exceeded this amount. Much business is being done on direct cables, with some sales to Germany, but it kept under cover, and as it is not done at the seaboard no report is received.

Chicago handlers sold 15,000 bu wheat, 40,000 bu corn, 45,000 bu oats, and 3,000 bu barley to the domestic trade.

Minneapolis cash wheat continues to weaken, with premiums there off 1@2c for the day, and there appears to be little chance of working Canadian into this country at the present time. Mill demand there was slow. Chicago prices were little changed, with No. 2 hard 1½@5c over December. Receipts, 29 cars. Outside winter wheat markets were 1@3c lower, with Kansas City showing the most weakness.

Cash corn paused in its downward course, with new here unchanged to 1½c higher. Old was 1@2c higher early, but finished on a reaction on yellow at 98c for No. 2, or 2c under the top. Old No. 2 mixed was 85c and white 94c at the last. Receipts, 97 cars.

General tone of the cash corn market elsewhere was firmer, with St Louis 1@2c higher on old and unchanged to 1c higher on new, with Milwaukee 1@4c higher on old and unchanged to 1c higher on new. Peoria advanced 1c.

A somewhat firmer undertone was noted in cash oats, with No. 2 white 1½@2½c over the December and No. 3 white December to 1c over. Receipts, 71 cars.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Corn and wheat are gaining a few friends, but the preponderance of the trade favors lower prices. Values, however, are not working in accord with their ideas. Wheat traders are looking for December liquidation and lower prices with a widening of the December-May spread to around 6c or more and, as one man put it, cash interests may have the market all their own way in getting their hedges over into May a little later.

Corn shorts may have to do the liquidating, as a few close observers see it. There is no stock of corn here and unless weather conditions and the corn improve there will be little No. 3 and No. 4 corn to deliver on December sales. As one cash handler sees it, December corn is selling too low as compared with the cash.

The southwest is taking a lot of corn from the west and will be a large buyer for some time. They are large consumers of corn in that section. They raise a good deal, but their yield per acre is small and it is all consumed so they have to buy freely.

"Any time this country raises less than 3,000,000,000 bu corn the bulk of it will be consumed on the farm. With a crop of more than 3,500,000,000 bu there will be around 500,000,000 bu to market," said a corn specialist from the west. "When corn was more than $2.00 per bu Iowa marketed no more corn than when it was under $1.00, as its surplus walks to market."

James A. Patten wants the world to know that he is not, or has not predicted that wheat would sell at 90c. He has made no prediction as to what price wheat would sell at and he wants the public to know it, he says.

A cable to the Rosenbaum Grain corporation said the latest official estimate of Russia's exportable surplus of grains was 7,000,000 tons. This includes 50,000,000 bu wheat and 75,000,000 bu rye. Actual shipments since Aug. 1 aggregate 3,000,000 bu wheat and 7,250,000 bu rye. There is now loading at Black sea ports 50,000 tons of wheat.

Exporters were free sellers of November wheat in Winnipeg, weakening it ⅞c at the last. Cash wheat there is on a November basis. Winnipeg failed to follow the late strength in Chicago and the discount under the latter market widened at the last. Minneapolis during the same time gained on Chicago, December there being ⅛c higher with May unchanged for the day.

A Berlin cable announcing that the food commissioner of Germany wanted to buy 50,000,000 bu wheat from the United States to feed the hungry Germans, provided some method of financing could be arranged as the government has no money, had no effect on the wheat market here. There was also a report that eleven months' supplies of grains had been raised, but that farmers were dissatisfied with the kind of money they were getting and were not selling.

Cash lard in Chicago is $13.10 and loose $12.60 and not easy to buy. Foreigners were credited with buying January lard here.

There were 135 cars of corn on track at the Decatur starch works yesterday. A message from there said Staley was trying to delay further shipments and will divert some corn to Chicago.

NO. 7 OF A SERIES ON INDUSTRIAL BONDS

How examination and analysis protect the bond buyer

THE individual investor benefits by the services of a score of experts in the purchase of a sound industrial bond.

Executives of the bond house purchasing the issue have found the record of earnings over a period of years to be satisfactory. The plant of the corporation has been personally inspected. The management has been approved. The product and its market has been analyzed. Every possible safeguard has been set up.

Auditors and accountants of national reputation have audited, checked and approved every phase of the corporation's business and finances. Appraisers of wide experience have determined the value of the physical assets. Competent attorneys have passed upon the legality and validity of the issue.

Federal Securities Corporation analyzes the reports of all these experts before it purchases with its own funds an issue of industrial bonds and recommends it for the investment of its clients.

First-Trust Joint Stock Land Bank of Chicago
4¾% Farm Loan Bonds

Dated October 1, 1923 Optional October 1, 1933 Due October 1, 1953

Coupon Bonds $1,000 and $10,000, registerable and interchangeable. Principal and semi-annual interest, April 1st and October 1st, payable at First Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, or the First National Bank, New York City. Redeemable at par and interest on October 1, 1933, or on any interest date thereafter.

Exempt from all Federal, State, Municipal and Local Taxes

SECURITY

These bonds are direct obligations of the First-Trust Joint Stock Land Bank of Chicago and are secured by deposit with the Registrar of the Farm Loan Bureau of the United States Treasury Department, of approved first mortgages upon improved farms, not exceeding 50% of the appraised value of farm lands and 20% of the appraised insured permanent improvements thereon, in the Corn Belt District of the States of Illinois and Iowa. The mortgages pledged by this Bank have been approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board based upon the appraisals of their own appraisers. The bonds are protected by the equity of land values and also by the paid-in capital stock of the bank which carries a double liability.

CORN BELT DISTRICT

This district comprises the finest body of agricultural land of its size in the world. While it only covers 6% of the area of the United States, it contains one-fifth of the agricultural wealth of the entire country. This farming section has never had a crop failure and because of its fertile soil it will undoubtedly produce in abundance indefinitely. The management of this Bank has adopted the policy of confining its loans exclusively to the productive farms within this district.

OWNERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

The First-Trust Joint Stock Land Bank is affiliated with the First Trust and Savings Bank and the First National Bank of Chicago.

Statement as of September 30, 1923, shows loans of $13,818,000 on farm lands and improvements having an appraised valuation of $35,832,408.33, loans being equal to 38.1% of the appraised values. There has been no default up to the present time in the payment of either principal or interest on these loans. The capital stock fully paid in amounts to $950,000, carrying double liability.

WORKERS JUMP AT CHANCE TO BUY ARMOUR SHARES

BY O. A. MATHER.

If there be any doubt that American industrial workers are saving part of their wages and are eager to invest their savings in the enterprises from which they derive their livelihood, the success of the employé-ownership plan of Armour & Co., largest of the great meat packers, should dispel that doubt.

About 40,000 employés of Armour & Co. of the total roster of 100,000 workers now are stockholders. Within the last fortnight the employés subscribed for more than 50,000 shares of preferred stock of Armour & Co. of Delaware, the principal subsidiary of the parent corporation.

Forced to Withdraw Offer.

The plan whereby employés could acquire stock on the partial payment plan was announced on Oct. 24 and was to close Nov. 10. But so prompt was the response that the 50,000 shares that the company had available for sale were subscribed by yesterday, and the company was forced to withdraw its offer several days ahead of the time set for closing subscriptions.

The individual subscriptions were limited to a maximum of fifteen shares, and employés were given the option of paying cash or buying on a weekly payment plan which ran as low as $1 a week. Armour & Co. has plants in all sections of the country, but the stock sales failed to indicate that any one section is behind the others in the matter of individual prosperity. Various employés sought to buy stock for other members of their families; others bought shares for cash and ordered them assigned to children, and even grandchildren as Christmas presents.

Interest of Workers Shown.

"The response of our employés is convincing and pleasing proof of the interest of wage earners and salaried employés in the company which employs them," President F. Edson White said. "It is an eloquent answer as to the identity of interest between our business and our employés."

"The surprising part of the offering is the large number of workers on an hourly wage basis who not only desire to own stock but who are able to pay cash for one to fifteen shares," Arthur Reynolds, a director of Armour & Co. and president of the Continental and Commercial banks, said. "The subscriptions show the financial status of the average employé is much better than was suspected. Many plan to save from $5 to $15 out of each week's pay. The packing business is an excellent barometer of the nation's business, and the status of the packing industry employés is also a barometer of the condition of the nation's workers."

Guarantee of Steady Work.

The Procter & Gamble company has announced a plan for guaranteeing its employés regular work and regular income, along with profit sharing dividends, which start at 10 per cent and run to 20 per cent of their wages.

The company guarantees to all who participate in the profit sharing plan "full pay for full time work for not less than forty-eight weeks in each calendar year, less only time lost by reason of the customary holiday closings, or through fire, flood, strike or other extreme emergency." The company "reserves the right to discharge any employé at any time and for any cause, and further reserves the right to terminate or modify this guarantee in whole or in part at any time after serving six months' notice to that effect."

Feature of Plan.

The profit sharing feature of the plan "is virtually an offer of the company to invest an amount equal to an employé's yearly salary in stock for him, provided the employé will contribute a minimum of 5 per cent of his yearly wages on account of the stock purchased. To participate an employé must have been in the company's service for at least six months. The stock is held for the employé by trustees appointed by the board of directors until entirely paid for. To those subscribers the company pays 'profit sharing dividends.'"

There is a guaranty that "if the market value of the stock delivered to an employé at the time he withdraws is less than its actual cost to him the company will refund the cost in cash to the employé."

Alberta.

G. M. R.—The $9,000,000 Province of Alberta, Canada, 5½ per cent refunding bonds are due, $3,000,000 each, Nov. 1, 1926, 1928, and 1933. They are being issued to retire outstanding bonds presently maturing. They are the direct obligation of the province, and are payable, principal and interest, from its general revenue. The assessed valuation of the lan dis $725,886,532 and the net funded 'and is $725,886,532 and the net funded tingent liabilities in the form of railway, agricultural, and university guarantees totaling $52,513,856, of which $22,539,958 was given in respect to railways now operated by the dominion government. Alberta is a large wheat raising province and is the largest coal producing province in Canada. Official estimates place the total value of agricultural products and live stock for 1923 at $227,285,000. The bonds of this issue are payable in gold. They are a sound investment.

Mississippi County, Ark.

H. D.—The $500,000 Mississippi county, Arkansas, road improvement district No. 1 6 per cent bonds are secured by a tax lien, subject to only state and county taxes, on all land in the district, which covers 186,450 acres and has a population of over 30,000. They are payable from an annual tax which has been irrevocably levied on all real property in the district, estimated at a value of over $42,000,000. The average annual tax required to pay principal and interest on the total authorized debt is 78 cents per acre for the next two years and $1.13 per acre thereafter. These bonds are a sound investment. They are exempt from all federal income taxes.

CORPORATION EARNINGS

SHATTUCK-ARIZONA COPPER.

For the quarter ended Sept. 30 net earnings were $104,507 after expenses and taxes, but before depreciation, depletion, and deferred development, as compared with $96,634 in the last preceding quarter.

J. W. MURRAY MANUFACTURING.

Gross sales for the quarter ended Sept. 30 amounted to $2,615,226, with net profit of $216,635. Sales for the first nine months of the year were $9,393,509, and net earnings were $1,015,179, equal approximately to $6 a share on the common stock after preferred dividends. Indications are that the final quarter of the year will be equally profitable, with net earnings available for common dividends approximately $7.50 per share for the year.

NATIONAL DEPARTMENT STORES.

Sales for October were $3,809,729, compared with $3,436,472 in October, 1922, an increase of 10.86 per cent. For the nine months ended Oct. 31, 1923, sales aggregated $27,369,901, compared with $23,413,490 in the corresponding months last year.

INDUSTRY MADE "DEMOCRATIC" BY STOCK DIVIDENDS

BY SCRUTATOR.

That the much maligned stock dividend is functioning as the spearhead of real "industrial democracy," by bringing about a democratization of the ownership of big industrial units, is the conclusion warranted by interesting facts presented at a business men's luncheon at Springfield yesterday.

Col. Robert W. Stewart told the story of the changing ownership of the Standard Oil company of Indiana. That story is typical of other great business aggregates.

Those who use "industrial democracy" as cant with which to rationalize their complexes of hatred against existing society or the laws of selection and survival that characterizes all healthy human societies will not be interested in the real industrial democracy now being achieved in this country through thrift and mass production.

Those who prefer the study of social facts and forces to utopist phrase mongering will consider such facts of prime importance.

Let Col. Stewart tell the story:

"It was in 1912 that the Supreme court of the United States issued a decree dissolving the Standard Oil company (Inc.), of which the Standard Oil (Indiana) was a component part. The dissolution was effected by giving to each shareholder in the parent company his pro rate share of stock in each of the component organizations. The result was that, immediately after the dissolution, the ownership in the various companies remained exactly as before.

"That is not true today. During the twelve years that have elapsed, the dissolution has become actual and the ownership scattered. In the last five years the number of stockholders in the Standard Oil company (Indiana) has increased from 4,600 to more than 43,000.

"Five yers ago our largest shareholder owned nearly 30 per cent of the total stock. Today the largest shareholder owns only 5¼ per cent, and that shareholder is not an individual, but a charitable institution."

The largest stockholder, the colonel says later, is the Rockefeller Foundation, the money of which is devoted entirely to public use. John D. Rockefeller no longer owns a share, says the colonel, stating that he regrets this fact, paying an eloquent tribute the the elder Rockefeller as the organizer of the oil industry and originator of so much of its marvelous progress.

"A few years ago only a wealthy man could afford to buy stock in the Standard Oil company (Indiana), as it sold on the market all the way from $600 to $900 a share. Today almost any one can buy it. We made this possible, first, by reducing the par value of the stock from $100 to $25, and second, by the declaration of two stock dividends, one of 150 per cent, and one of 100 per cent.

"You have heard it charged that our stock dividends were for the purpose of evading the income tax. That is wrong. Our stock dividends were decided upon and declared, at my own suggestion, for the express purpose, among others, of placing the price of our stock within reach of the average investor, in order to scatter still more the ownership of the company, on the theory that every stockholder is a potential customer.

"It was successful. We now have more than 43,000 stockholders. I want 100,000, if I can get them. I want them right here in the midwest."

After showing how the stock dividends did not net the original stockholders a penny, as the curb quotation of $126 became $63, when the 100 per cent distribution was effected, Col. Stewart explained the manner in which the company is inducing its employés to become stockholders. Already 10,000 of its wage earners own 3 per cent of the total. In a year or two they will have the largest collective interest in the company.

Under the purchase plan an employé may buy, with the company's help, on the installment plan, an amount of stock equal to 20 per cent of his yearly wages. The company invests $50 for him for every $100 he invests. Dividends begin with the purchase and are applied to the installments.

While the ownership of this corporation has been diffused, it has, during the entire period, been earning more money for the public than for its stockholders. In the ten years preceding Jan. 1, 1922, this company paid its stockholders dividends to the amount of $74,500,000, but it paid in taxes $79,500,000 and to its employés in wages and salaries $335,000,000.

A Message to Business Men

OVER twenty years ago we started in the humblest way conceivable to report on fundamental business conditions. We have gradually grown until today we have the largest organization of its kind in existence, serving a host of clients all over the world, and spending nearly $2,000,000 a year in our efforts to diagnose and improve business conditions.

During recent years numerous other statistical and economics services have been started, some of which attempt to forecast what stock prices, money rates, bond sales, etc., will be during the next few weeks or months. This they may be able to do but we agree with those bankers, manufacturers and financial writers who believe such forecasts are valueless and that to use charts and statistics for such purposes is both wrong and dangerous.

Babson's Reports are compiled for three purposes:

1. To aid you in ascertaining the actual conditions existing TODAY in those industries and sections of the country in which you are interested, either as an active business man or as an investor.
2. To show what TODAY is the major trend of the commodity, security and money markets and to advise you immediately when fundamental conditions indicate that this trend has suddenly changed.
3. To help make business better and safer for everyone. This we do by educational work thru the colleges, the press and public addresses, endeavoring to eliminate reckless booms, and disastrous panics by developing the spirit of service among all groups.

Most of the leading business men and conservative investors are already using these reports. If you do not have them, as yet, we should be pleased to send samples and full particulars—without any obligation on your part. The memorandum below is attached for your convenience.

Higher Bond Prices
Lower Bond Yields

It is the generally shared belief that liquidation in the security market has run its course and that investors now have an opportunity to purchase good bonds at or near the bottom. During the liquidating period some bonds reached lower levels than others and we have selected from the market a list of those securities which, in our opinion from the standpoint of intrinsic merit and liberal investment return, present among the most attractive present day investment opportunities.

Commercial Chemical Company
OF TENNESSEE
(Manufacturers of Calcium Arsenate)

Class B Common Stock (Without Par Value)

Application will be made to list this stock on the Chicago Stock Exchange and the New York Curb.

BUSINESS AND RECORD

The Company has for six years been engaged in the manufacture and sale of chemical insecticides for agricultural and domestic use, and has established its products with 40,000 dealers. Net earnings have increased every year since organization, and losses from inventory shrinkage and bad debts have been negligible.

EARNINGS

Earnings available for Class B Common Stock (after all charges, including taxes, depreciation and Preferred dividends) amounted to about $1.50 per share in 1921 and $2.00 in 1922. Earnings for the first eight months of 1923 were at the annual rate of about $5.00 per share.

On the basis of advance orders already received and with the aid of this financing, total earnings of $10.00 per share are anticipated in 1924.

DIVIDENDS

It is the intention of the Directors to commence dividend payments in January, 1924, at the annual rate of at least $1.50 a share on the Class B Common Stock.

FINANCIAL POSITION

The Company's balance sheet indicates an unusually strong financial position. Including proceeds of current financing, total assets amount to about $1,117,000 and net quick assets $728,000.

CALCIUM ARSENATE

Last year the Company constructed additional plant facilities for the manufacture of calcium arsenate, recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as the most effective means of exterminating the boll weevil, which causes a total annual loss to cotton growers estimated at $500,000,000. The demand for calcium arsenate this year was greatly in excess of the supply, which was only sufficient to dust about 3 per cent. of the cotton-growing area.

The Commercial Chemical Company, which is the only Southern manufacturer, enjoys special advantages over other makers of the product because of its location in the heart of the cotton belt and near deposits of high-grade calcium.

The calcium arsenate plant was completed only a few months before the end of the 1923 selling season, and the present annual capacity was only partly reflected by this year's operations and earnings.

PURPOSE OF FINANCING

The purpose of the present financing is to double the capacity of the calcium arsenate plant and complete the construction of the arsenic acid and steel container plants; also to furnish ample working capital to handle the greatly increased business in calcium arsenate.

MANAGEMENT

The present management, which has been responsible for the remarkable growth of the Company since its inception, will continue in charge of the business.

We offer the above stock for delivery when, as and if issued, subject to final approval of counsel and listing on Chicago Stock Exchange

BRANCH BANKING CURB IS URGED AT FEDERAL HEARING

A proposal to curb branch banking through prohibitory regulations by the federal reserve board was submitted to the McFadden joint committee investigating federal reserve membership yesterday by William J. Rathje, representing the American Bankers' association, and the National Association Opposed to Branch banking.

Questioned as to the reserve board's authority to exclude any bank operating branches, Mr. Rathje declared there was no authority in law for such action.

H. J. Morsensen, representing the Wisconsin Bankers' association, offered the recommendation that many of the smaller state banks of his territory might be brought into the federal system by the abolition of the par clearance system, under which all remittances through outlying banks are cleared at par without charge. This arrangement, he said, was costing country banks relatively large amounts of income.

Opposed by McDougal.

Gov. James B. McDougal of the Seventh reserve bank questioned the validity of the argument, inasmuch as the reserve system now performs a large part of the transportation service which formerly was paid for by the individual banks out of their exchange receipts.

E. H. Wolcott, banking commissioner of Indiana, advised against additional legislation which might impair the efficiency of the system. The principal reason which kept most nonmembers out of the system he found to be the fact that the federal agency pays no interest on reserve deposits of member banks; but he deemed it inadvisable to offer to pay interest on the reserves.

Virtually the same views were recorded by R. H. Weber, assistant chief bank examiner for Illinois. He added to the growing list of causes which work against a greater membership in the reserve system the fact that dividends on federal reserve stock are limited by law to 6 per cent.

Heath Gives His Views.

William C. Heath, chairman of the board of the federal reserve bank of Chicago, said the chief influence that keeps eligible state banks from affiliating with the federal agency is that the conservative country banker, dependent as he is on his city connections, is loath to change the relationship he had established with his metropolitan correspondent in favor of a new reserve bank relationship about which he knows nothing from personal contact. Only a full appreciation of the reserve system will dispell this obstacle, Mr. Heath declared, and, meanwhile, there was nothing to be accomplished by legislation.

Denial that political influence impeded the work of the reserve system was made by Representative Wingo [Dem., Ark.], following the suggestion of a country banker that the federal reserve system should be "removed from politics."

Worthington Resignation as C., I. & W. Head Accepted

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—B. A. Worthington, president of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western railroad, announced today that his resignation submitted to the directors at a recent meeting in New York was accepted. His successor has been appointed, but the appointment will not be disclosed until it is officially confirmed by the board. Mr. Worthington has been president of the road since its reorganization in 1915.

N. K. FAIRBANK CO. PLANT SOLD TO DONNERSBERGER

BY AL CHASE.

Negotiations have at last been closed and the N. K. Fairbank company's "Gold Dust" plant at 18th and Wentworth has been sold to George Donnersberger through Hodge, Nicolson & Jamme. Ernest S. Rice, assistant engineer of the Santa Fé railroad, represented Mr. Donnersberger. The total ground area comprises 227,045 square feet, of which 198,845 square feet are owned in fee and 28,200 in leasehold from the board of education. The property fronts 795 feet on Wentworth and 265 on 18th and 20th. Wreckers are removing all of the Gold Dust plant with the exception of the four story building at 18th and Wentworth.

Mr. Rice says the purchase has nothing to do with the Santa Fé's proposed fruit terminal, to the south. The new owner contemplates a huge warehouse project of some sort, though no definite plans have been decided on. As some indication of the length sale negotiations have been carried on, this department carried a story on Nov. 1, 1921, that the Fairbank plant was to be sold. Mr. Donnersberger is president of the Streator Car company and several other car concerns.

$4,300,000 Loan.

The Prudential Insurance Company of America has loaned The Chicago Tribune Building corporation $4,300,000 for twenty years from Nov. 1, maturing serially from 1925 to 1943, at 5½ per cent for the first ten years and 5 per cent for the last ten. The loan is secured by the block bounded by Michigan, St. Clair, Illinois, and East Austin, part of which is now occupied by THE TRIBUNE plant. On the southwest quarter of the block THE TRIBUNE Tower foundations are now being placed. Bids for the Tower are to be asked for around Dec. 1. Construction will proceed only in the event that they are satisfactory.

The George H. Taylor Real Estate Mortgage company of Chicago, in connection with Hughes & Hammond of New York, negotiated the loan. Holmes Onderdonk, manager of THE TRIBUNE properties, and the law firm of McCormick, Kirkland, Patterson & Fleming represented The Chicago Tribune Building corporation.

$750,000 Flats for Kenwood.

Lindstrom & Johnson have bought the 96x297 at 4726 Woodlawn from Effie Ayres for an indicated $32,000. This, combined with adjoining property they own, gives them a site 170x297, on which they intend erecting 150 apartments, to cost $750,000. Architect Robert Ostegren is drawing sketches.

An indicated $319,791, subject to $277,291, was paid by Harry London to Charles I. Norton for the sixty-four apartments at the southeast corner of Washington and Leclaire.

Cora M. Kirk has bought the twenty-four flats at the southeast corner of Grand boulevard and 46th from A. E. Foster for $210,000, subject to $70,000. William Kirk & Co. were brokers and will manage the property.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1923: Fairchild News Service.]

PARIS—To meet labor shortage and competition created by American dress production in France, French dressmakers are turning to Italy and Belgium for workers. It is reported here that a combine of American retailers is planning to own and operate their own dress manufacturing organization in this country.

NEW YORK—Furs at a price are being sought by the limited number of buyers now coming to market, according to local manufacturers. Full length coats to retail at under $300 are wanted mostly. Business on short coats is reported to have quieted down considerably.

NEW YORK—That duplicate business on fancy worsteds must improve within comparatively short time, is belief of many sellers here. It is recognized generally now that there was heavy overproduction of these goods during the first seven months of year. Understanding is that liquidation has been proceeding quite satisfactorily.

NEW YORK—Cotton goods trade is looking for new percale prices this week. Opinion is that there will be "something out" Wednesday morning. Only information obtainable from big printers is that something is likely to happen this week.

NEW YORK—Together with shirt and some other furnishings producers, neckwear manufacturers are complaining that retailers are holding off on holiday business and that future commitments in general are being placed in small volume.

NEW YORK—Local gray goods market was closed on account of the election.

NEW YORK—The Yokohama raw silk market was quiet and unchanged, according to such cable dispatches as were received in the New York market. The local trade generally observed a holiday. Prices here nominally were unchanged.

RAILROAD NOTES

W. J. Buchanan was elected president of the Louisiana and Arkansas railroad at a meeting of the board of directors. He succeeds his father, William Buchanan, who died Oct. 26.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR MOTOR CO.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special.]—Charles W. Jordan, president of the American Savings and Trust company was today appointed to be receiver of the Pilot Motor Car company. Four stockholders alleged a receivership is necessary to conserve the interests of the creditors and stockholders. The company is capitalized at $300,000. The petition said the assets actually were in excess of the liabilities.
